

1

6

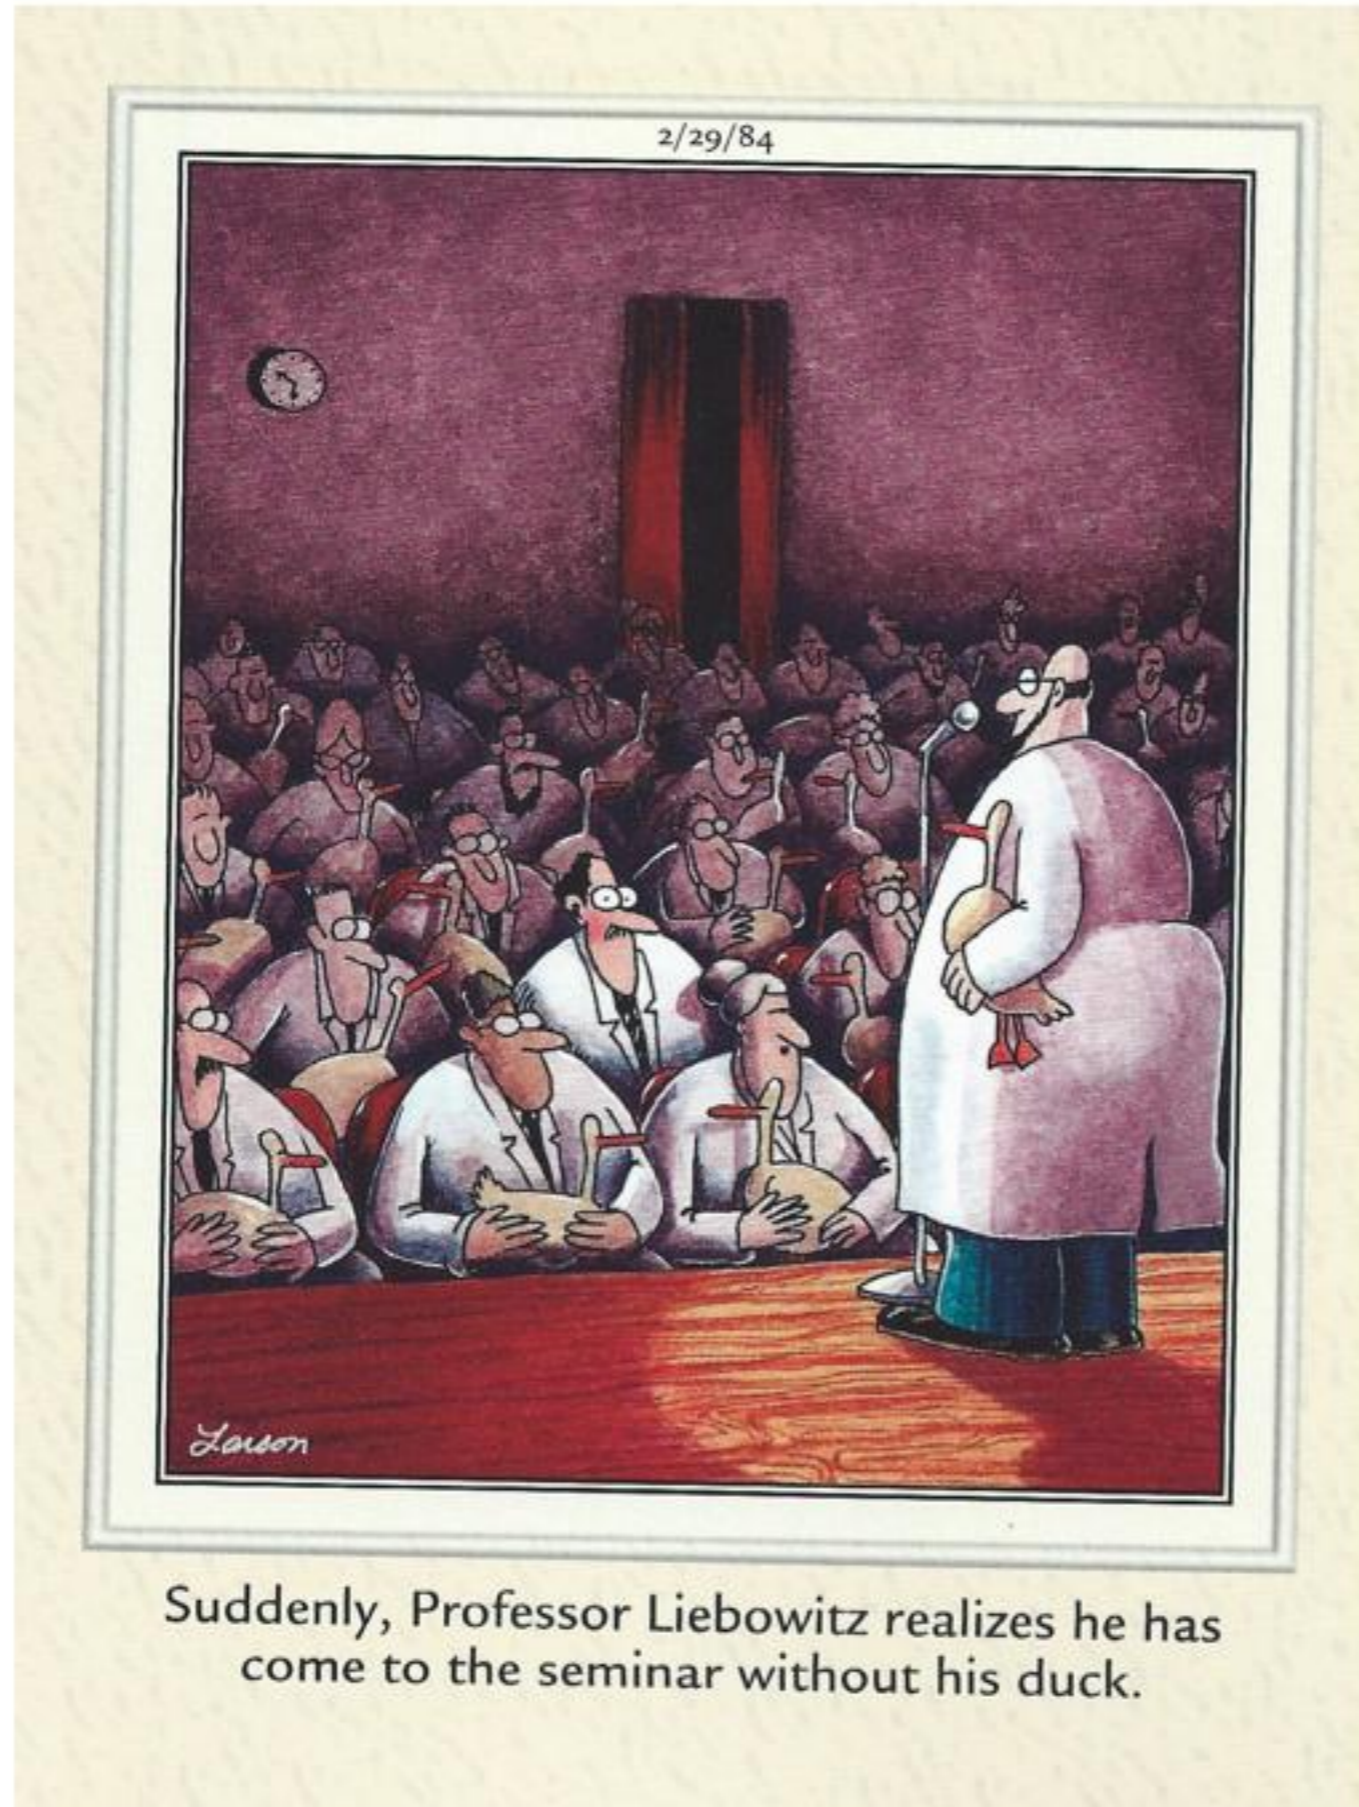

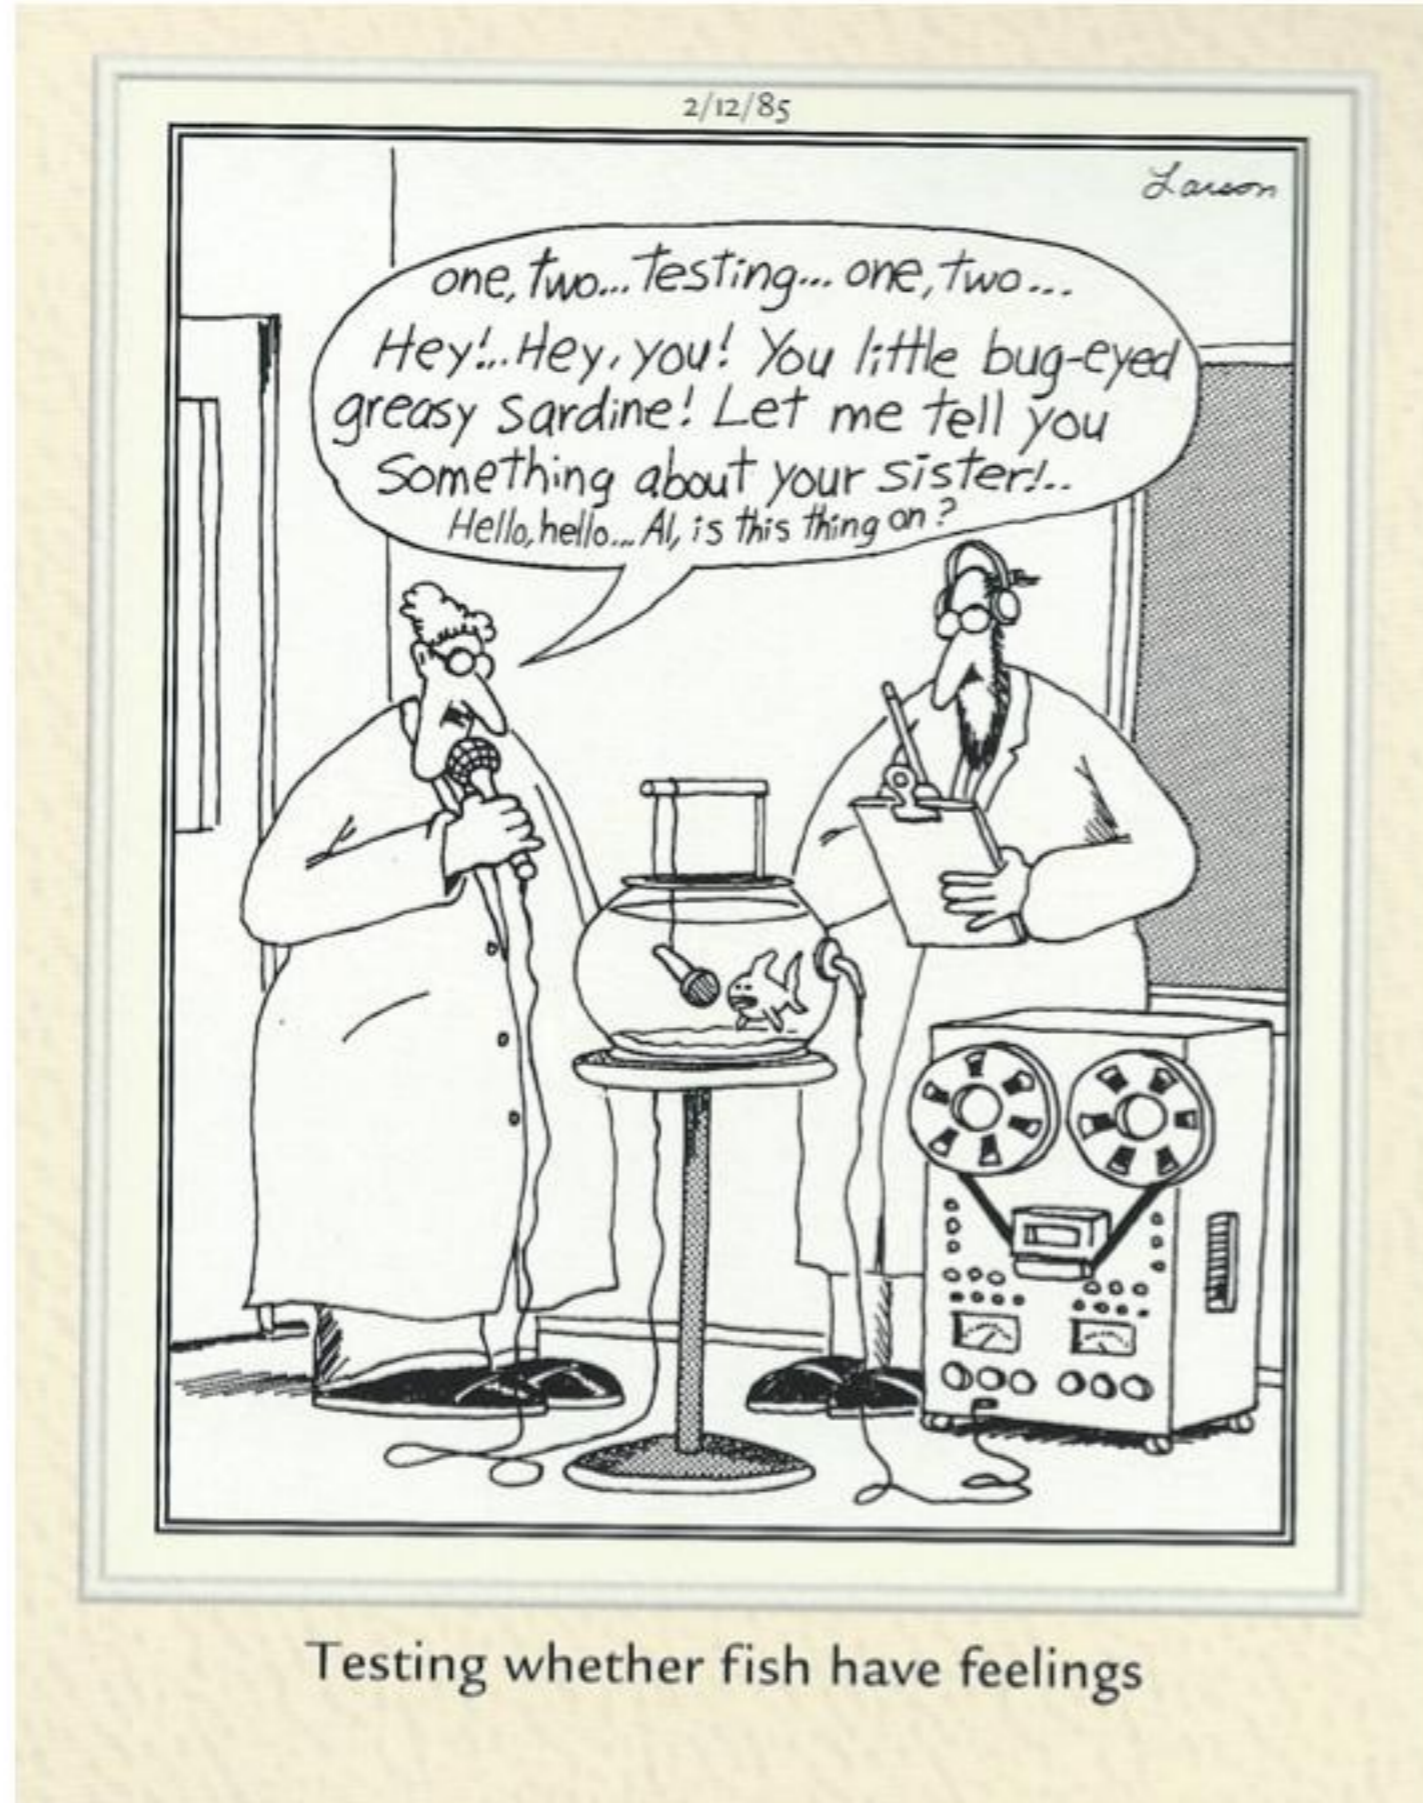

“Ha! Webster’s blown his cerebral cortex.”

12

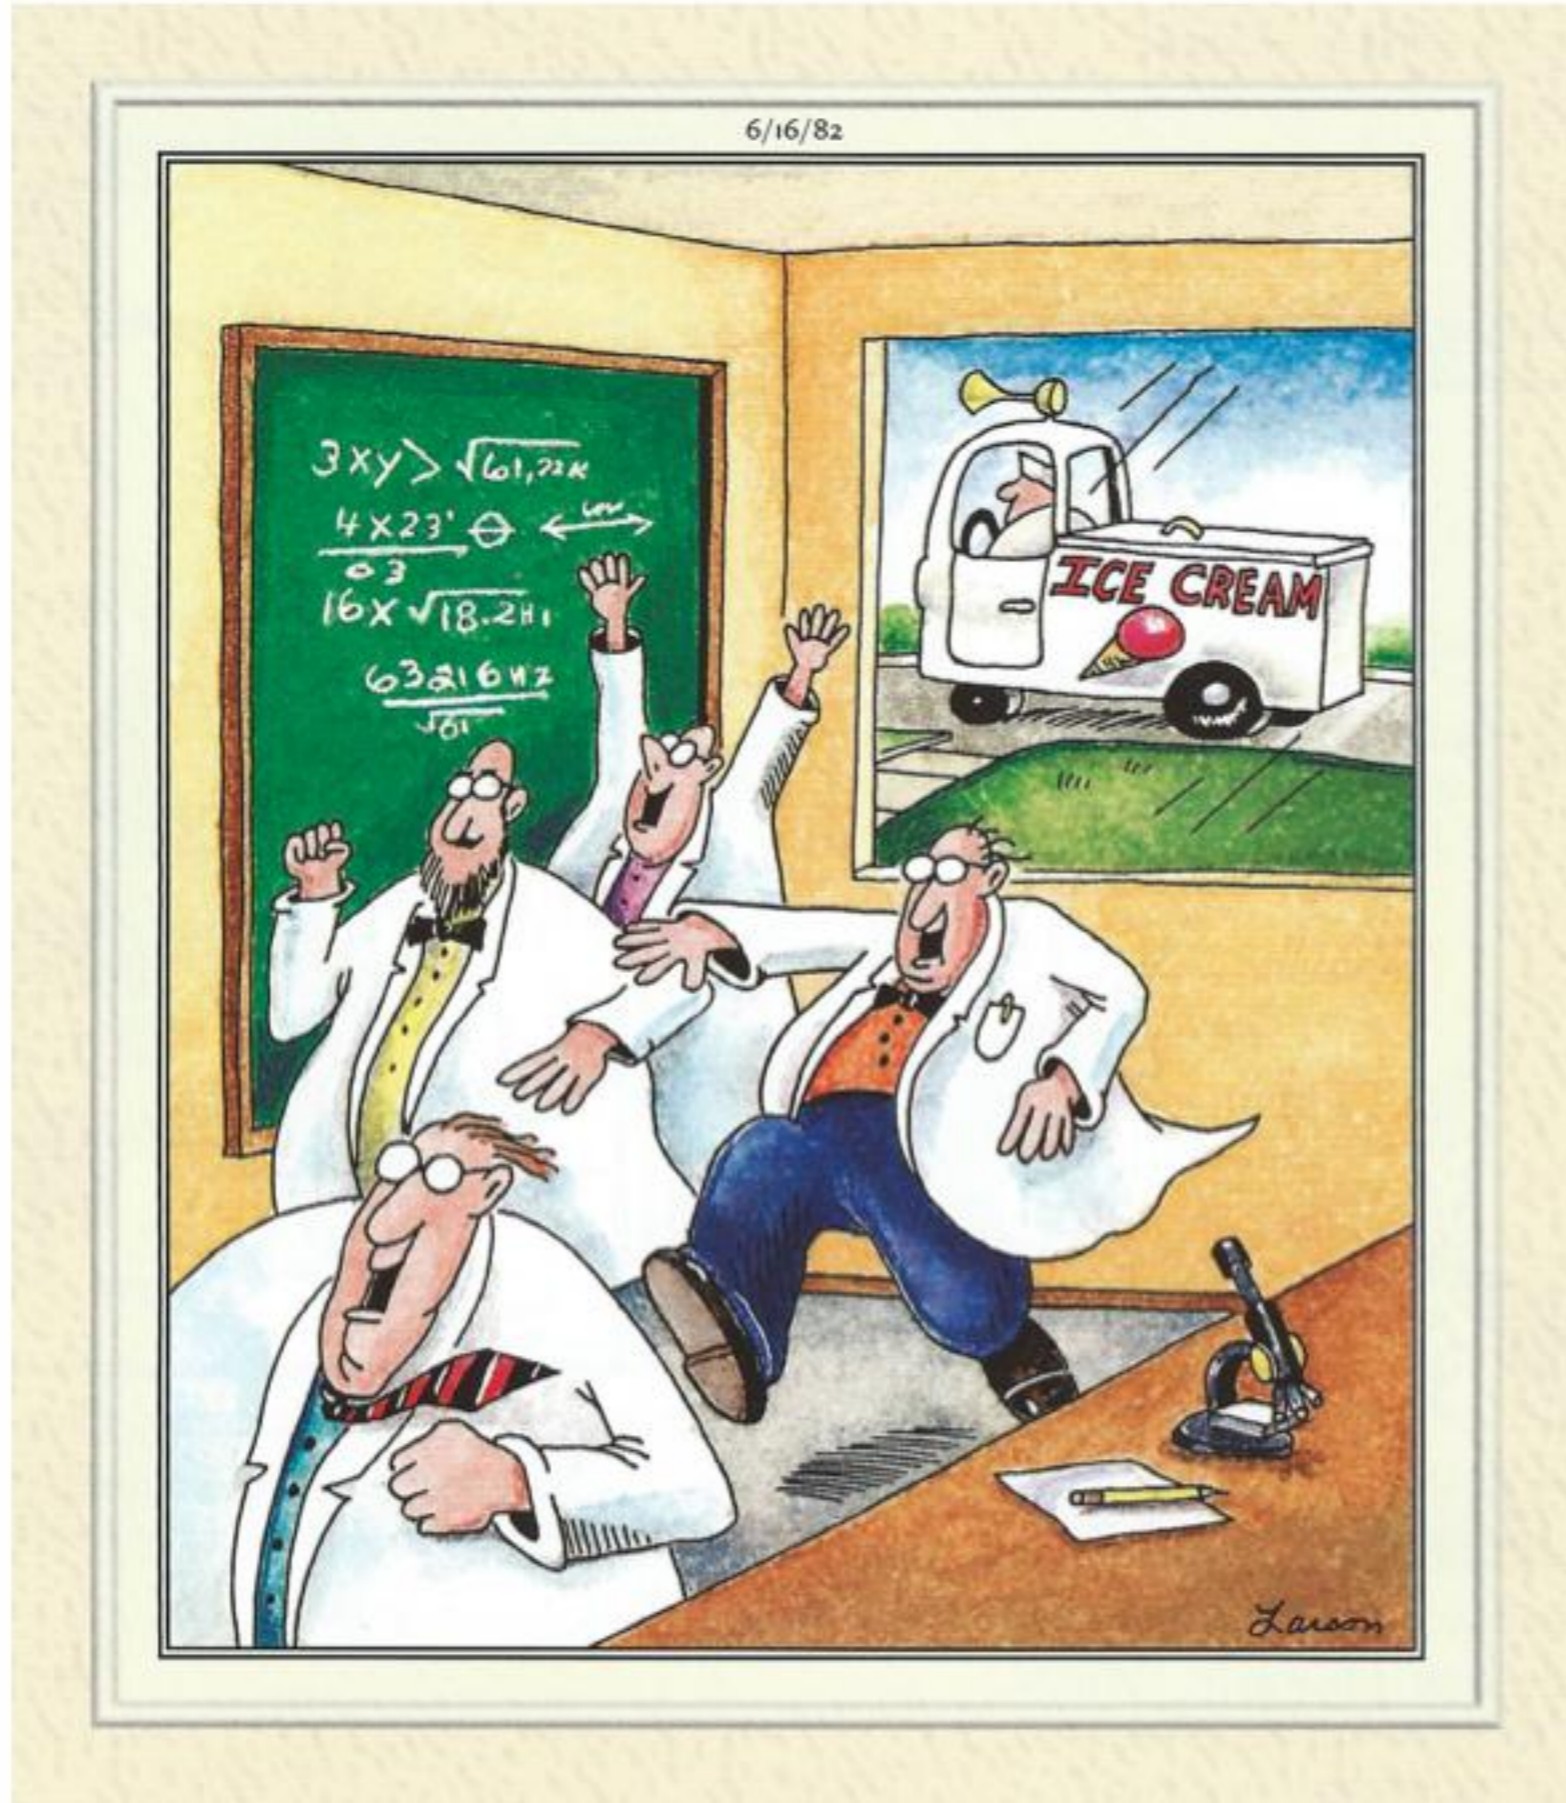

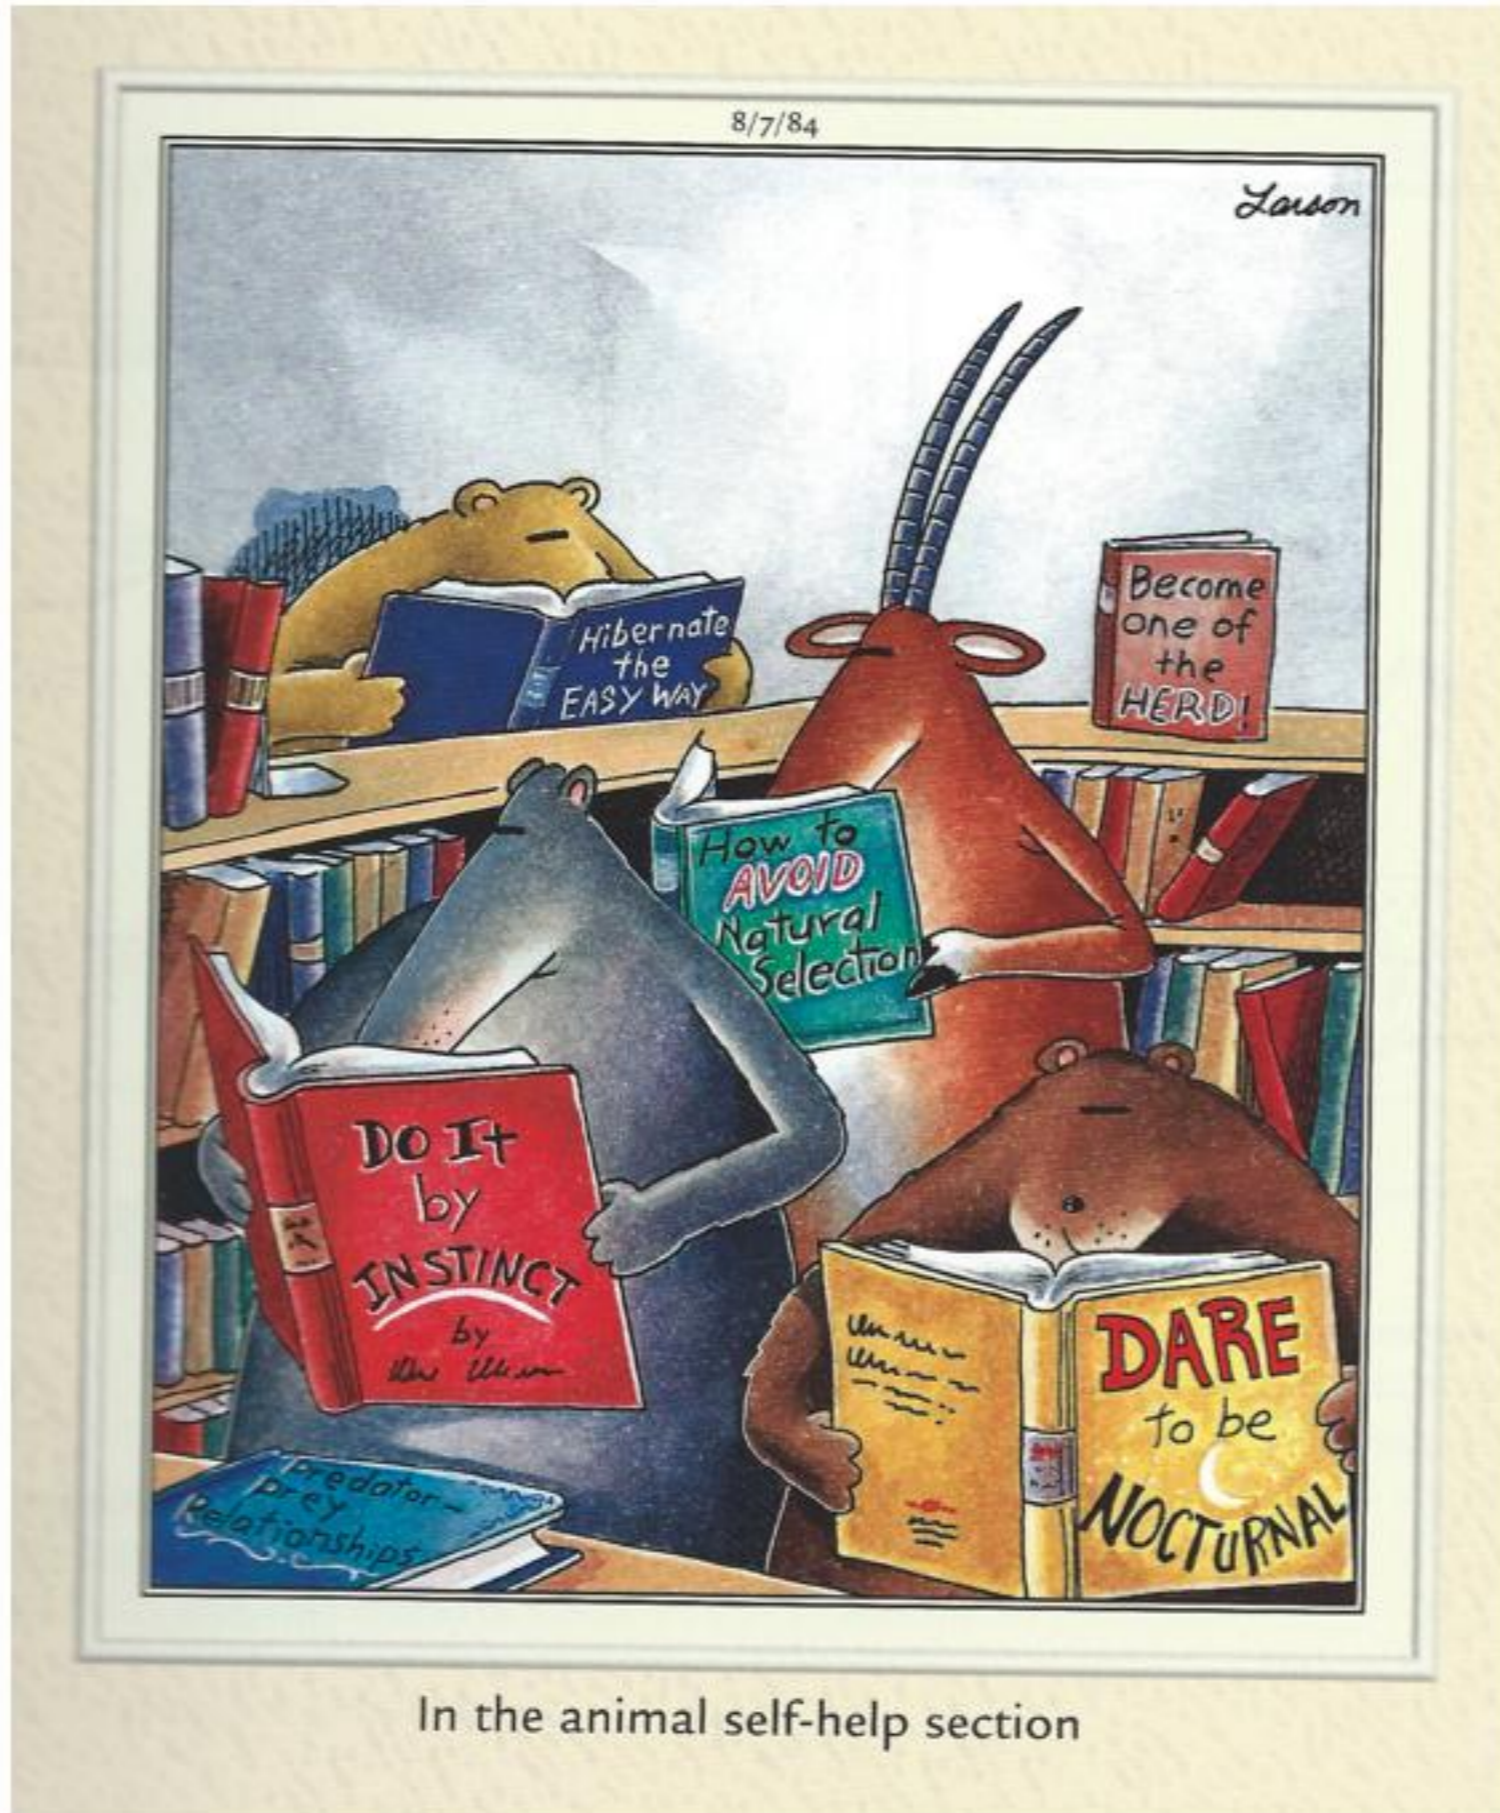

Suddenly, Professor Liebowitz realizes he has come to the seminar without his duck.

Testing whether fish have feelings

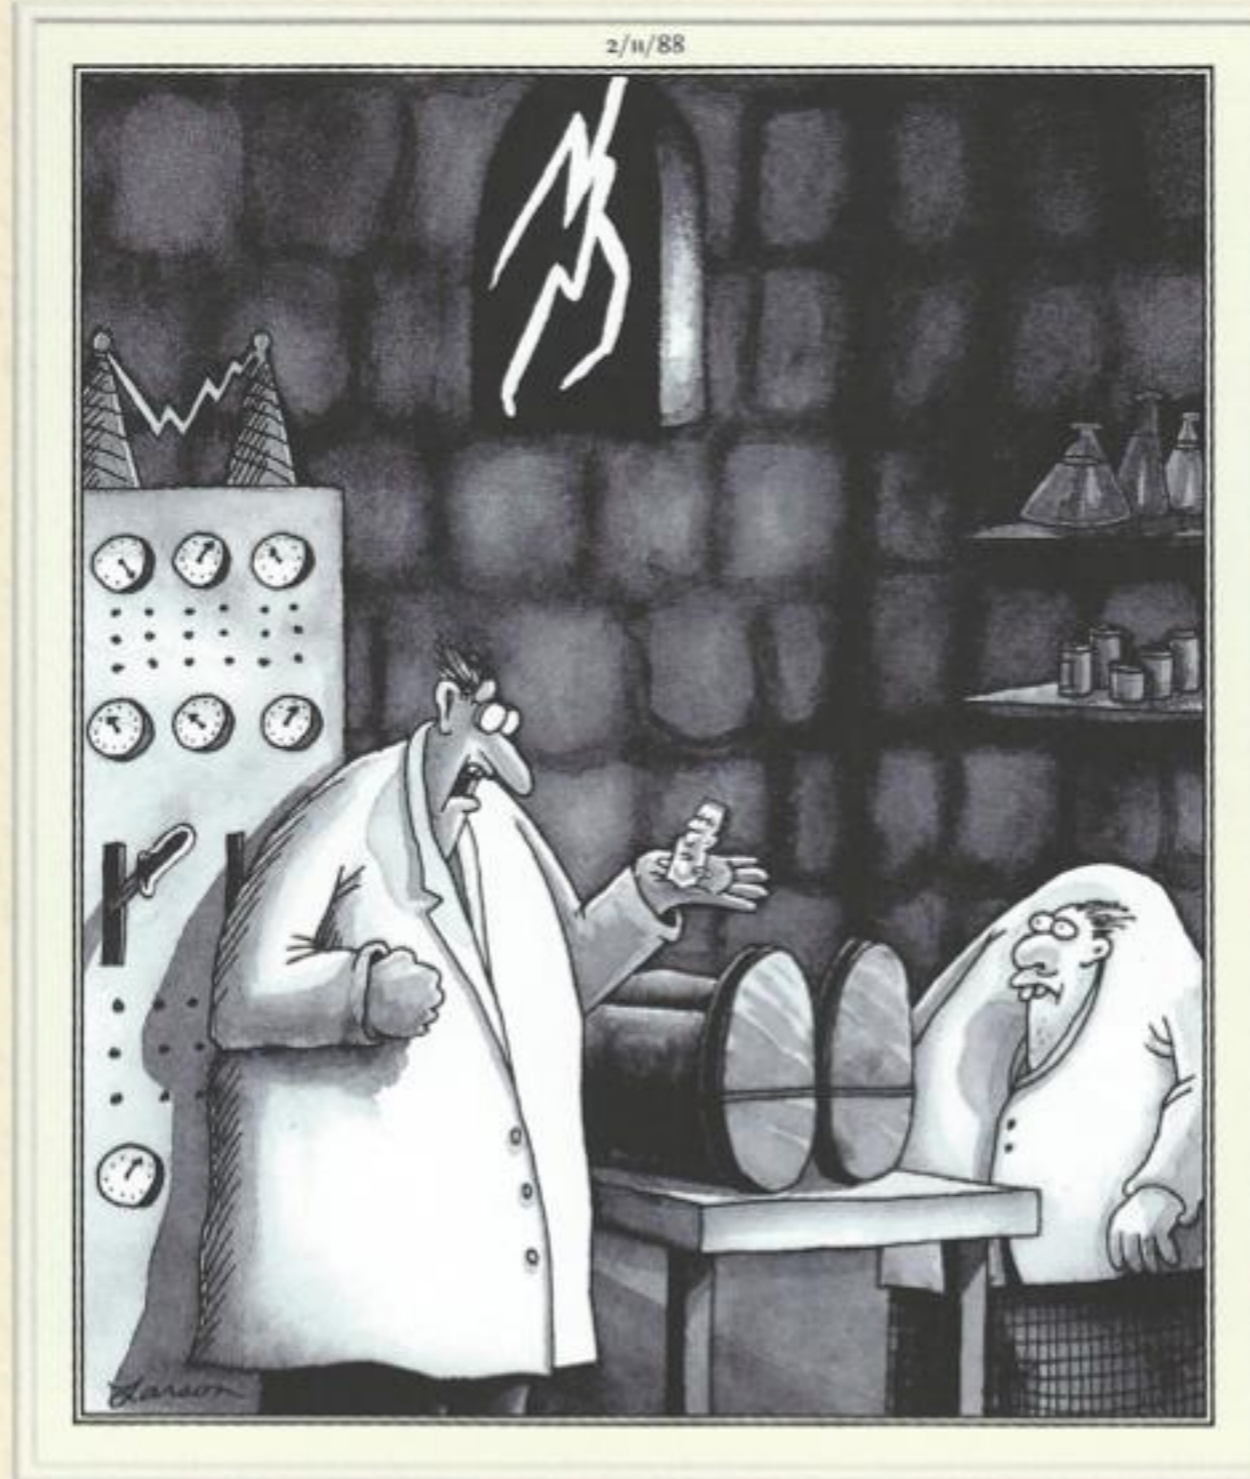

17

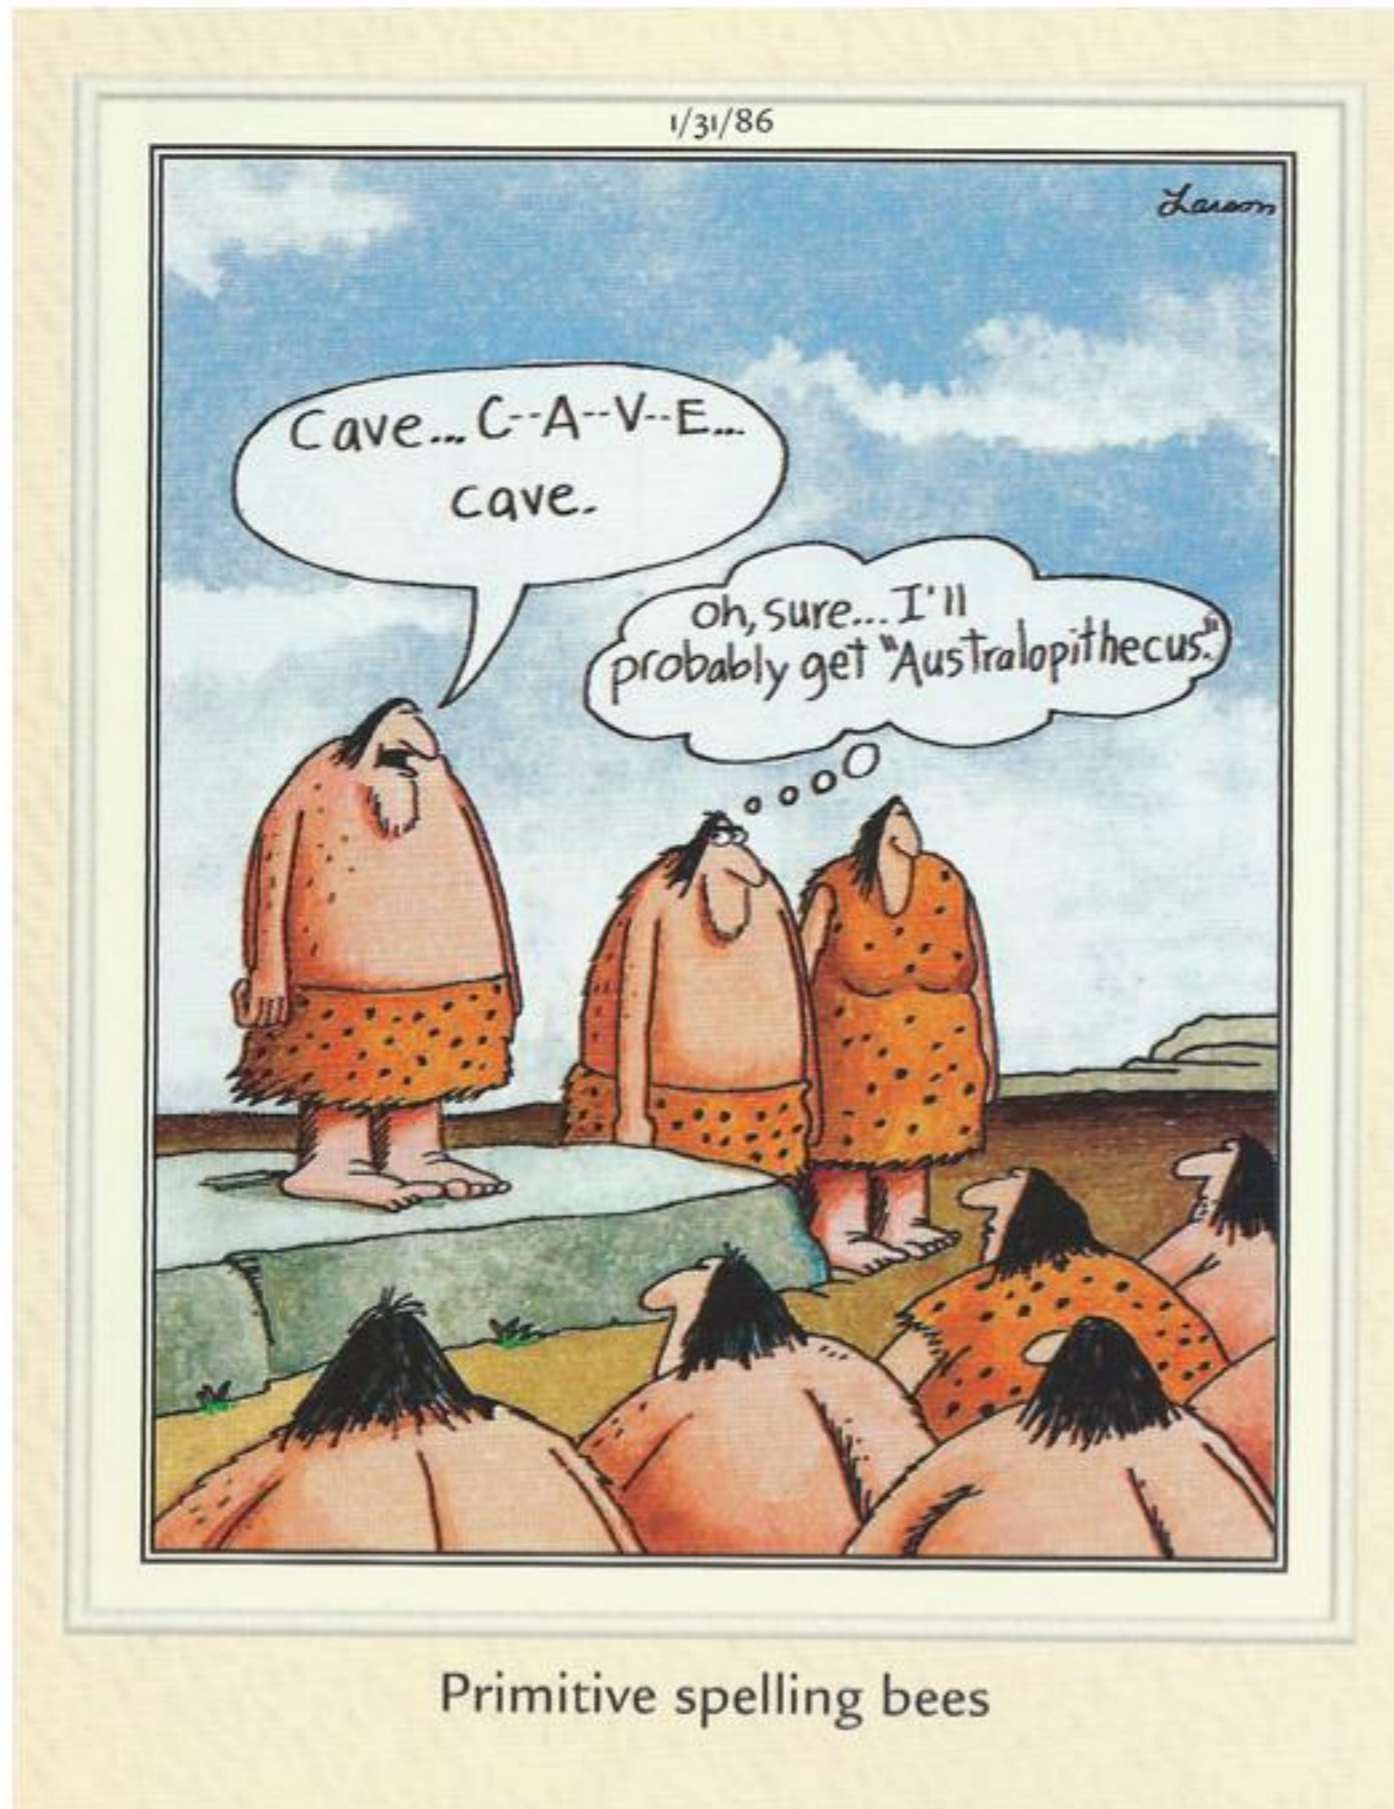

In the animal self-help section

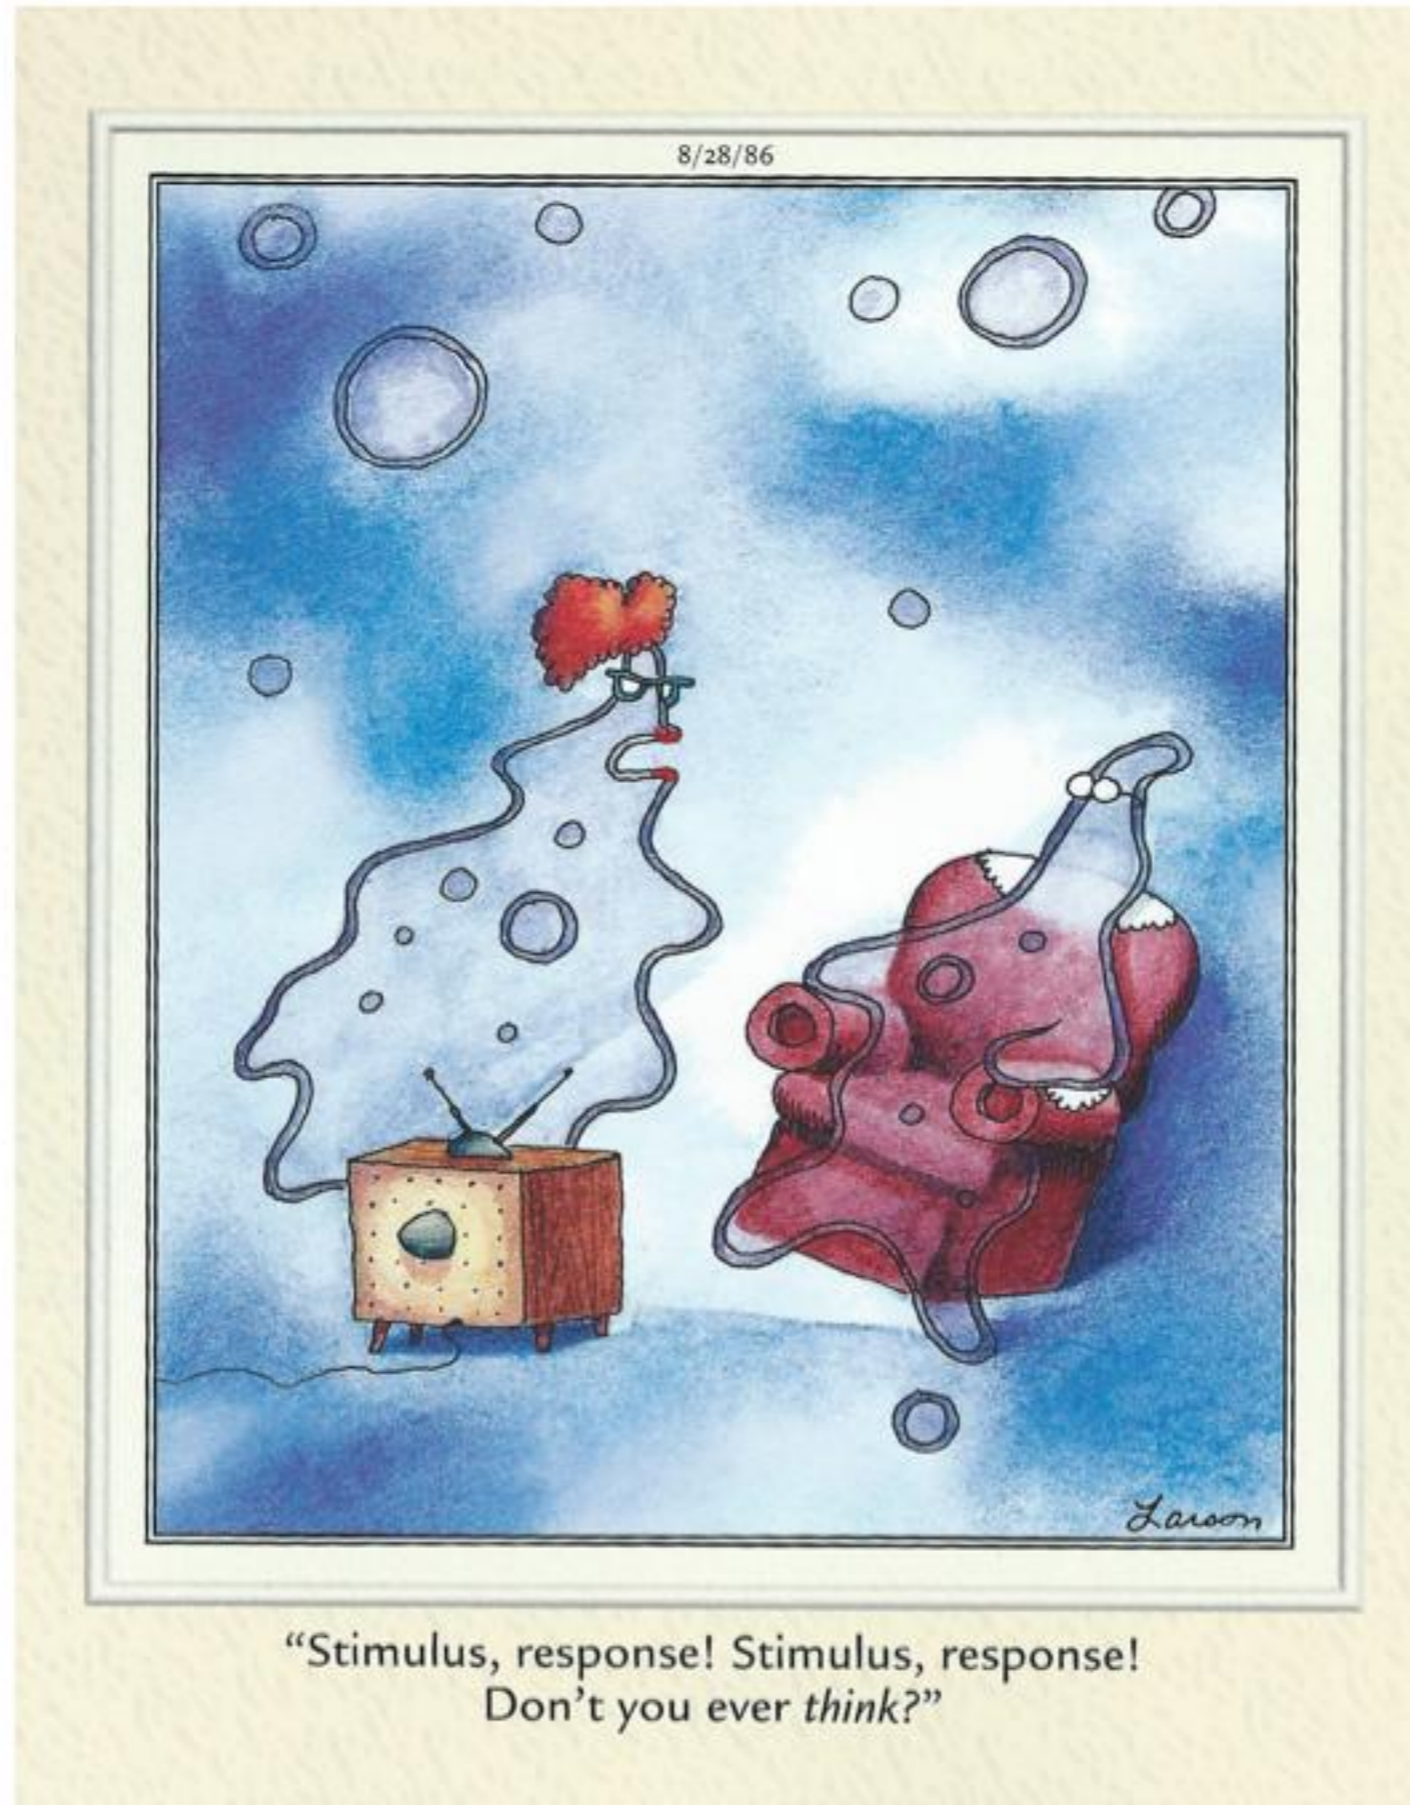

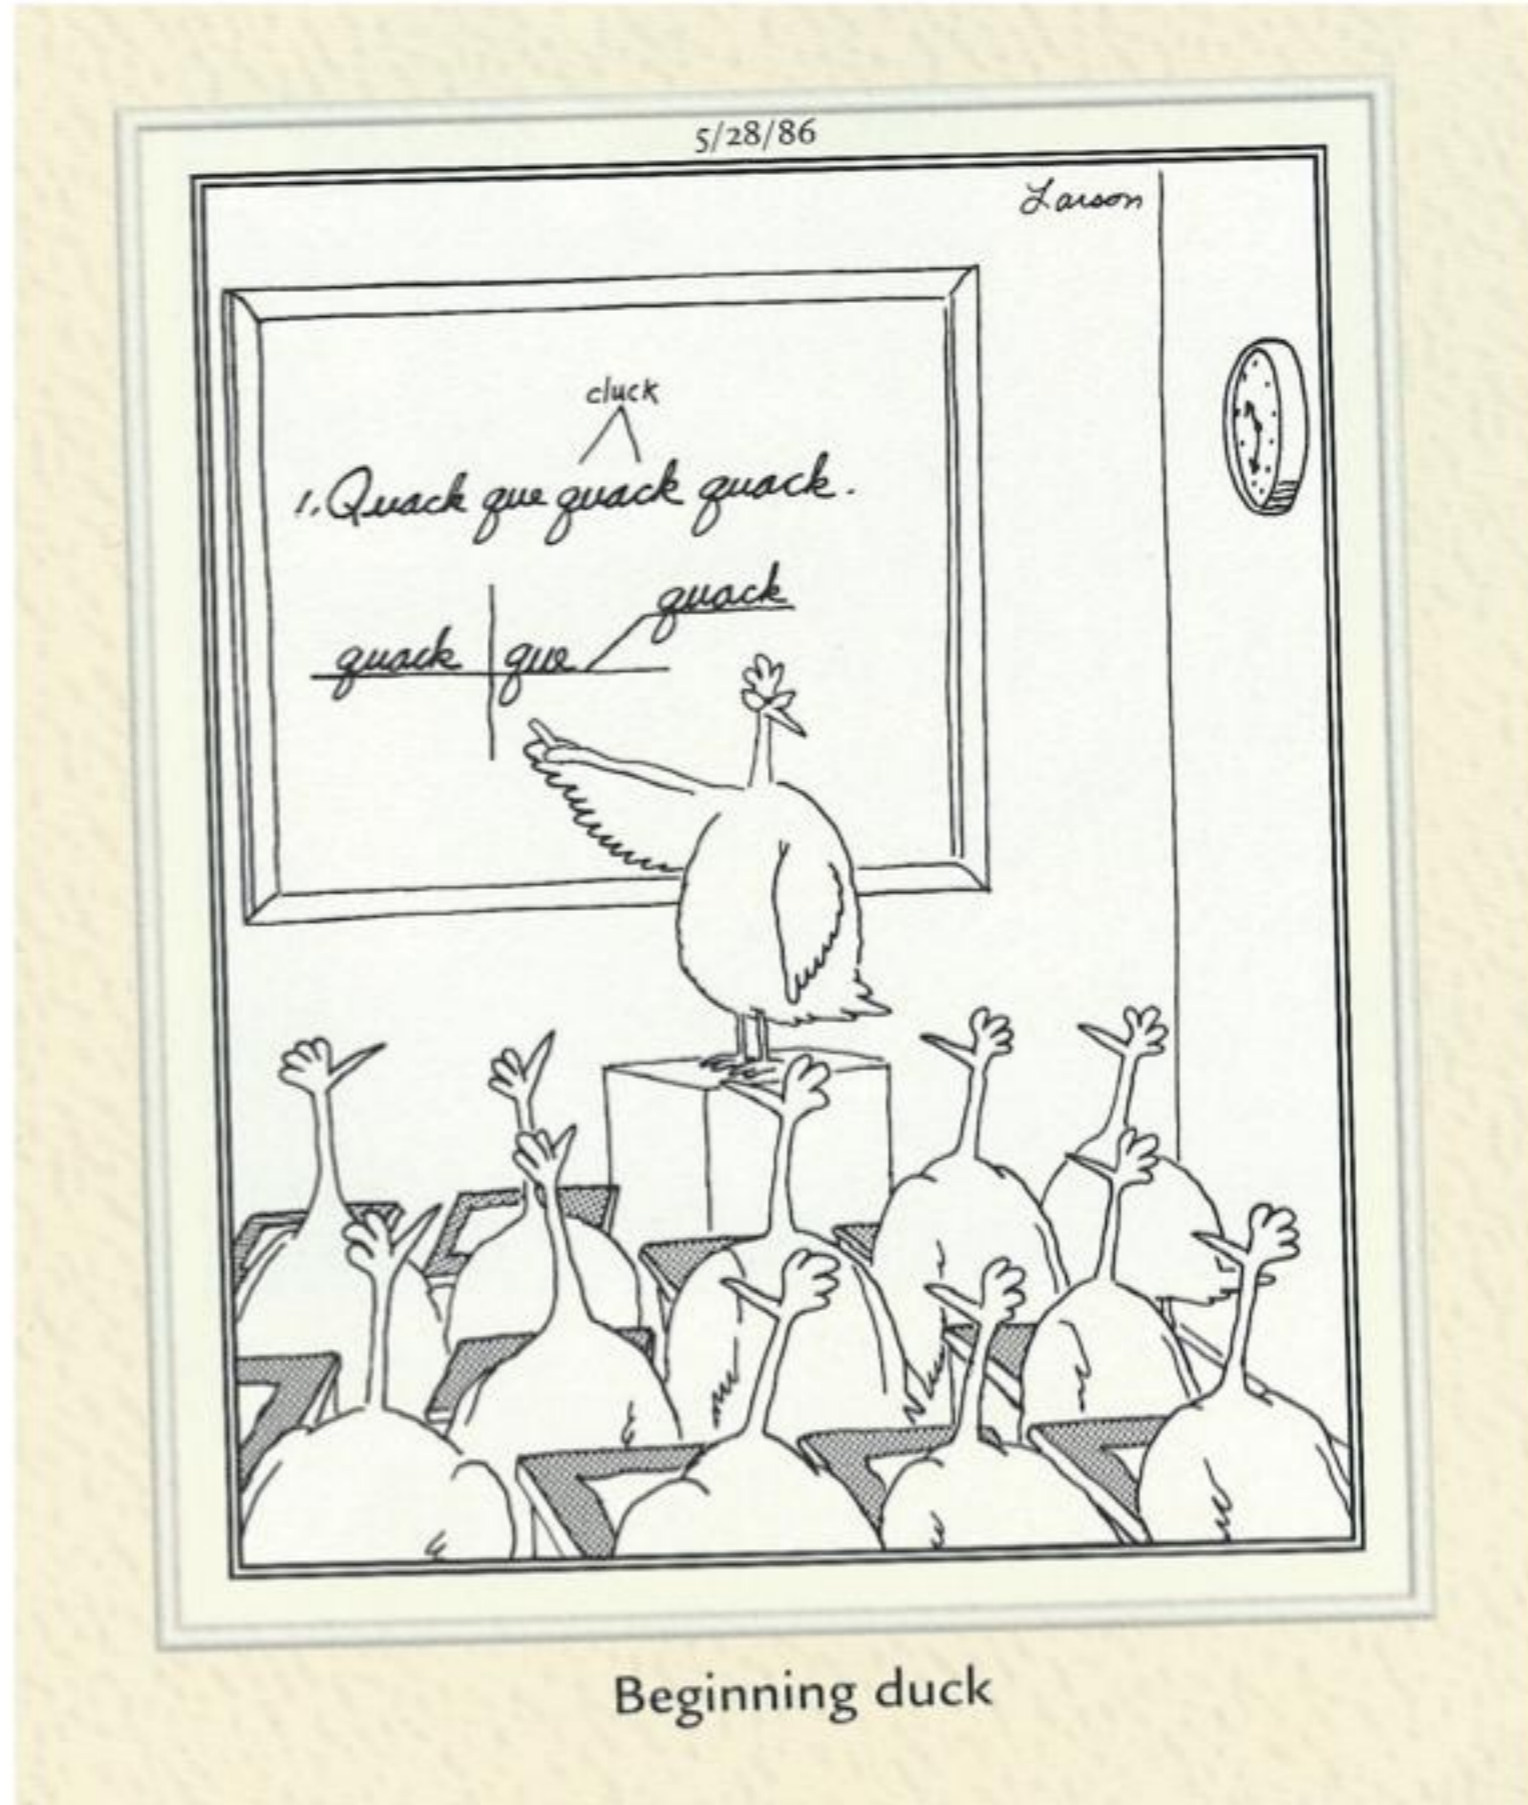

“For crying out loud, Igor! First there’s that screw-up with the wrong brain business, and now you’ve let his head go through the wash in your pants pocket!”

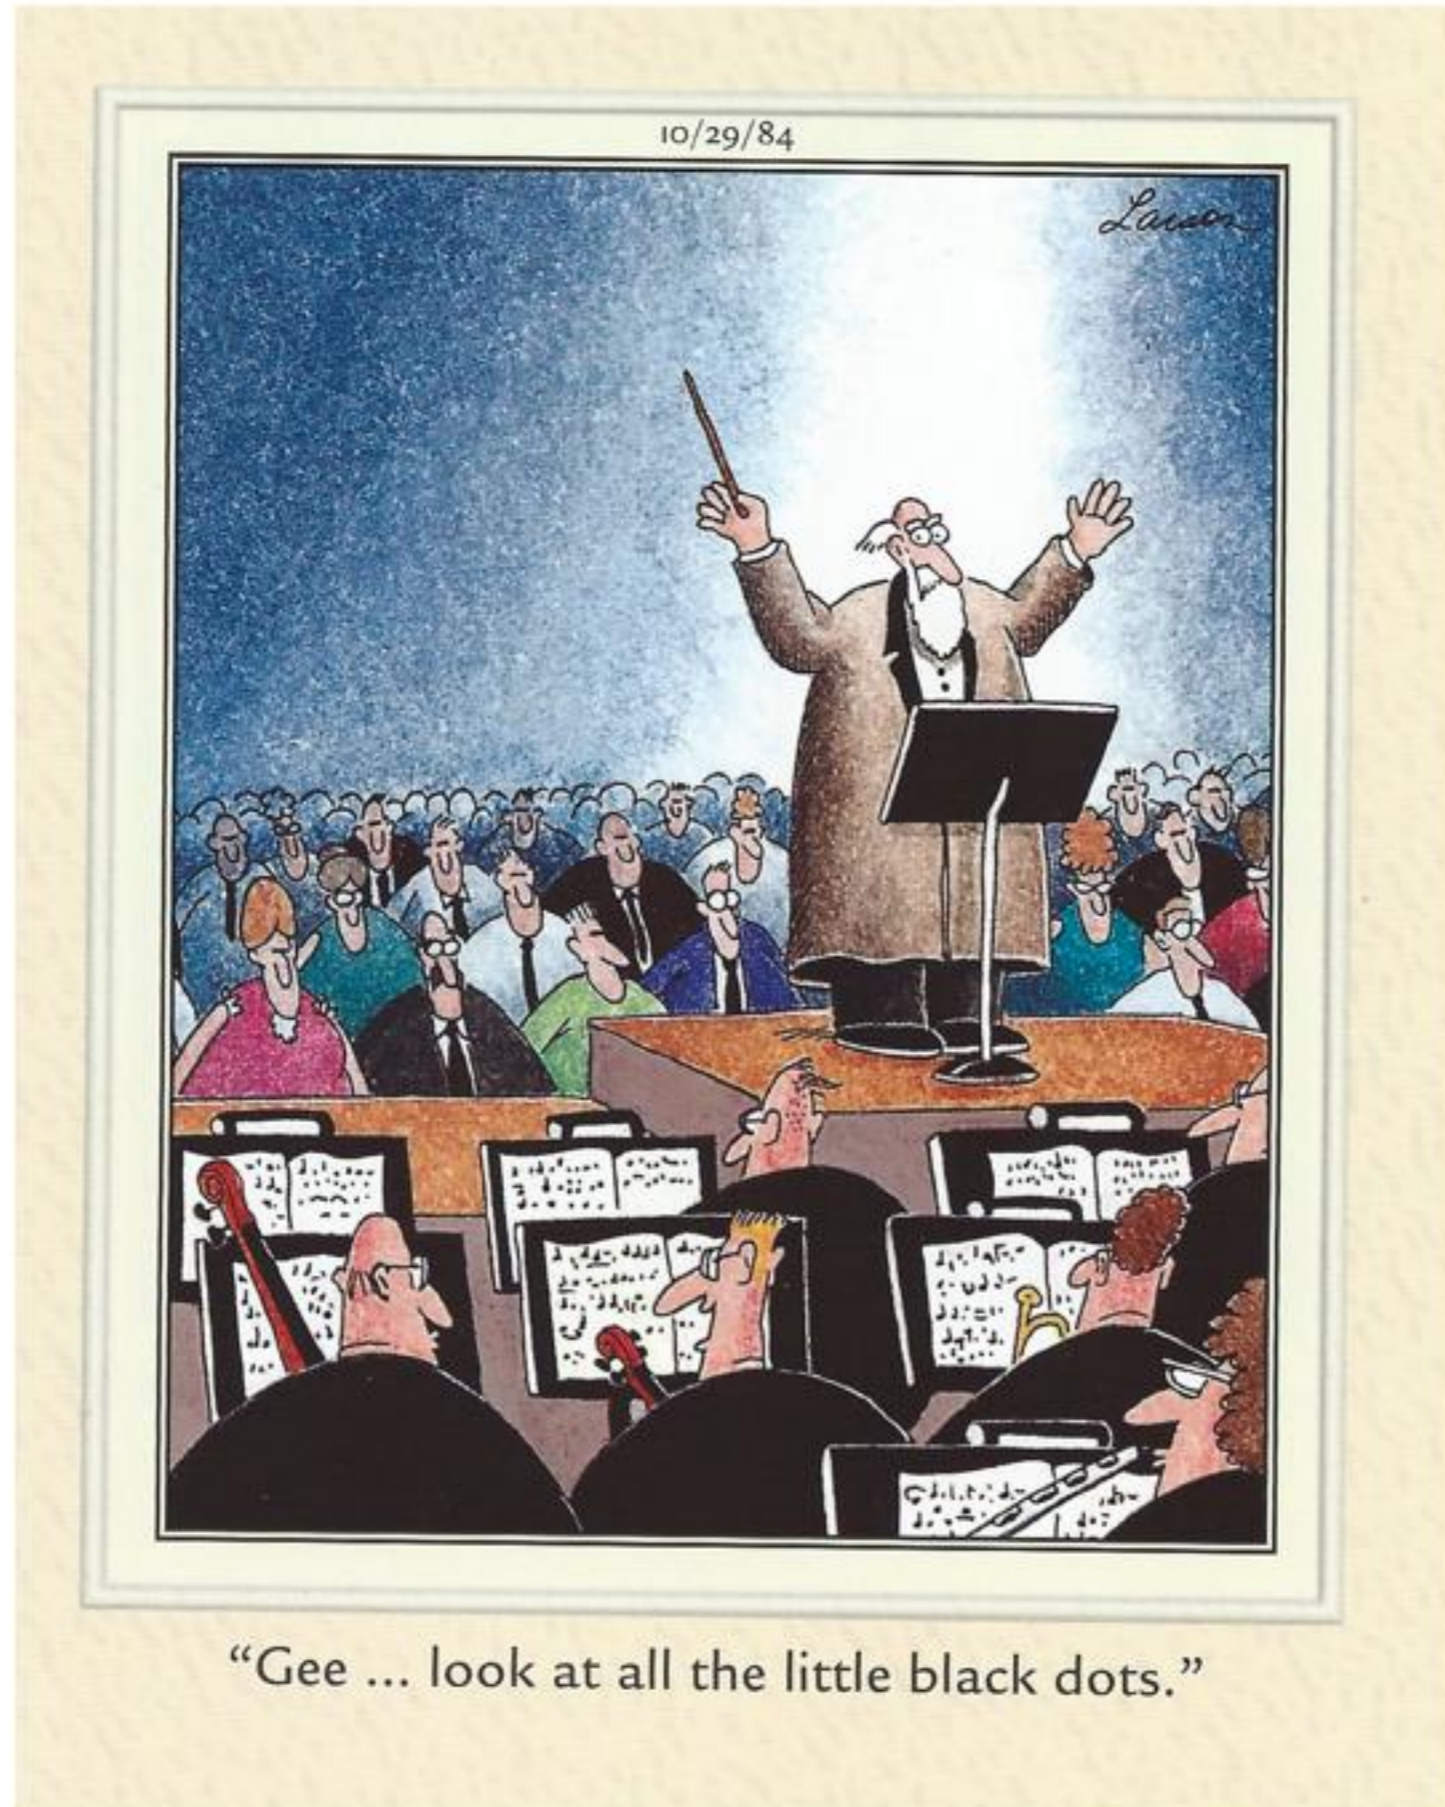

Primitive spelling bees

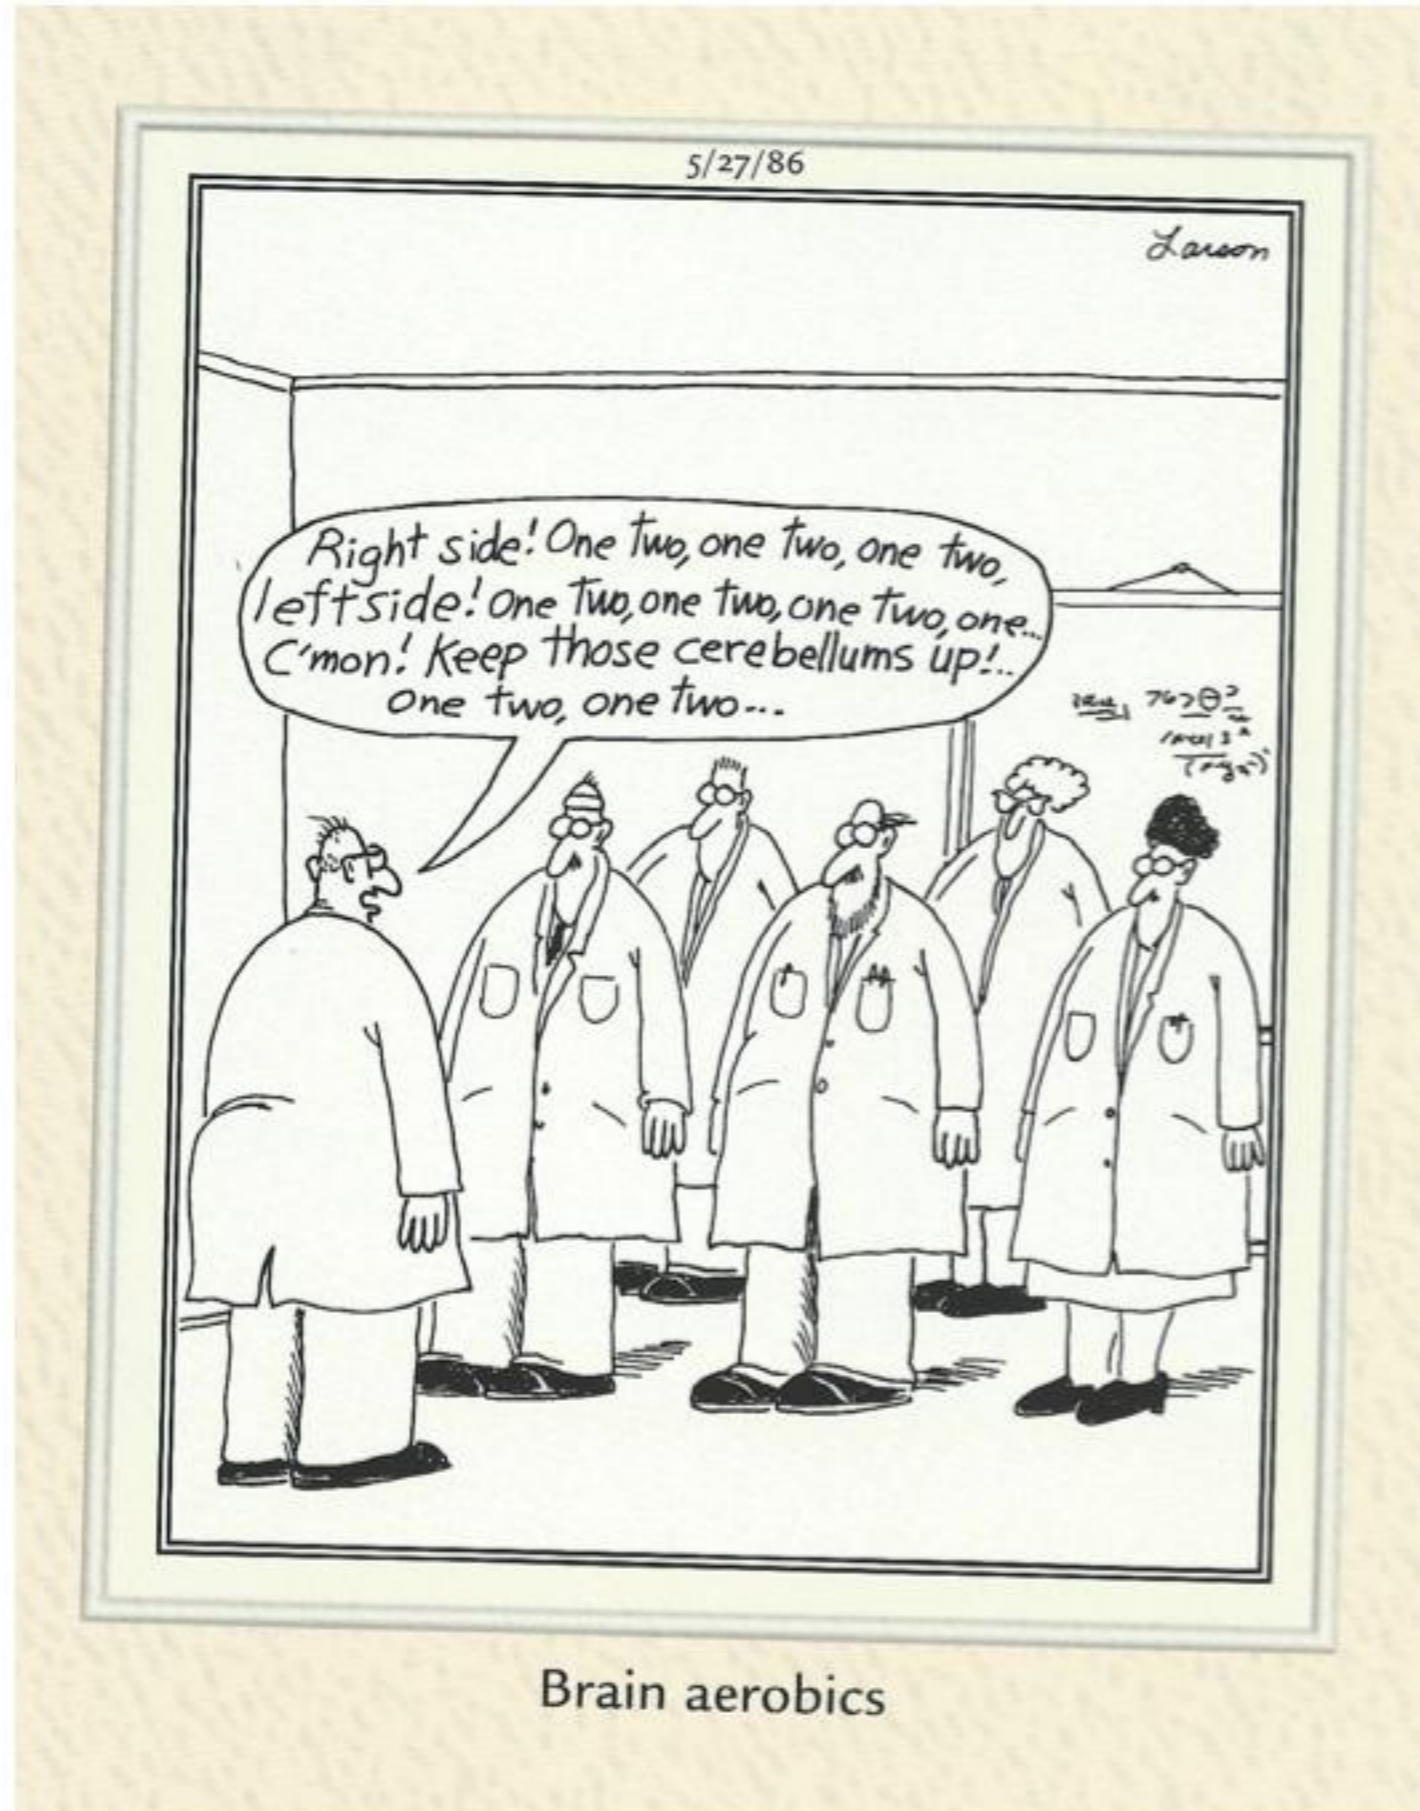

1

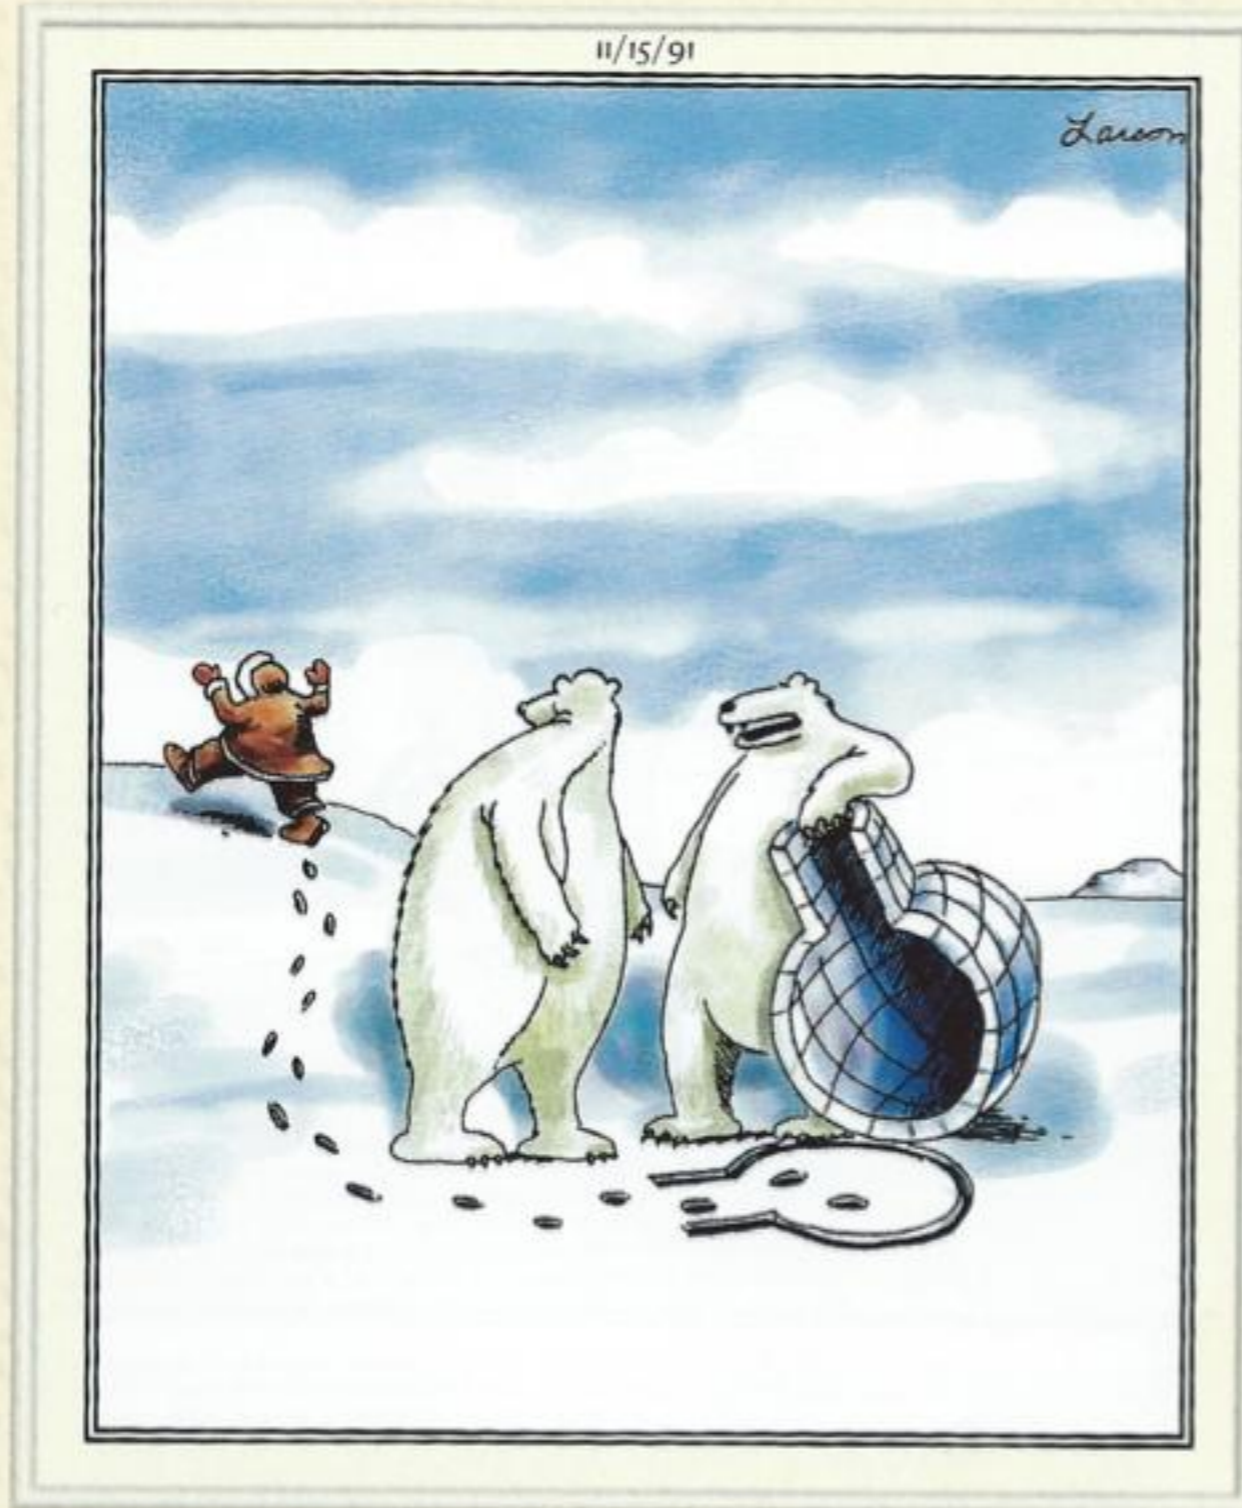

2

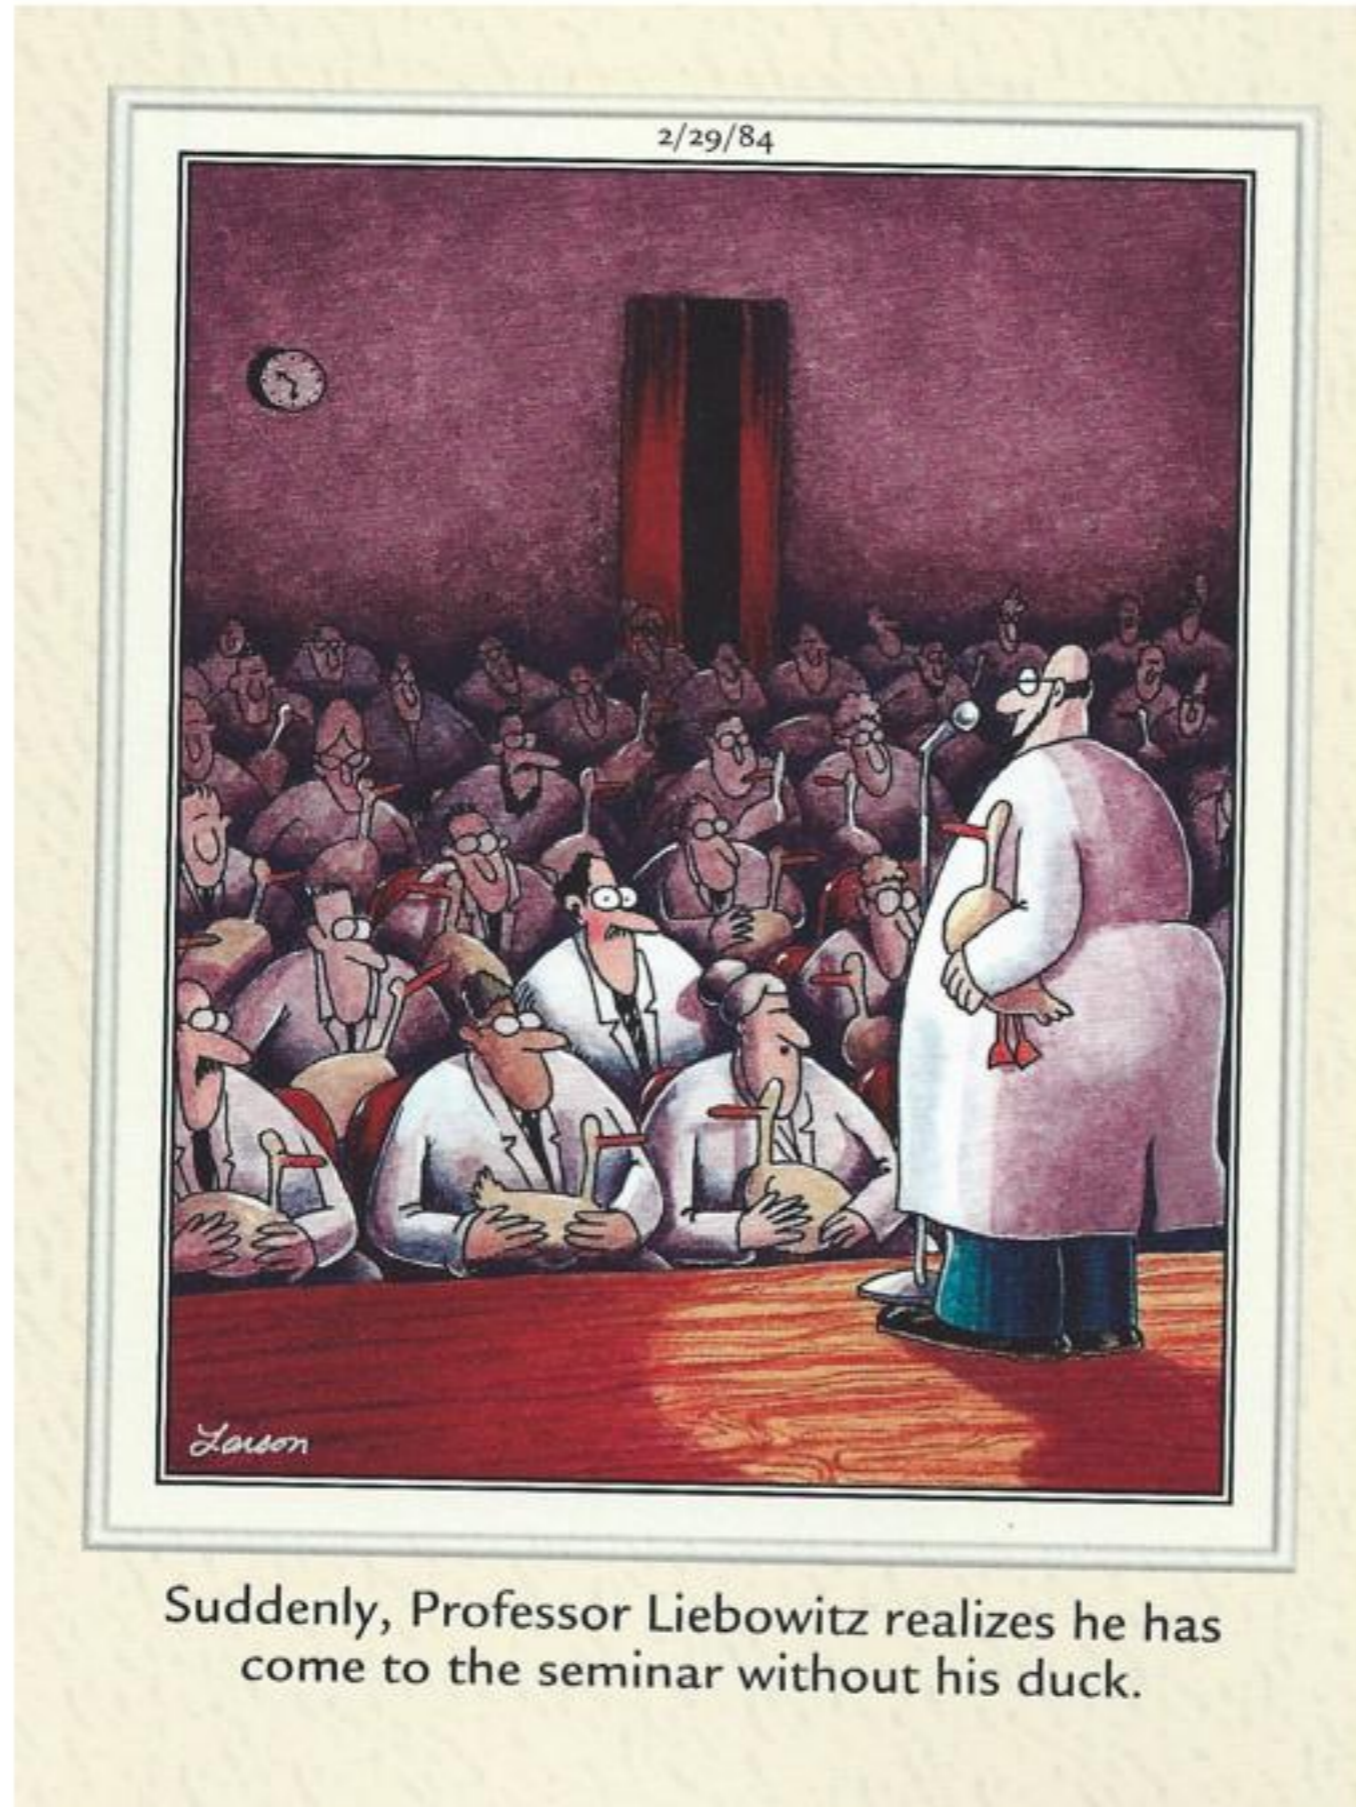

4

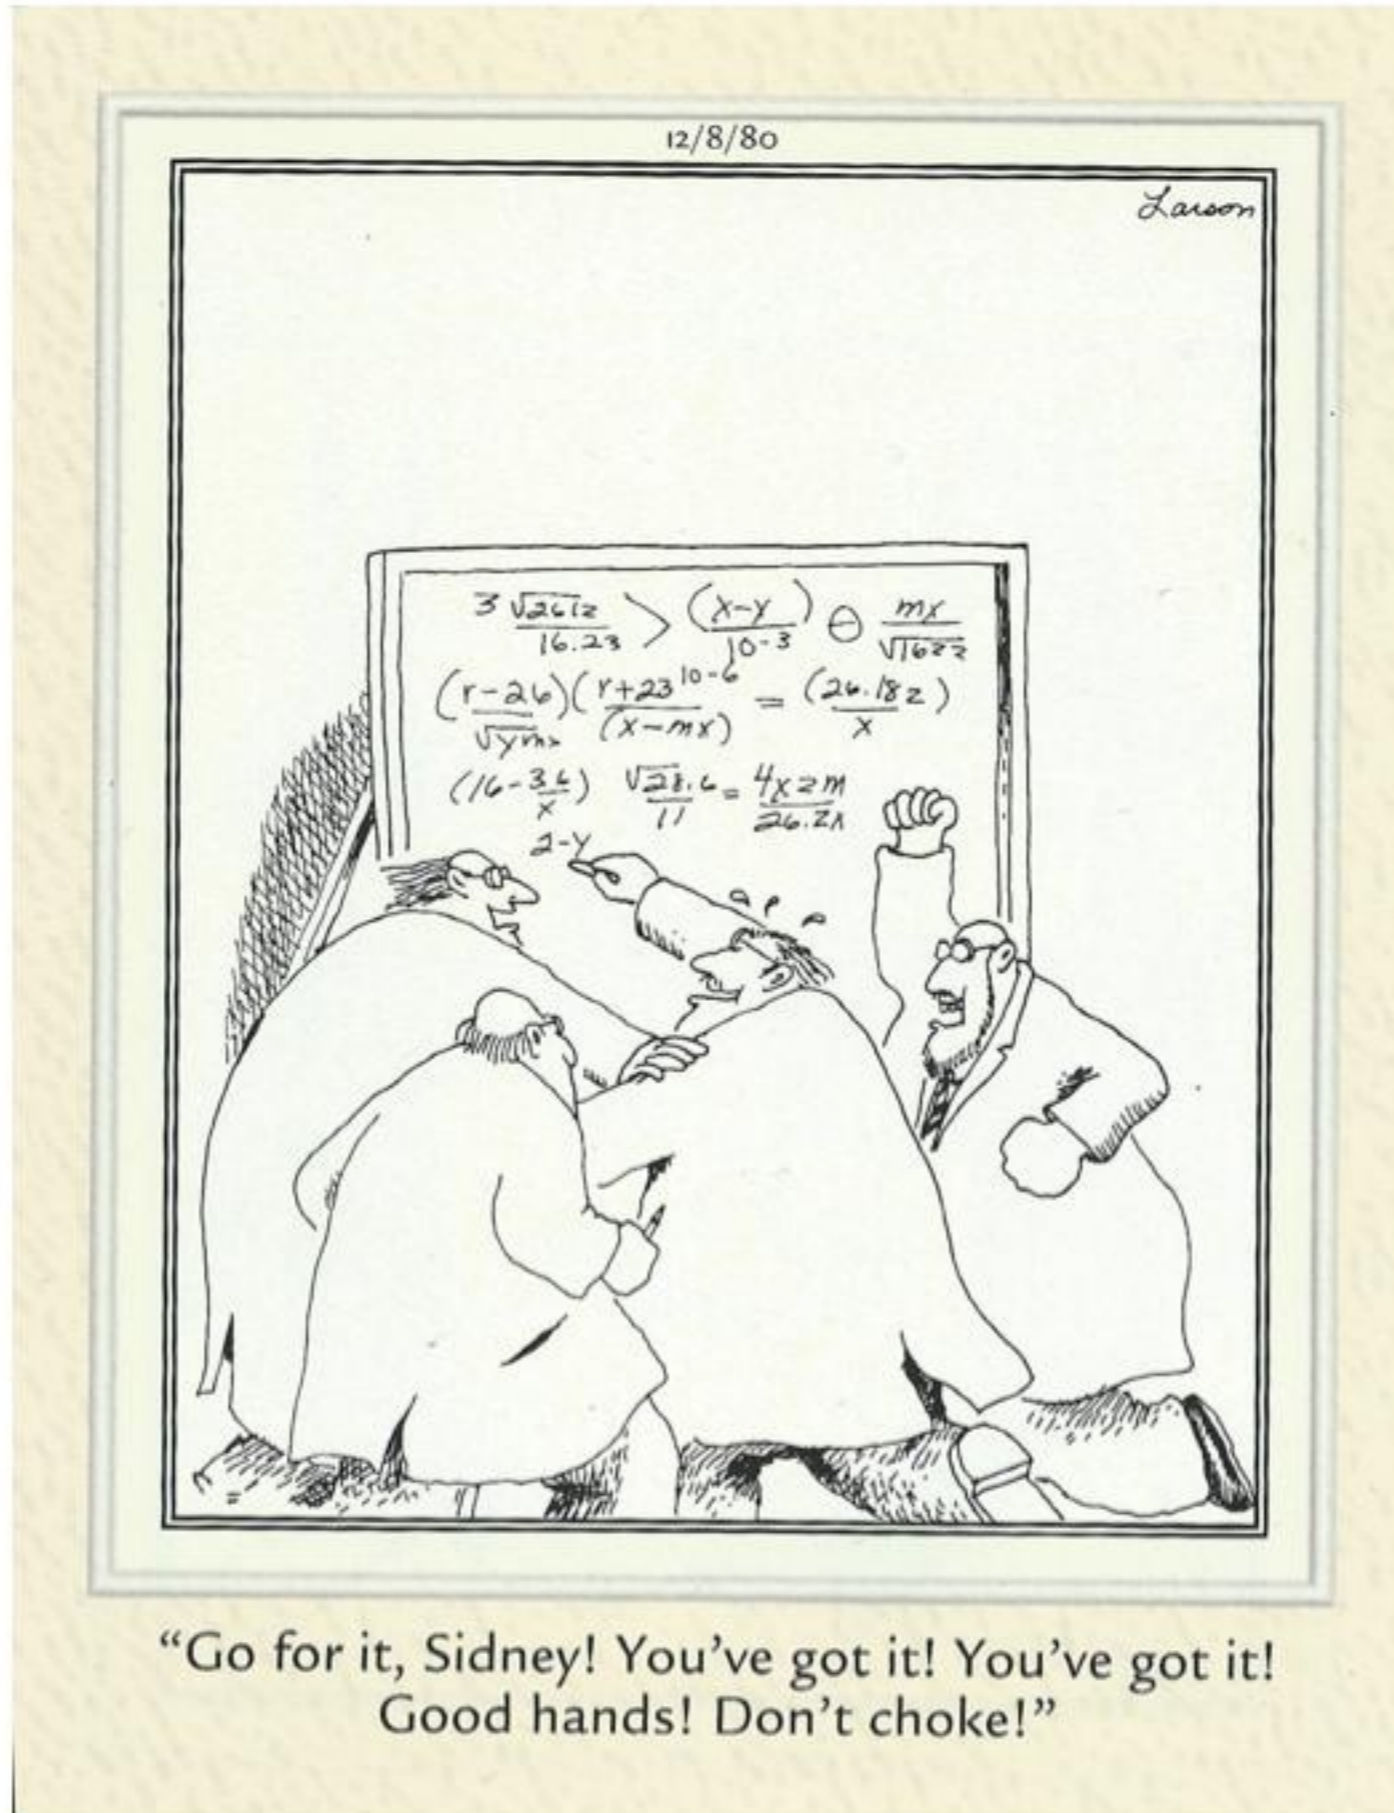

“I lift, you grab. ... Was that concept just a little too complex, Carl?”

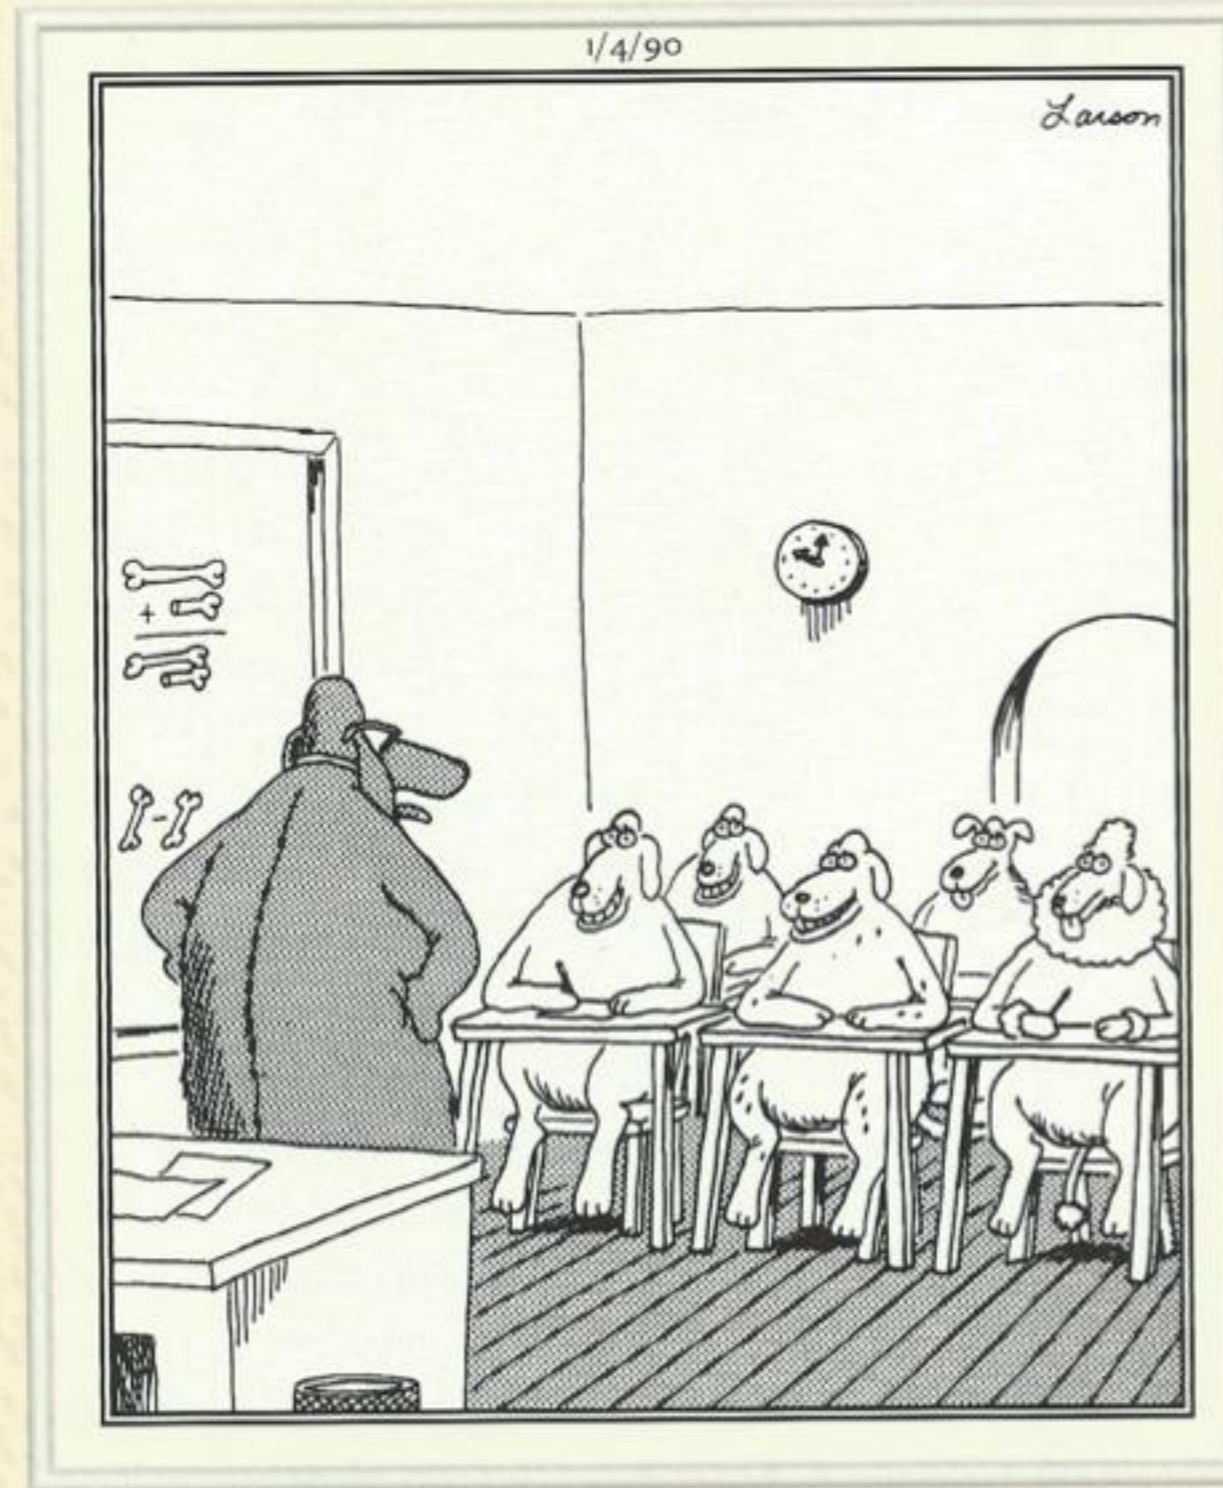

12

Suddenly, Professor Liebowitz realizes he has come to the seminar without his duck.

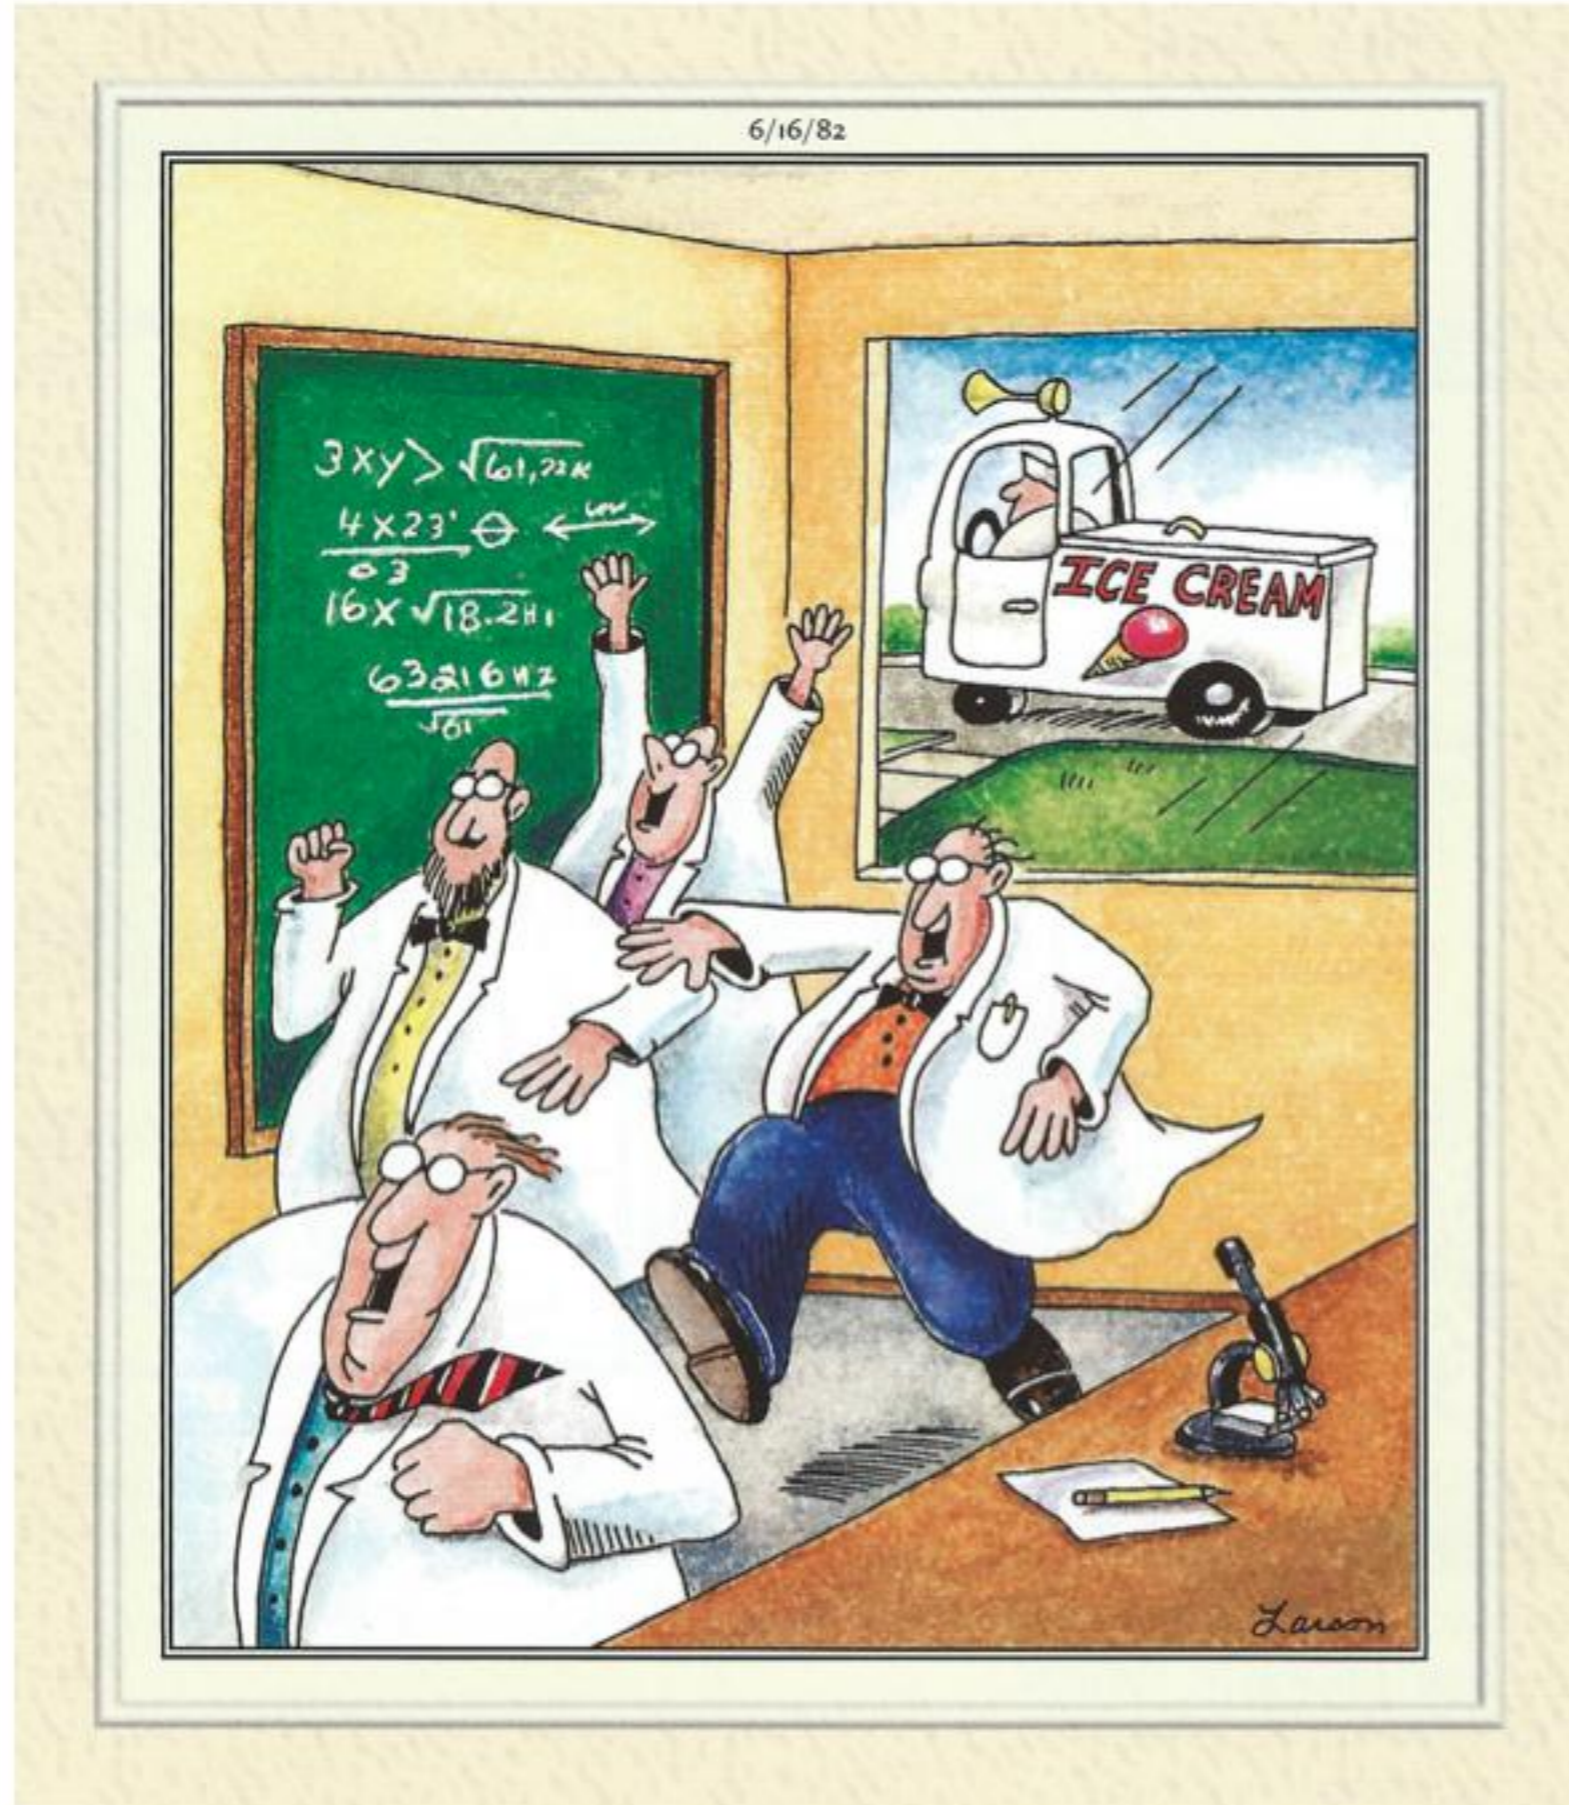

16

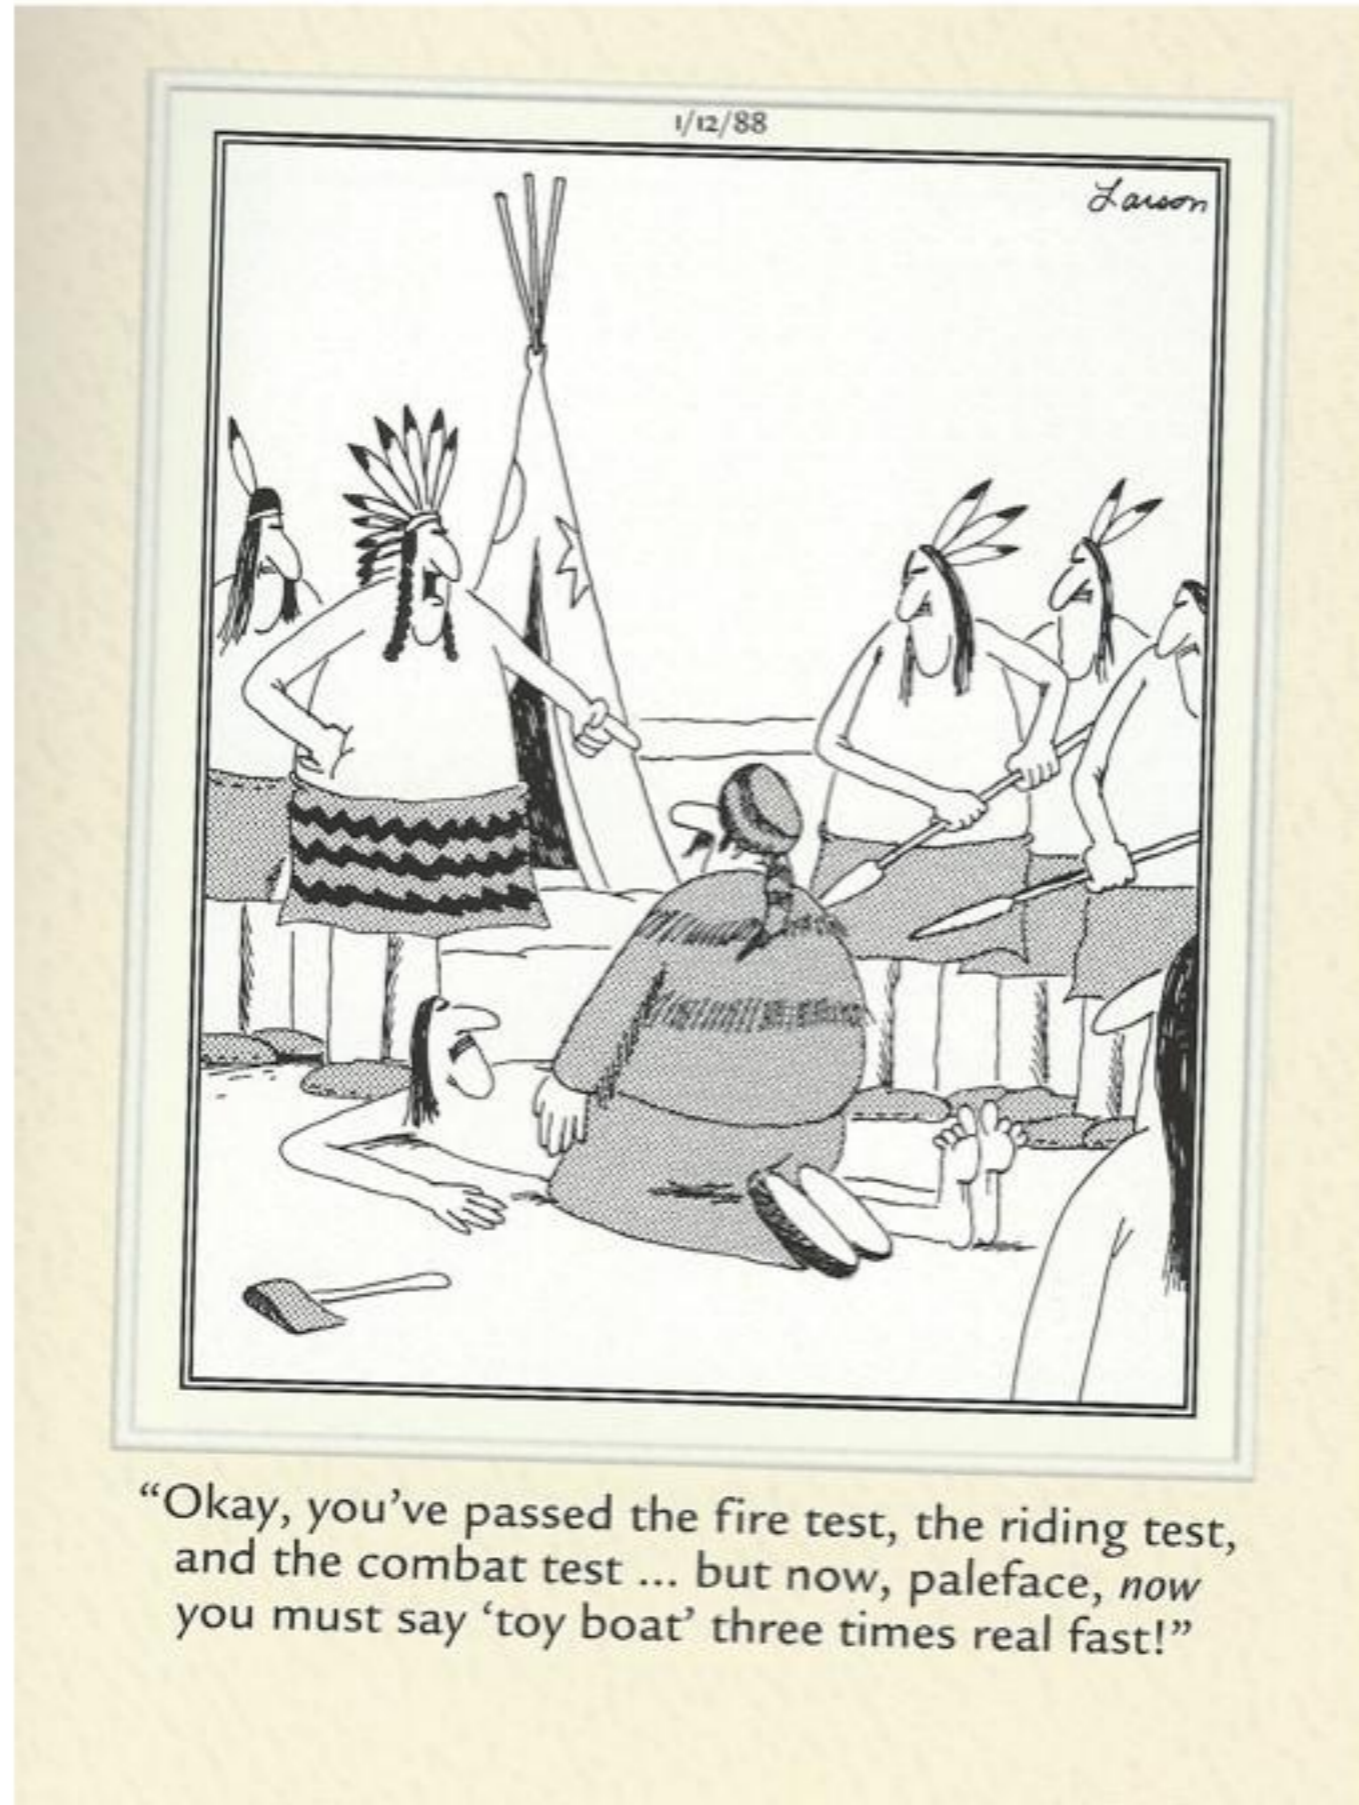

“Well, here we go again. ... Did anyone here not eat his or her homework on the way to school?”

17

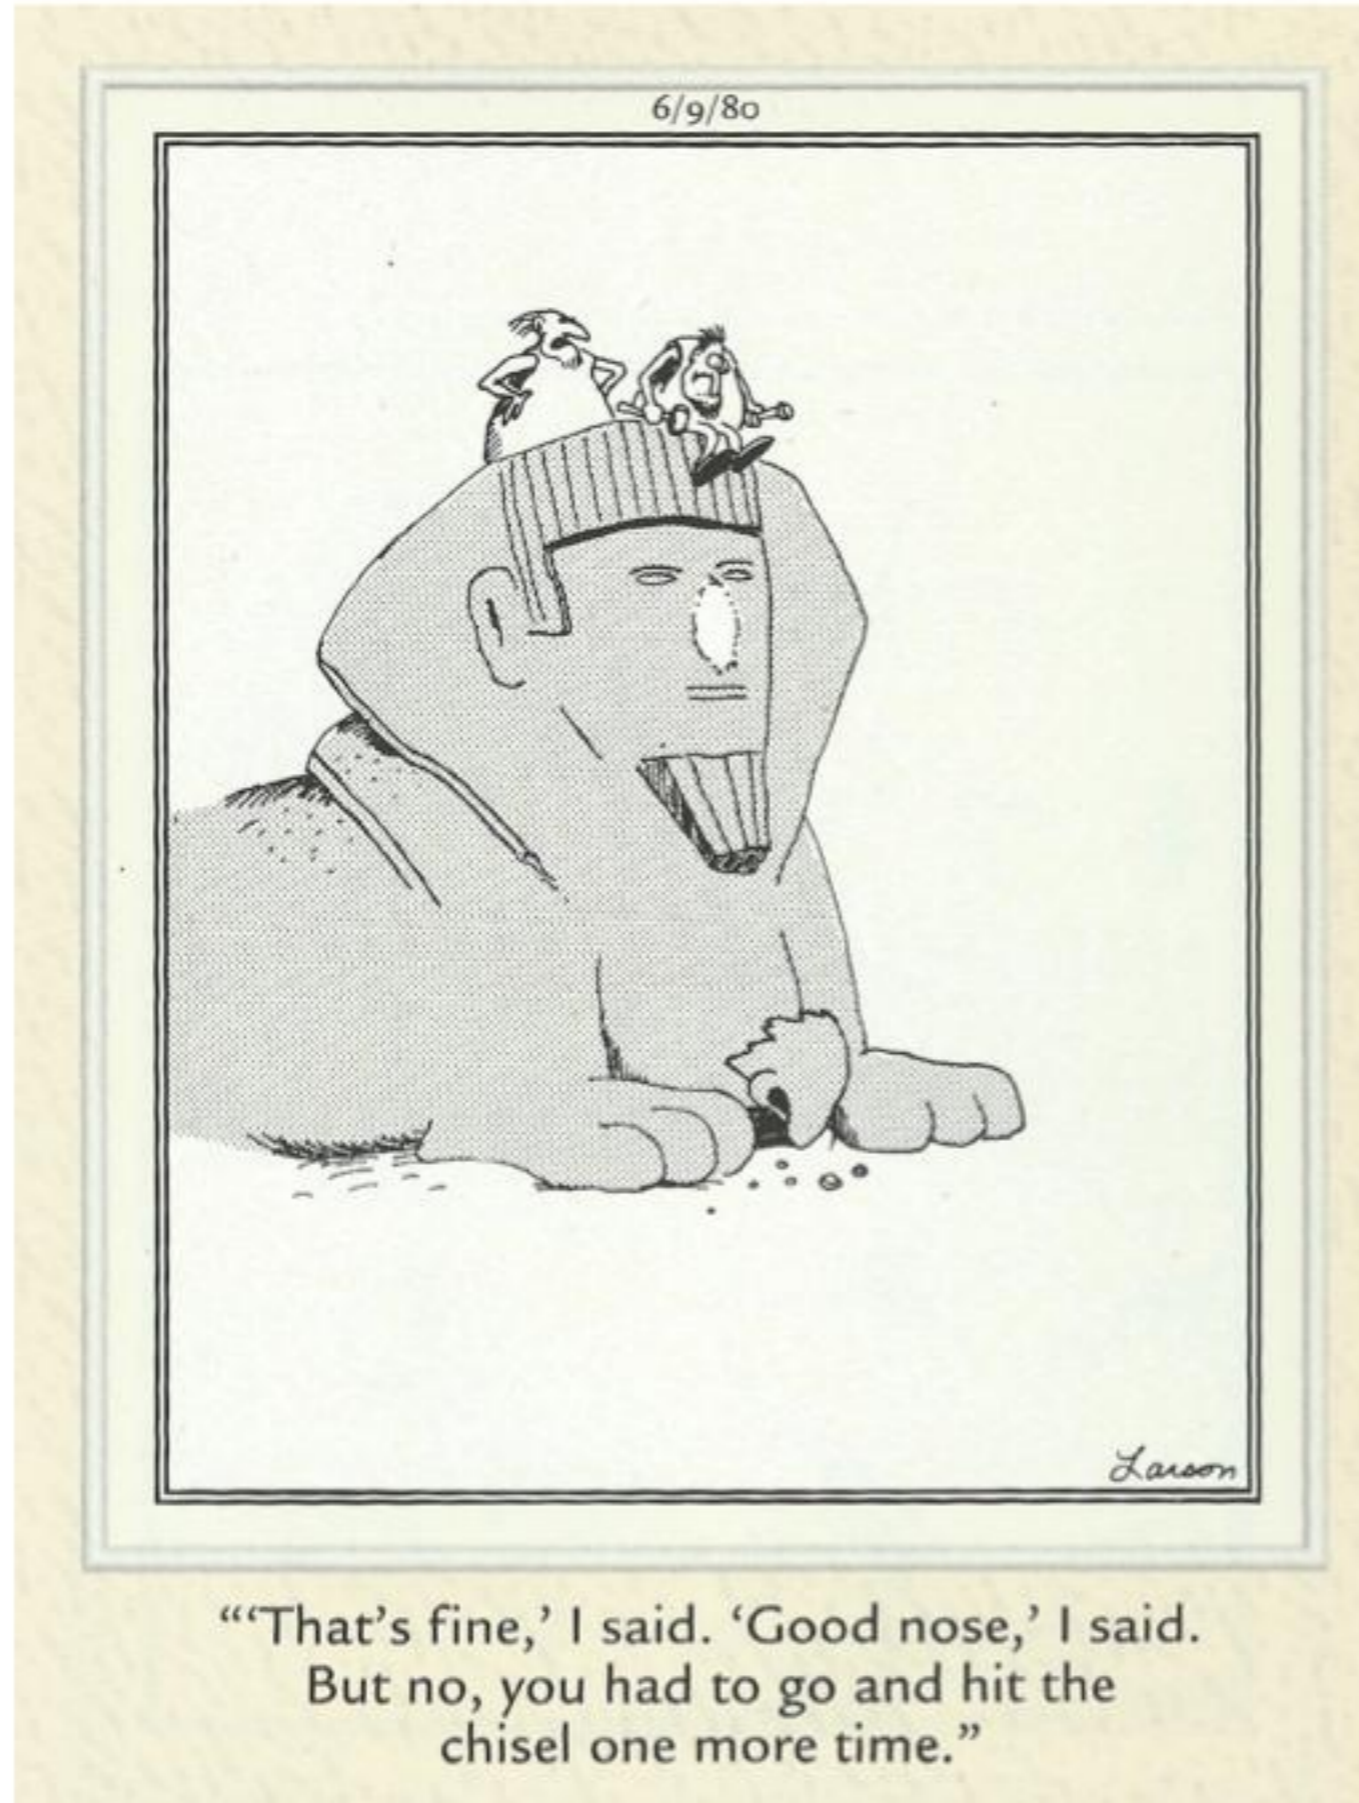

19

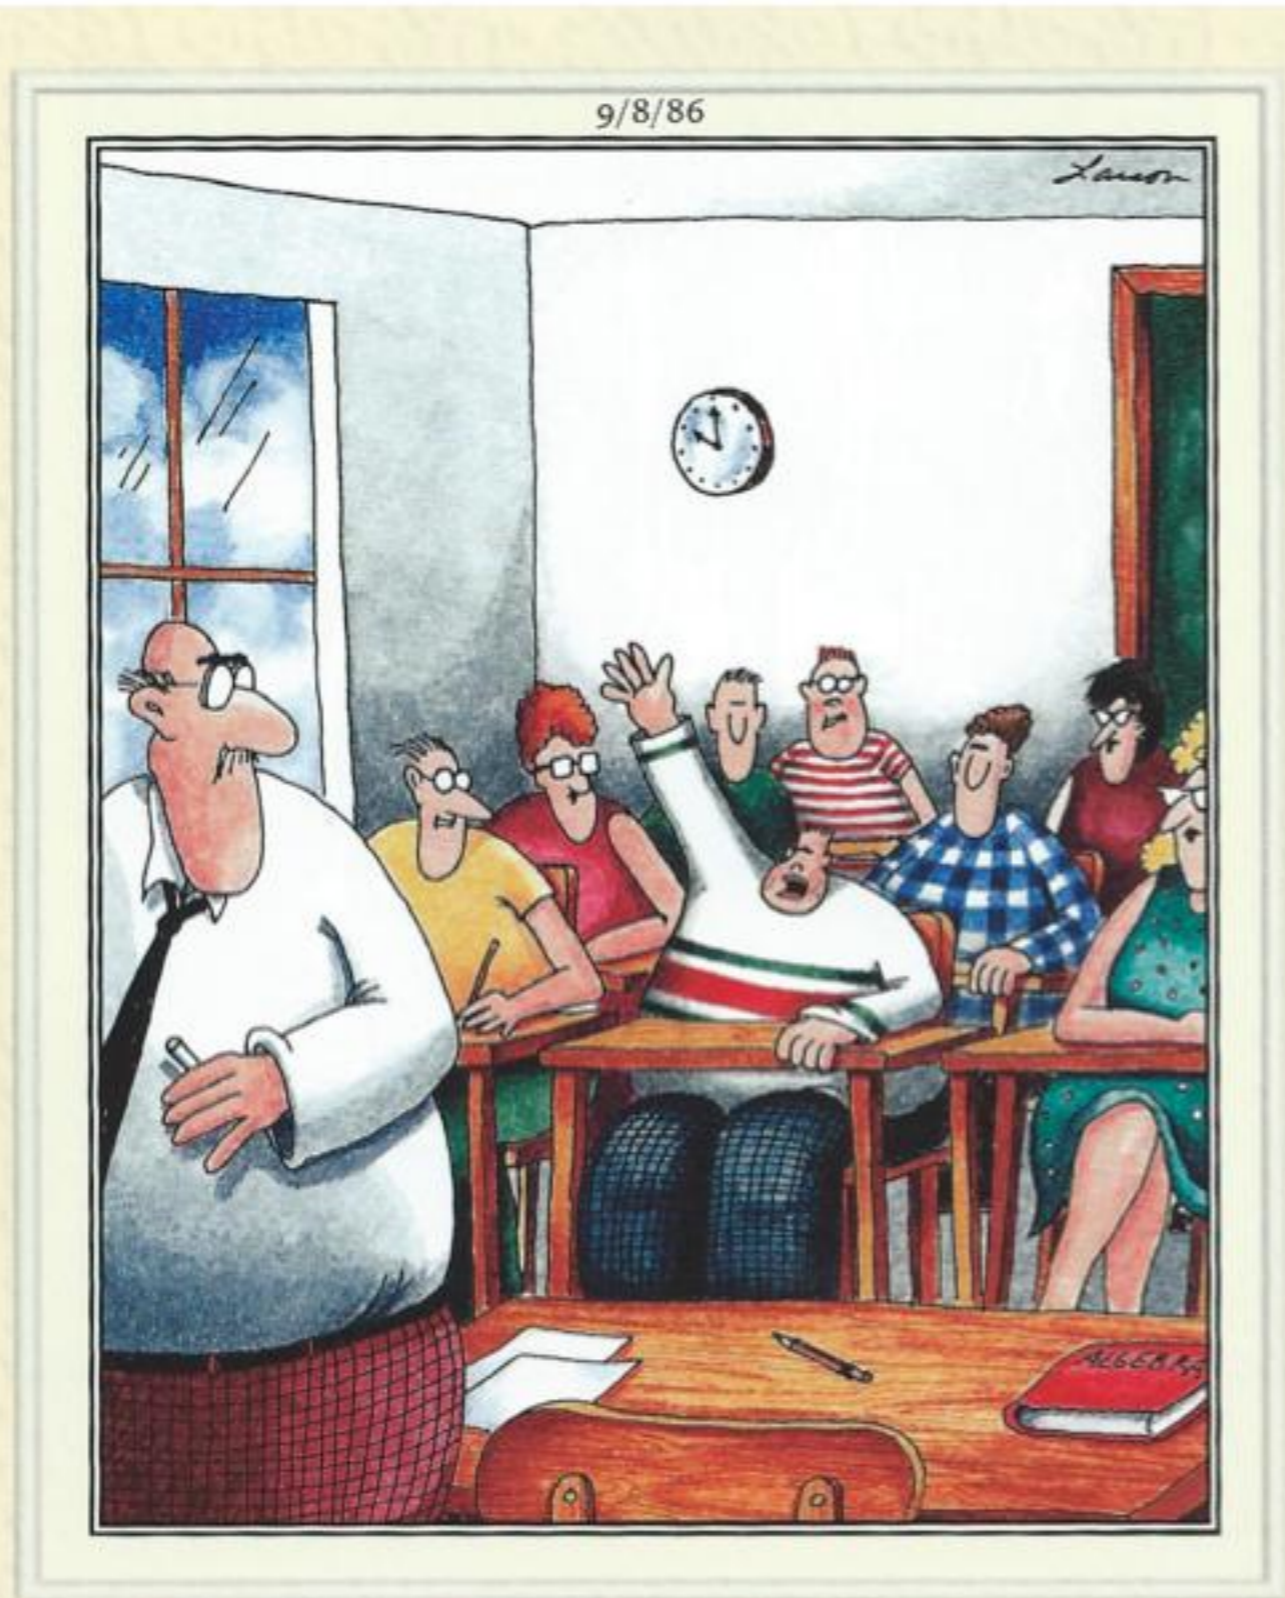

“Okay, you’ve passed the fire test, the riding test, and the combat test ... but now, paleface, now you must say ‘toy boat’ three times real fast!”

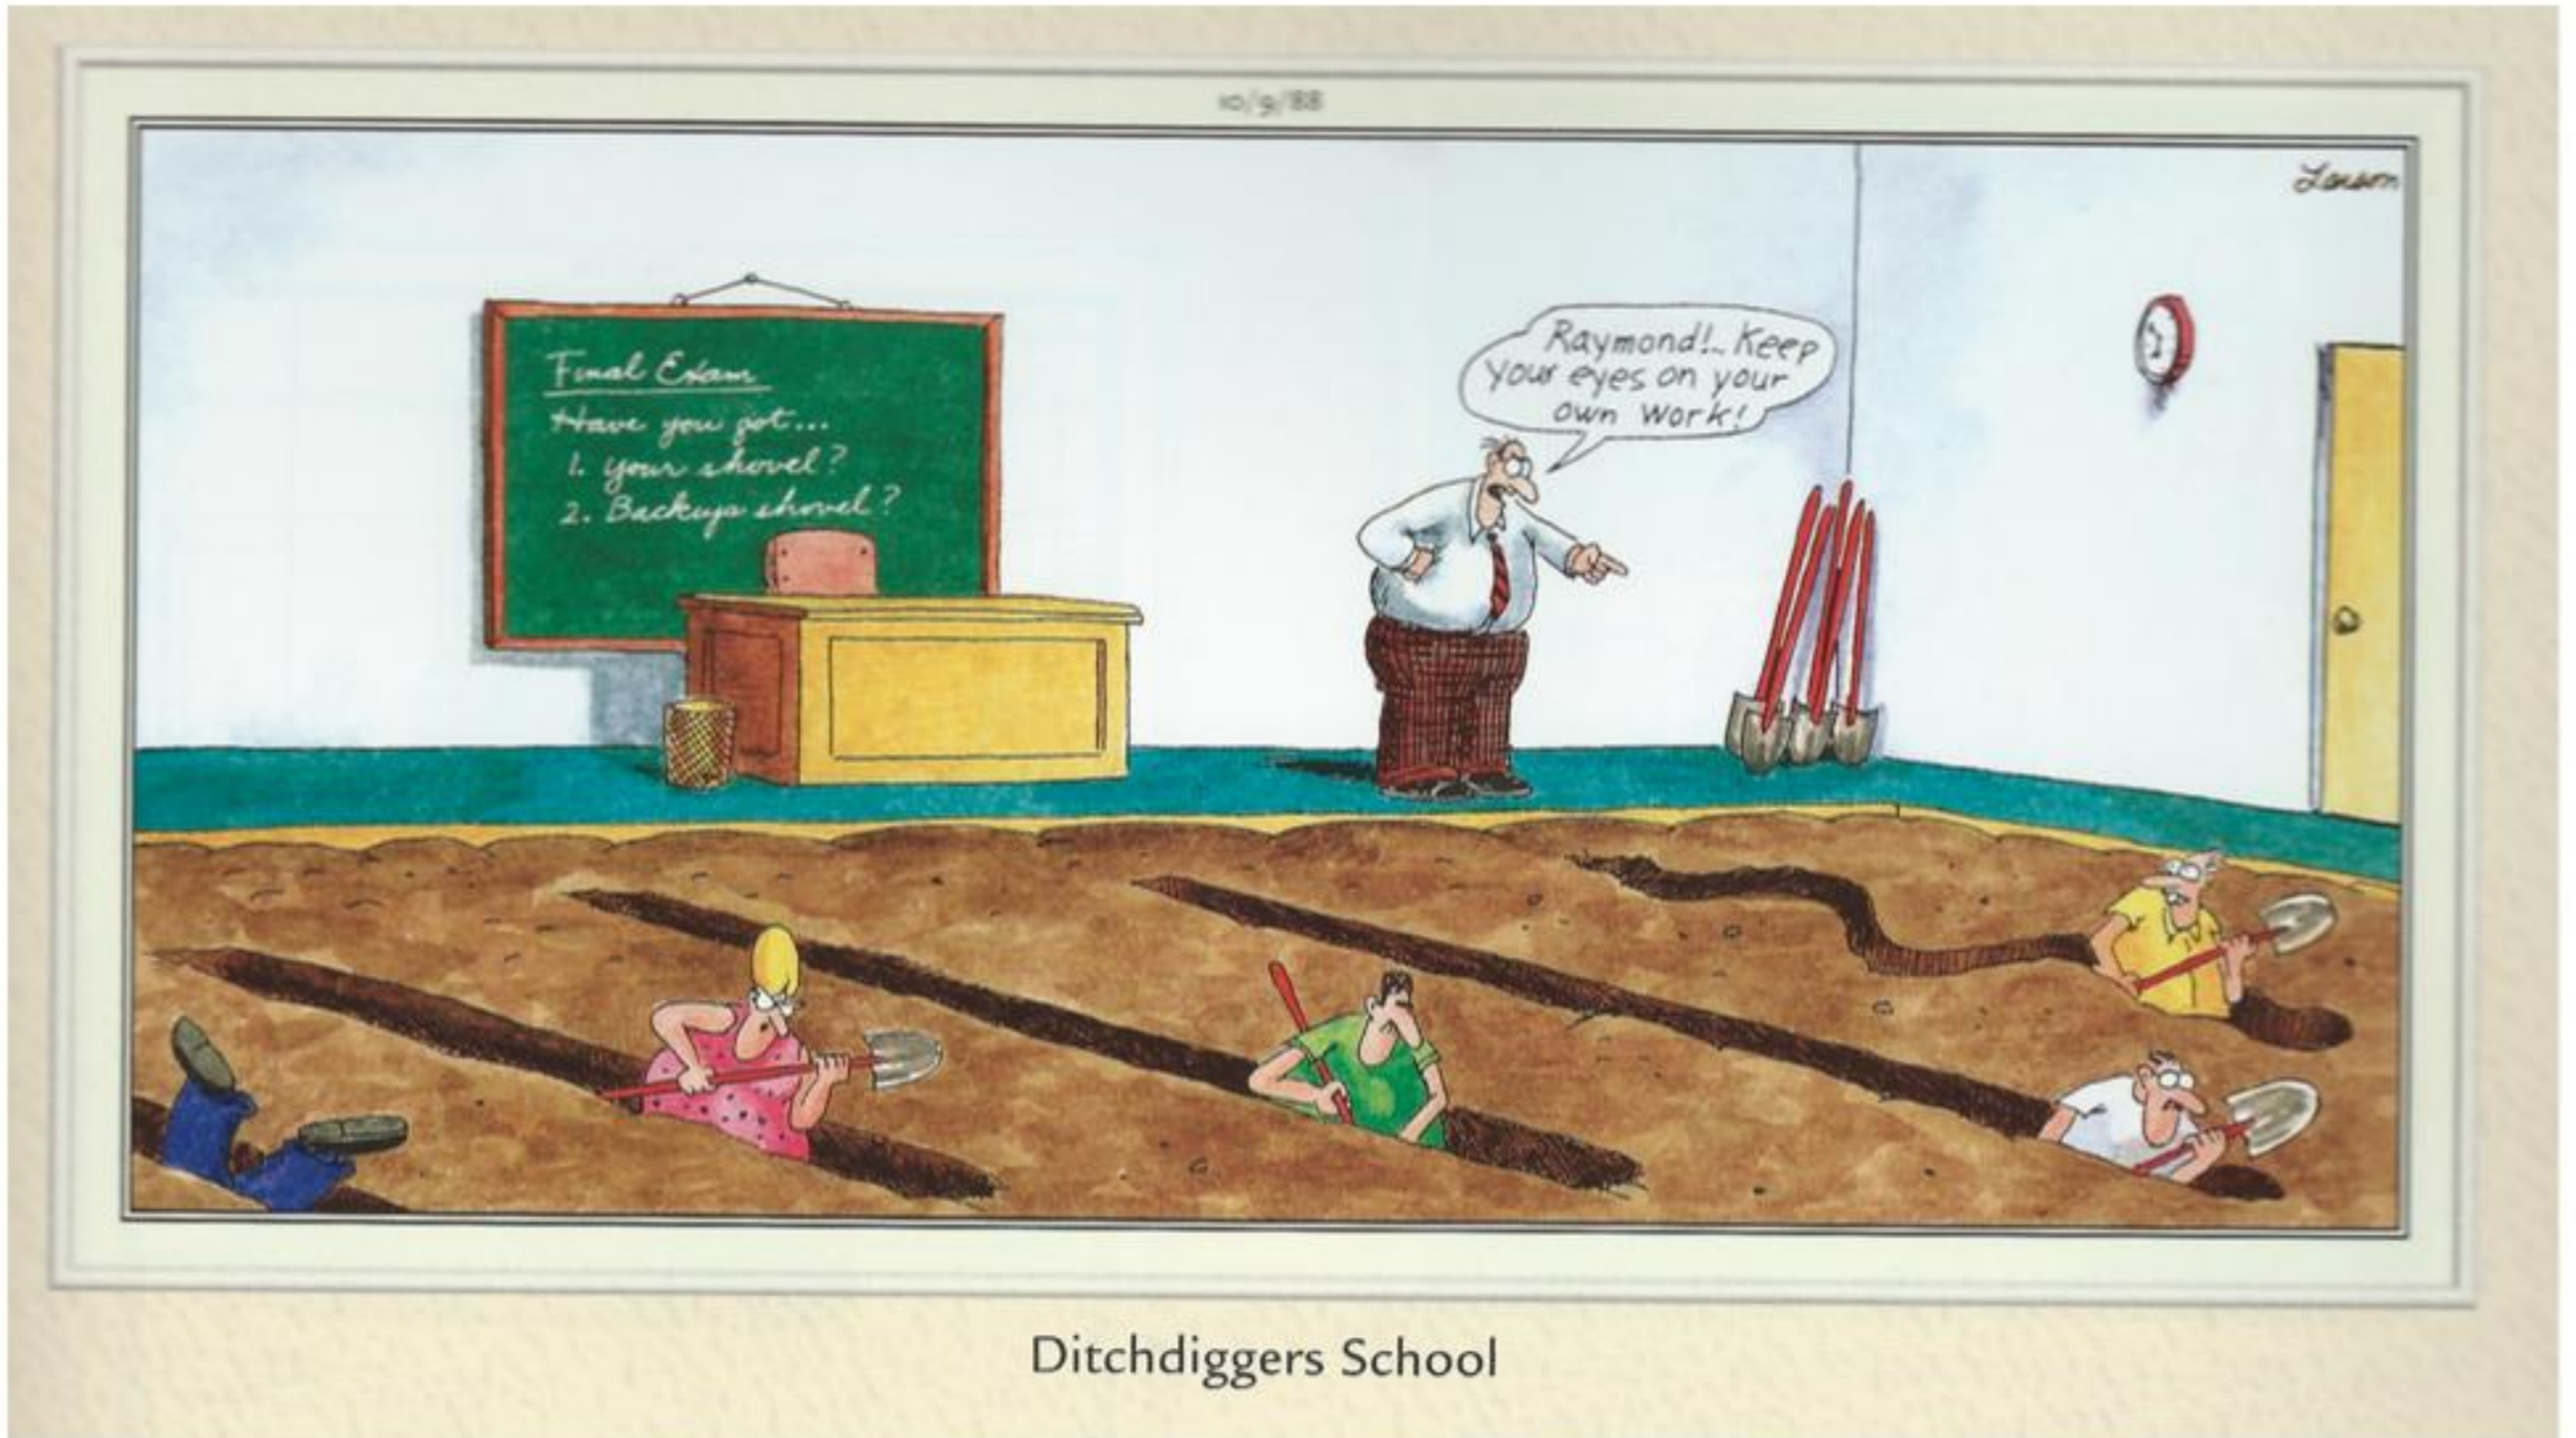

“That’s fine,’ I said. ‘Good nose,’ I said.
But no, you had to go and hit the
chisel one more time.”

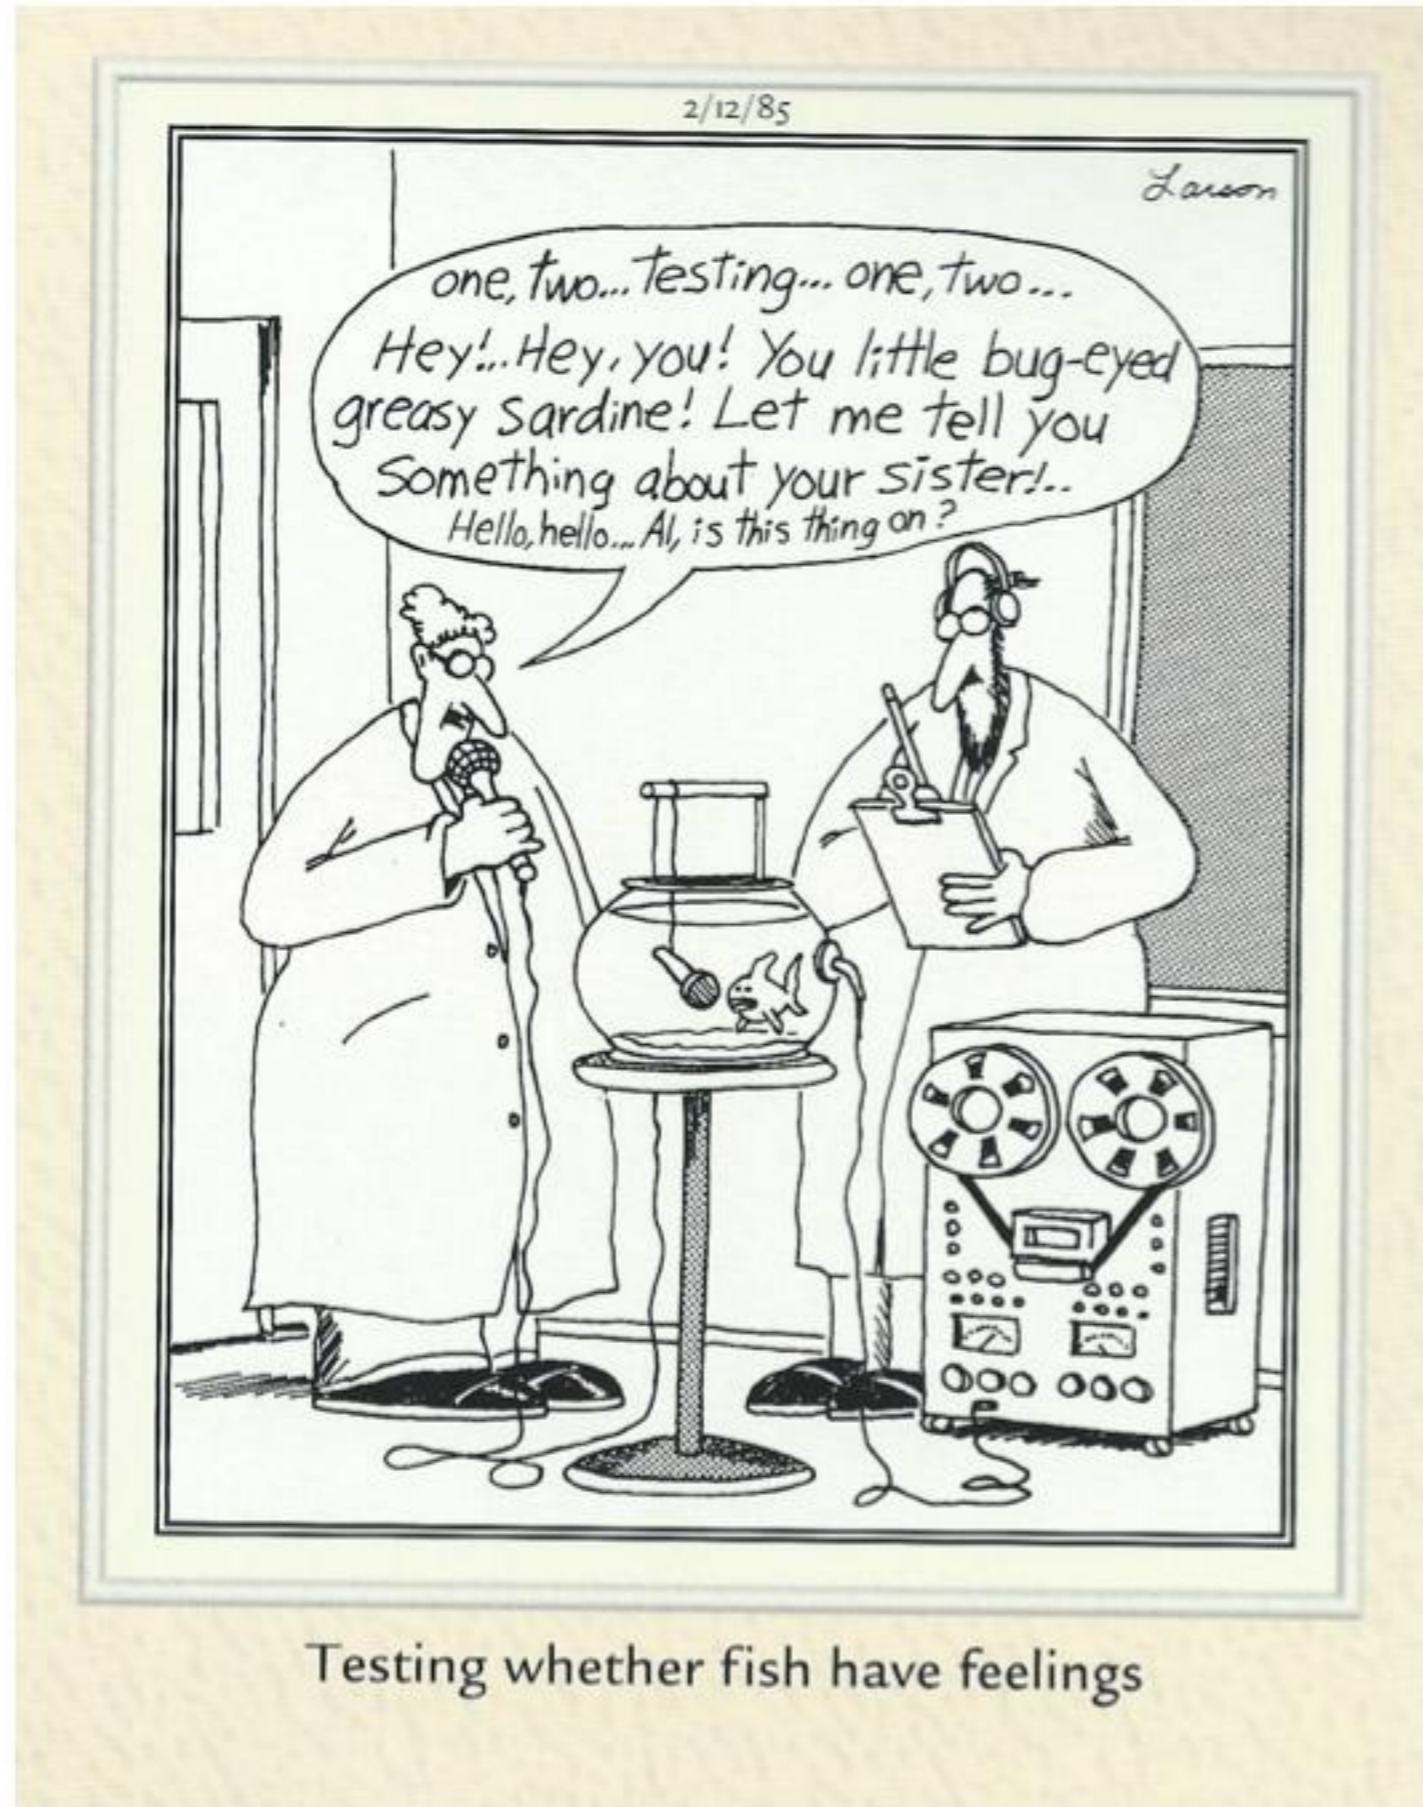

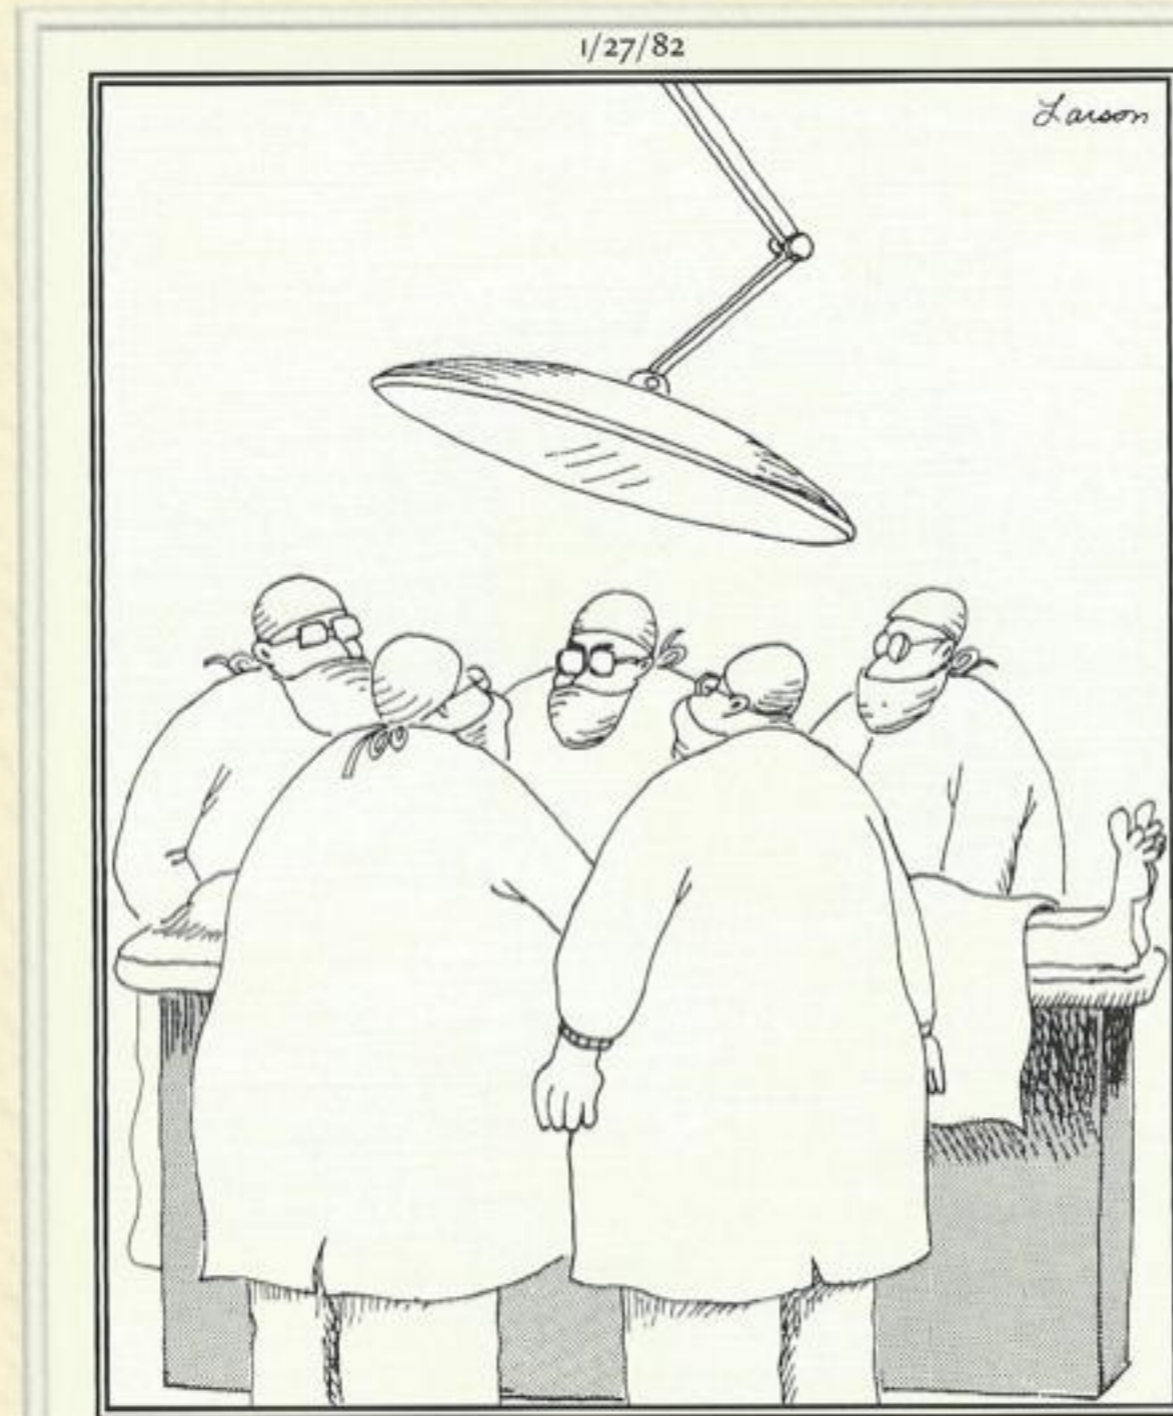

“Mr. Osborne, may I be excused? My brain is full.”

10

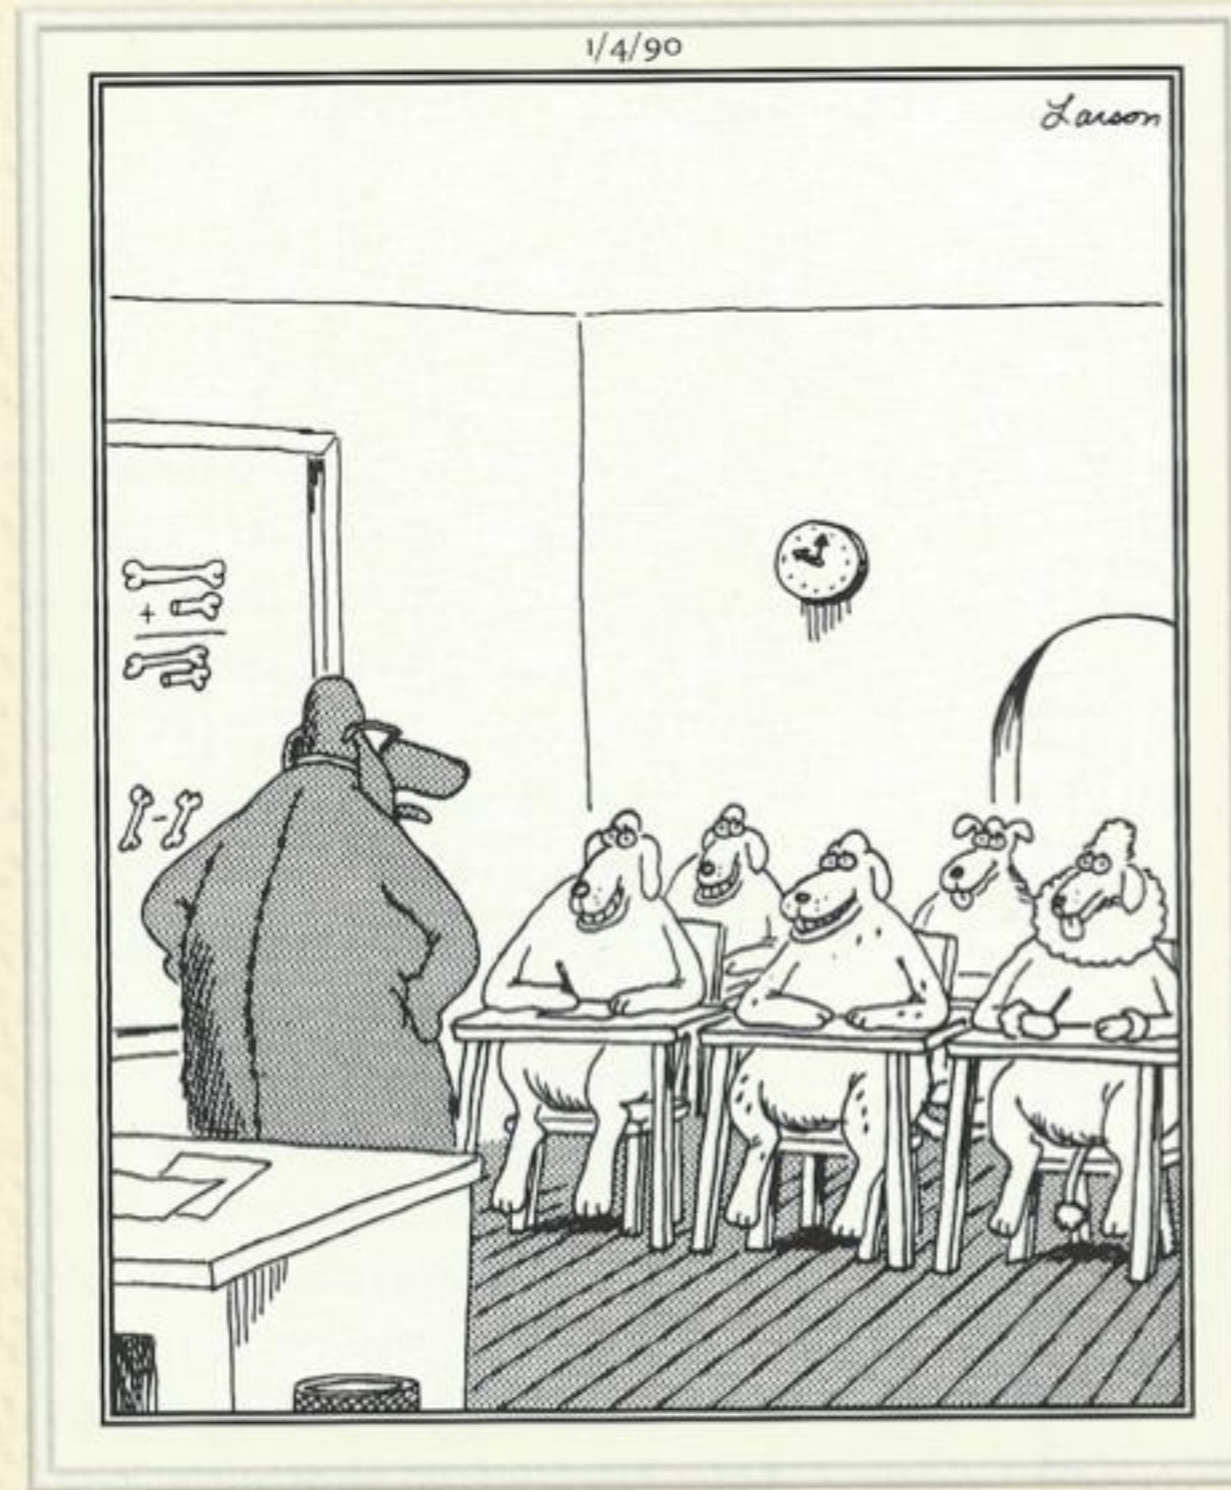

15

“Okay, Williams, we’ll just vote. ... How many here say the heart has four chambers?”

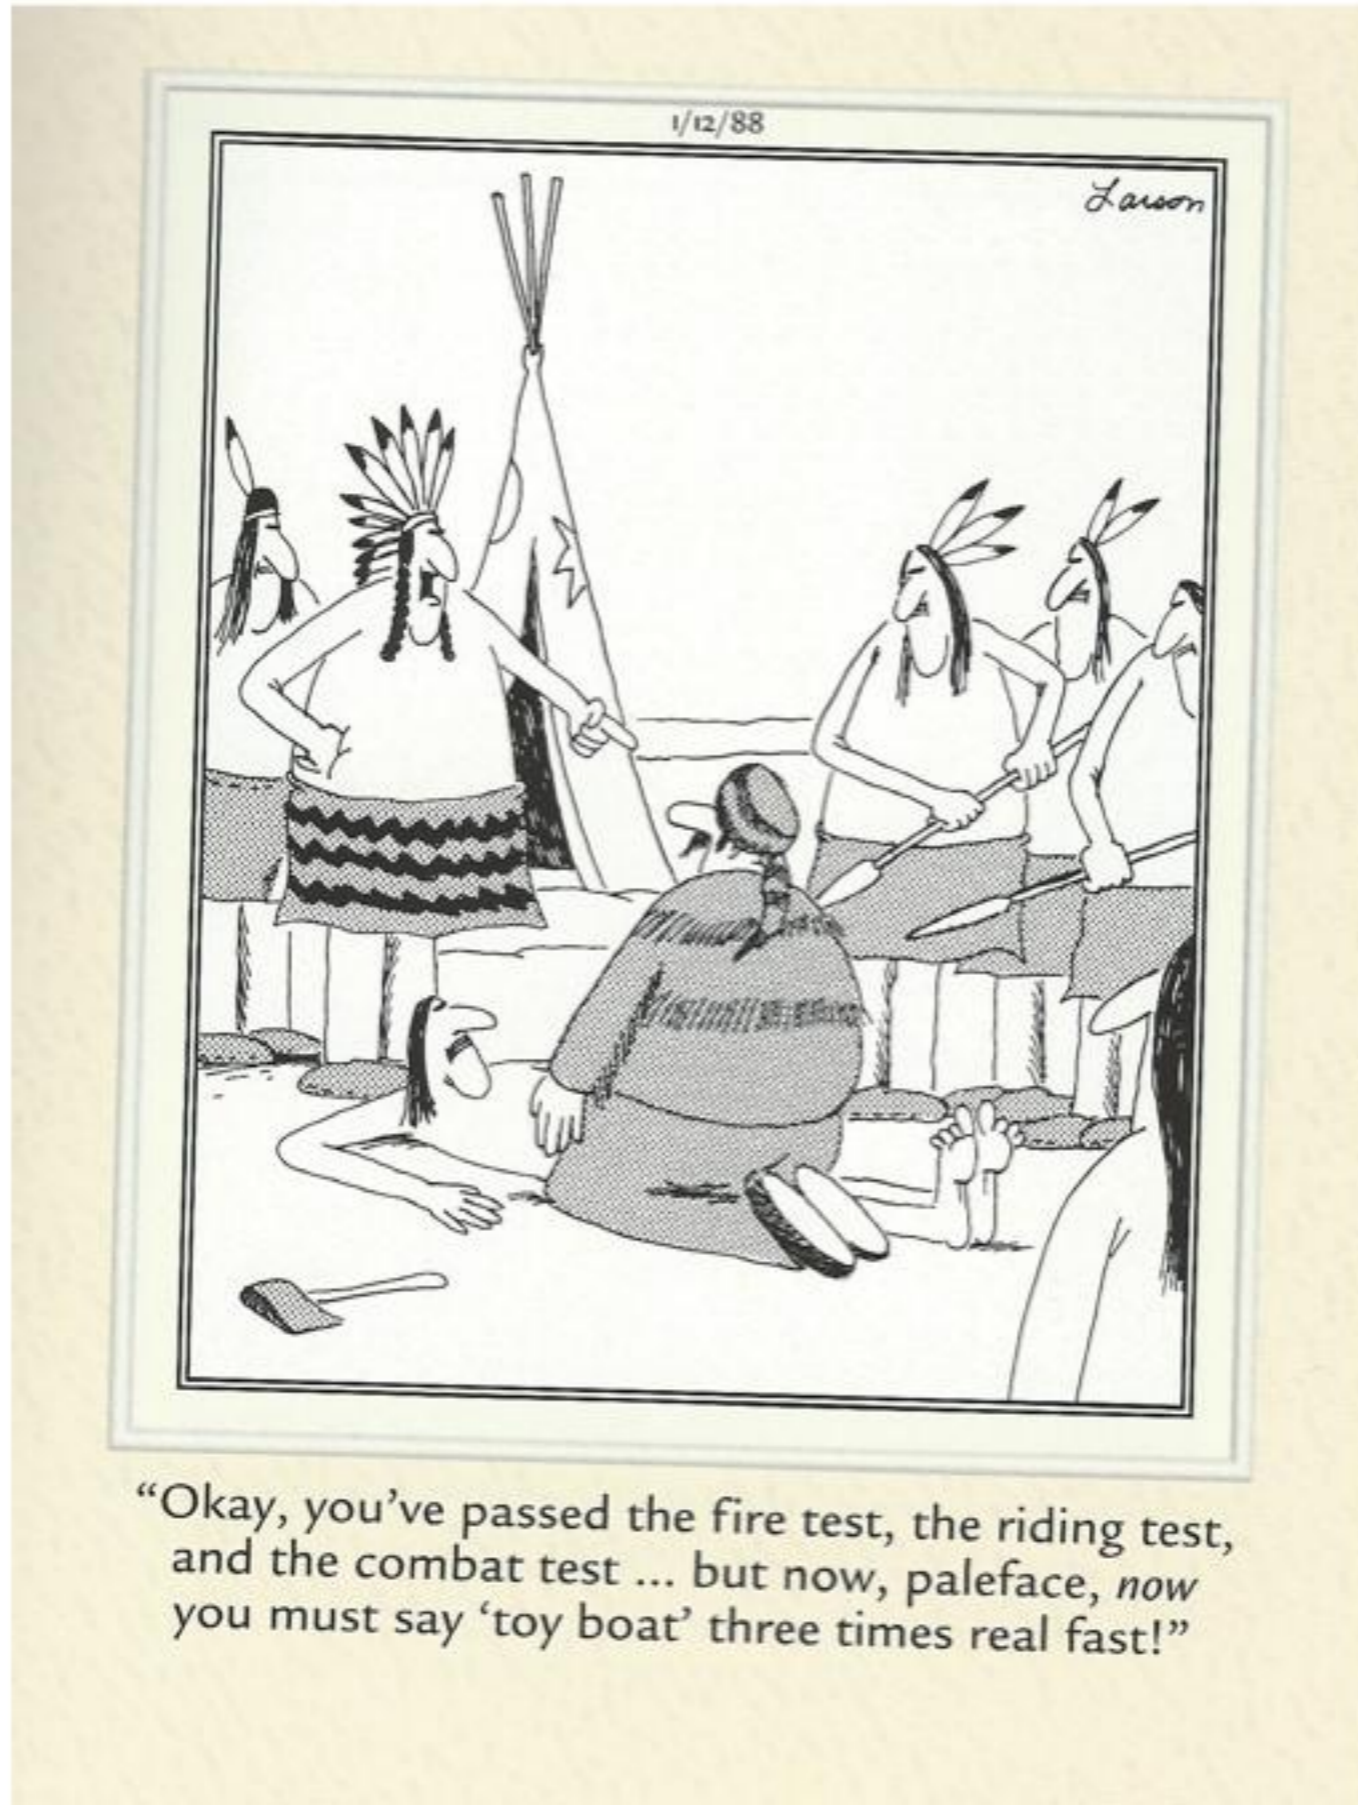

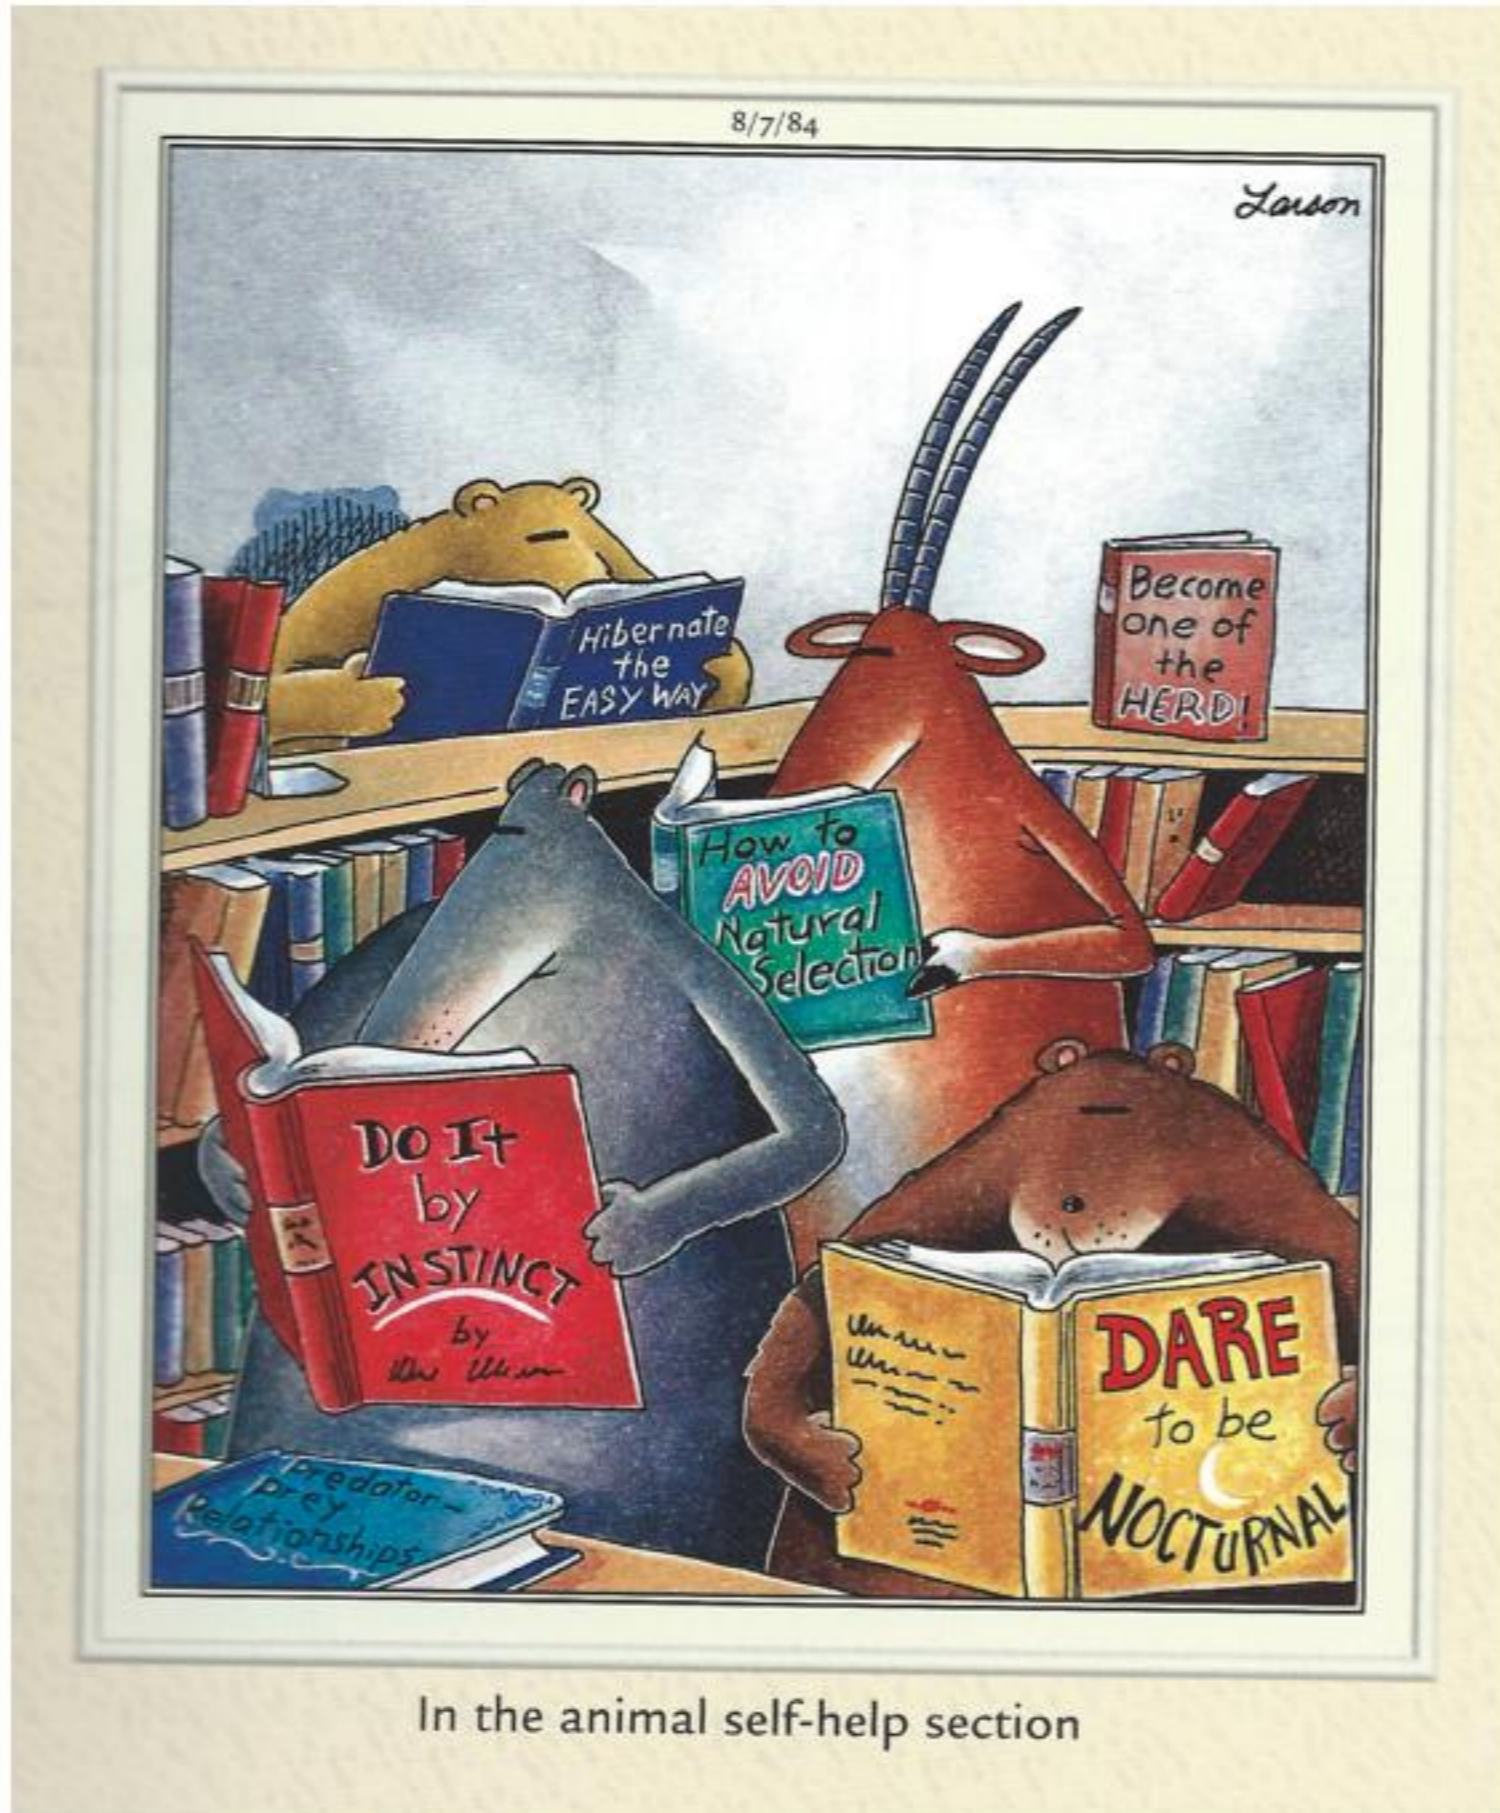

“Well, here we go again. ... Did anyone here not eat his or her homework on the way to school?”

18

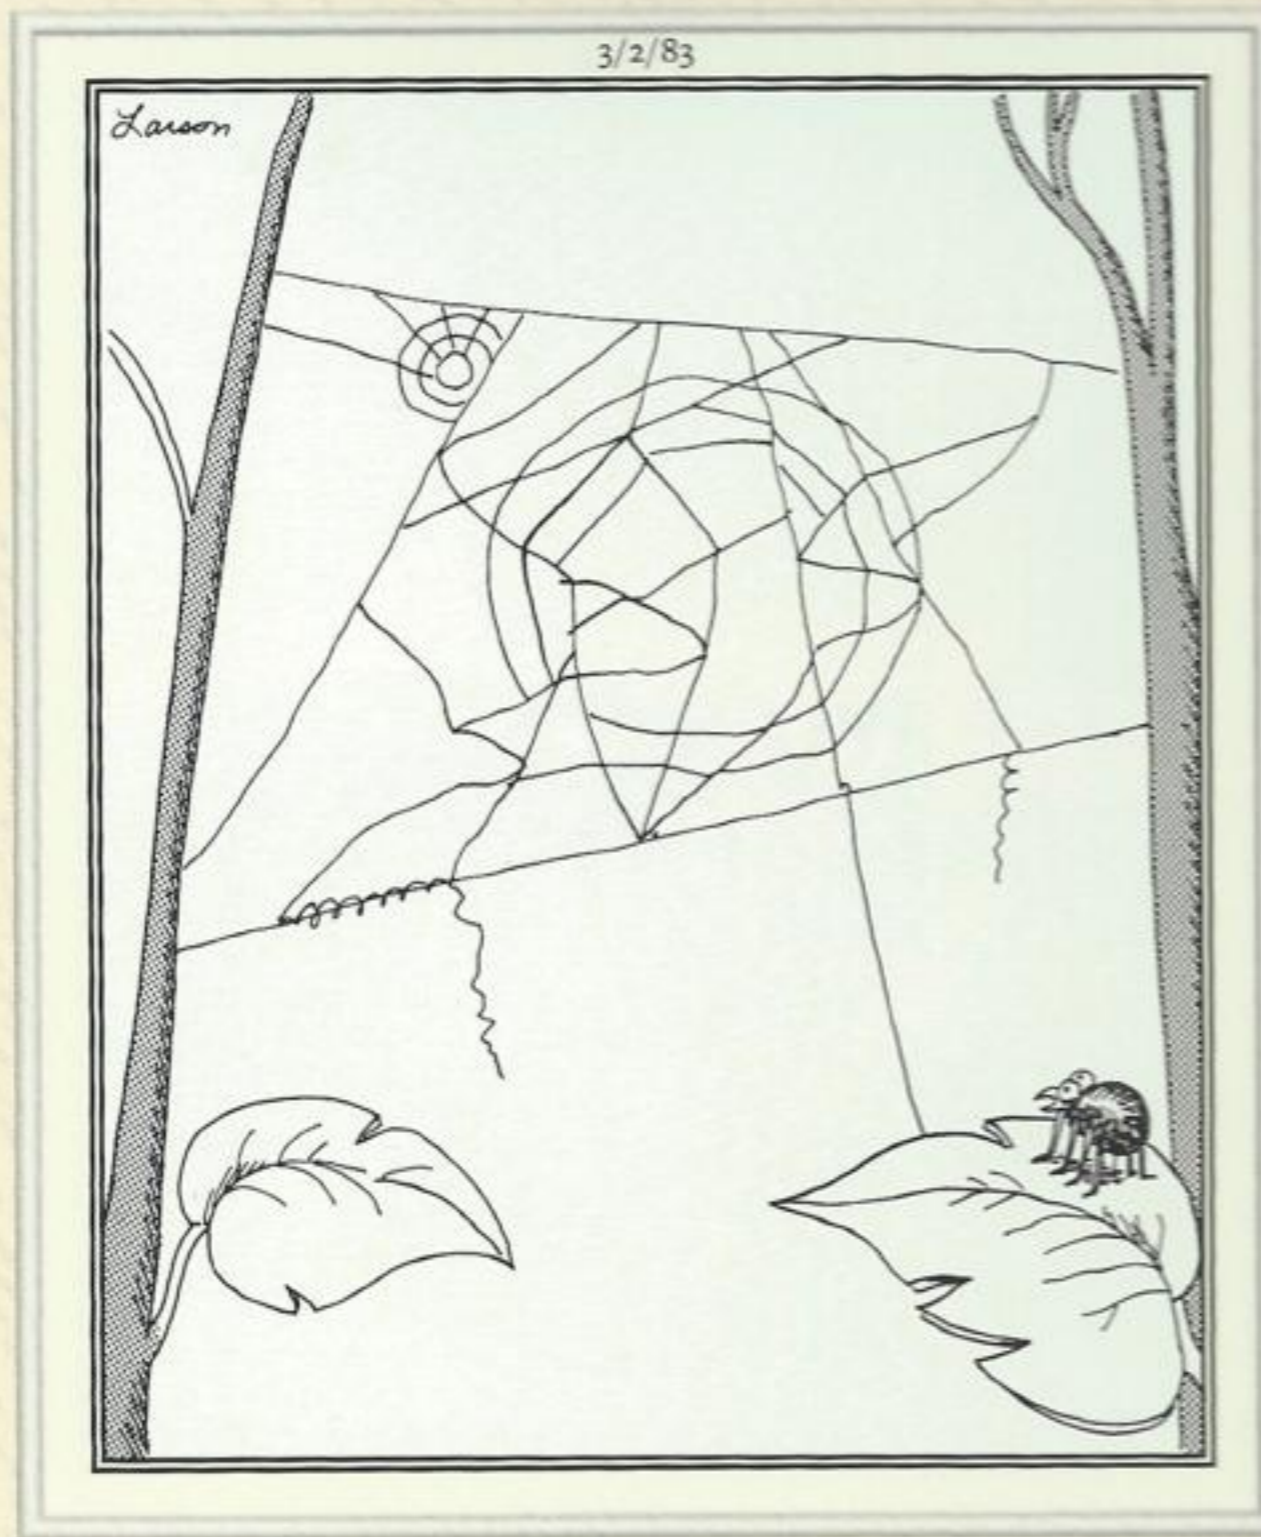

“Okay, Bob! Go! Go!”

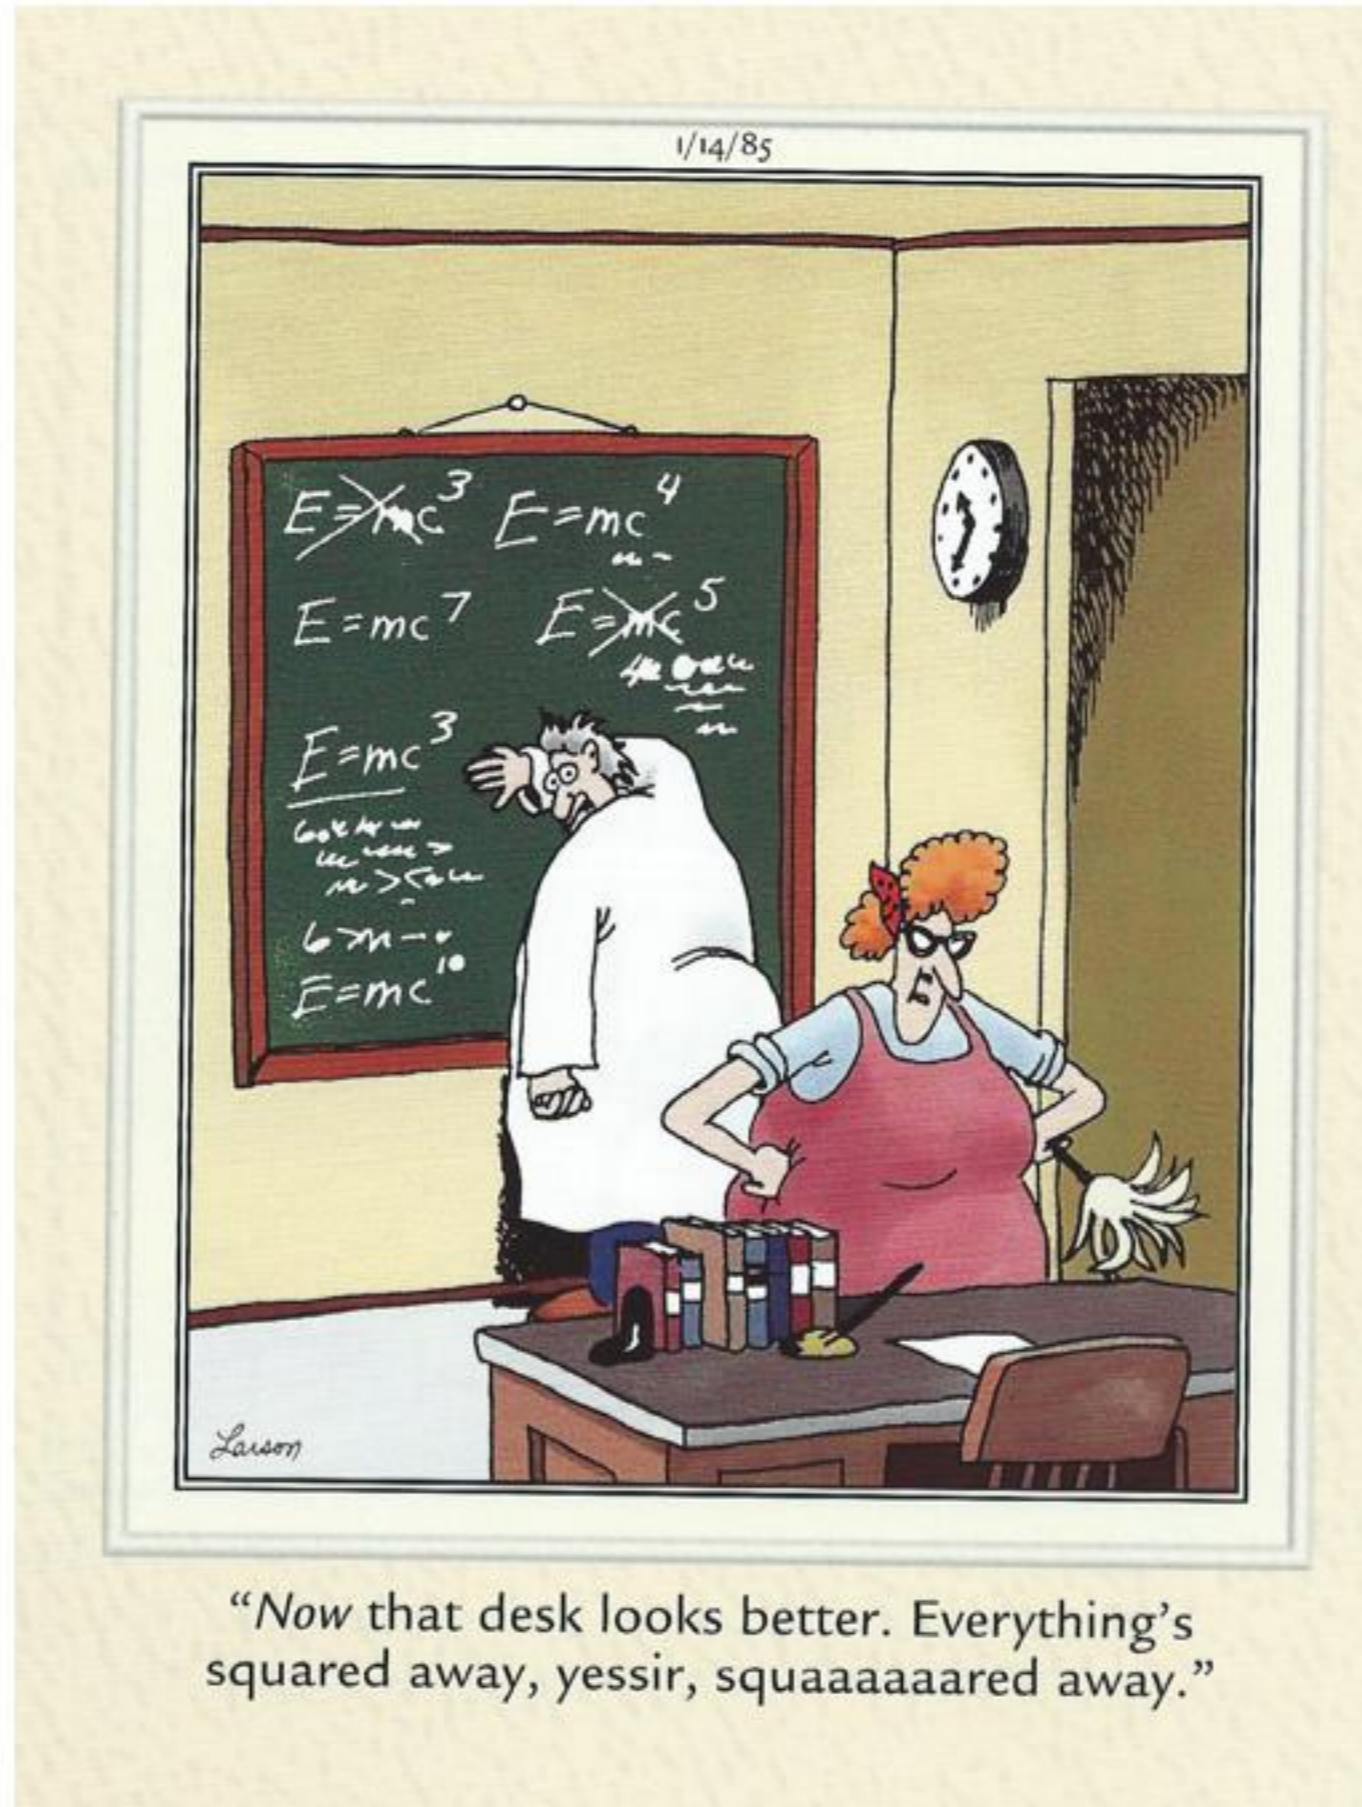

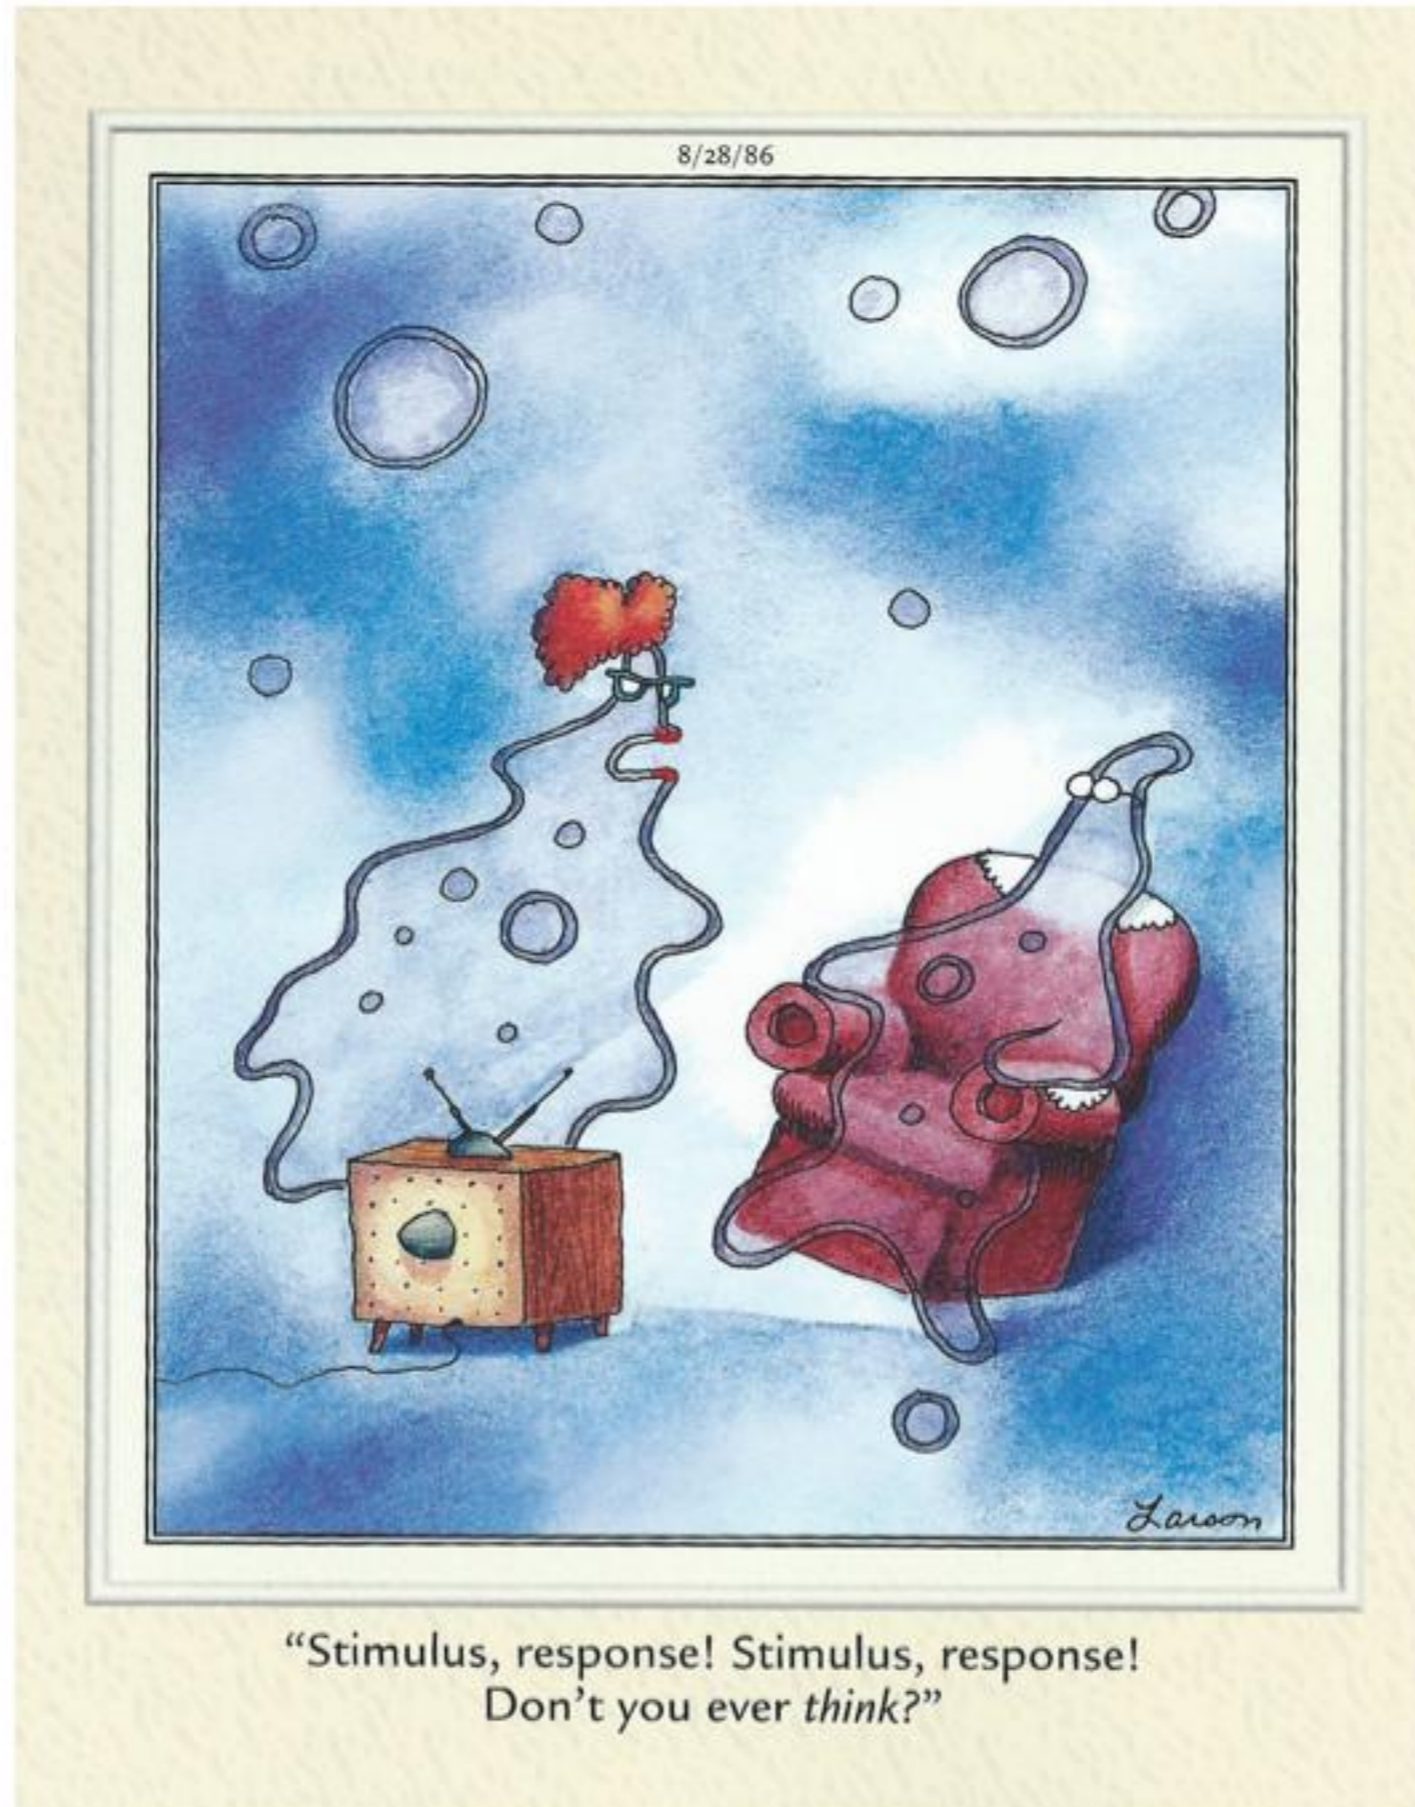

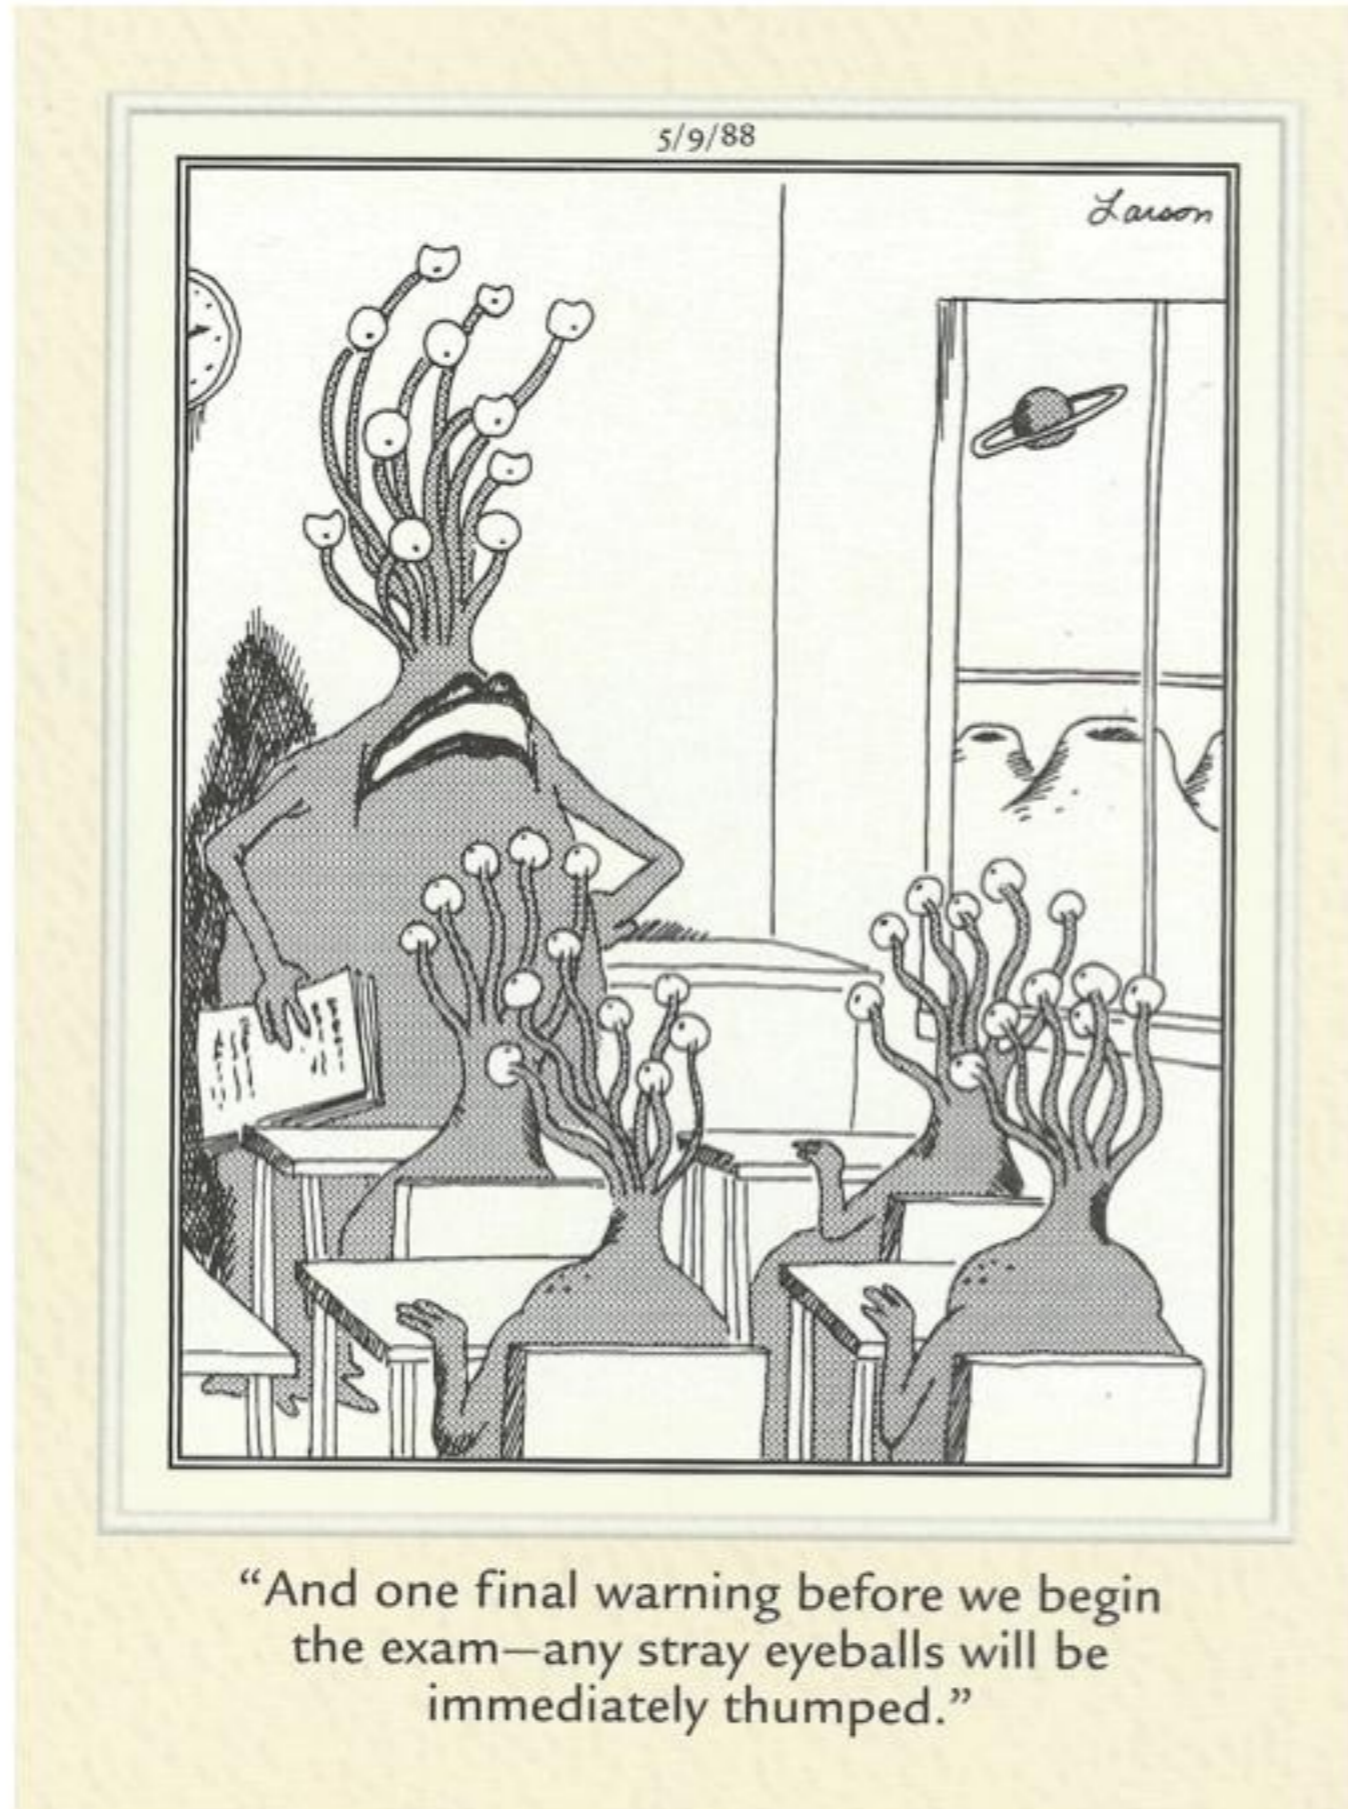

In the animal self-help section

“Whoa! ... That can't be right!”

2

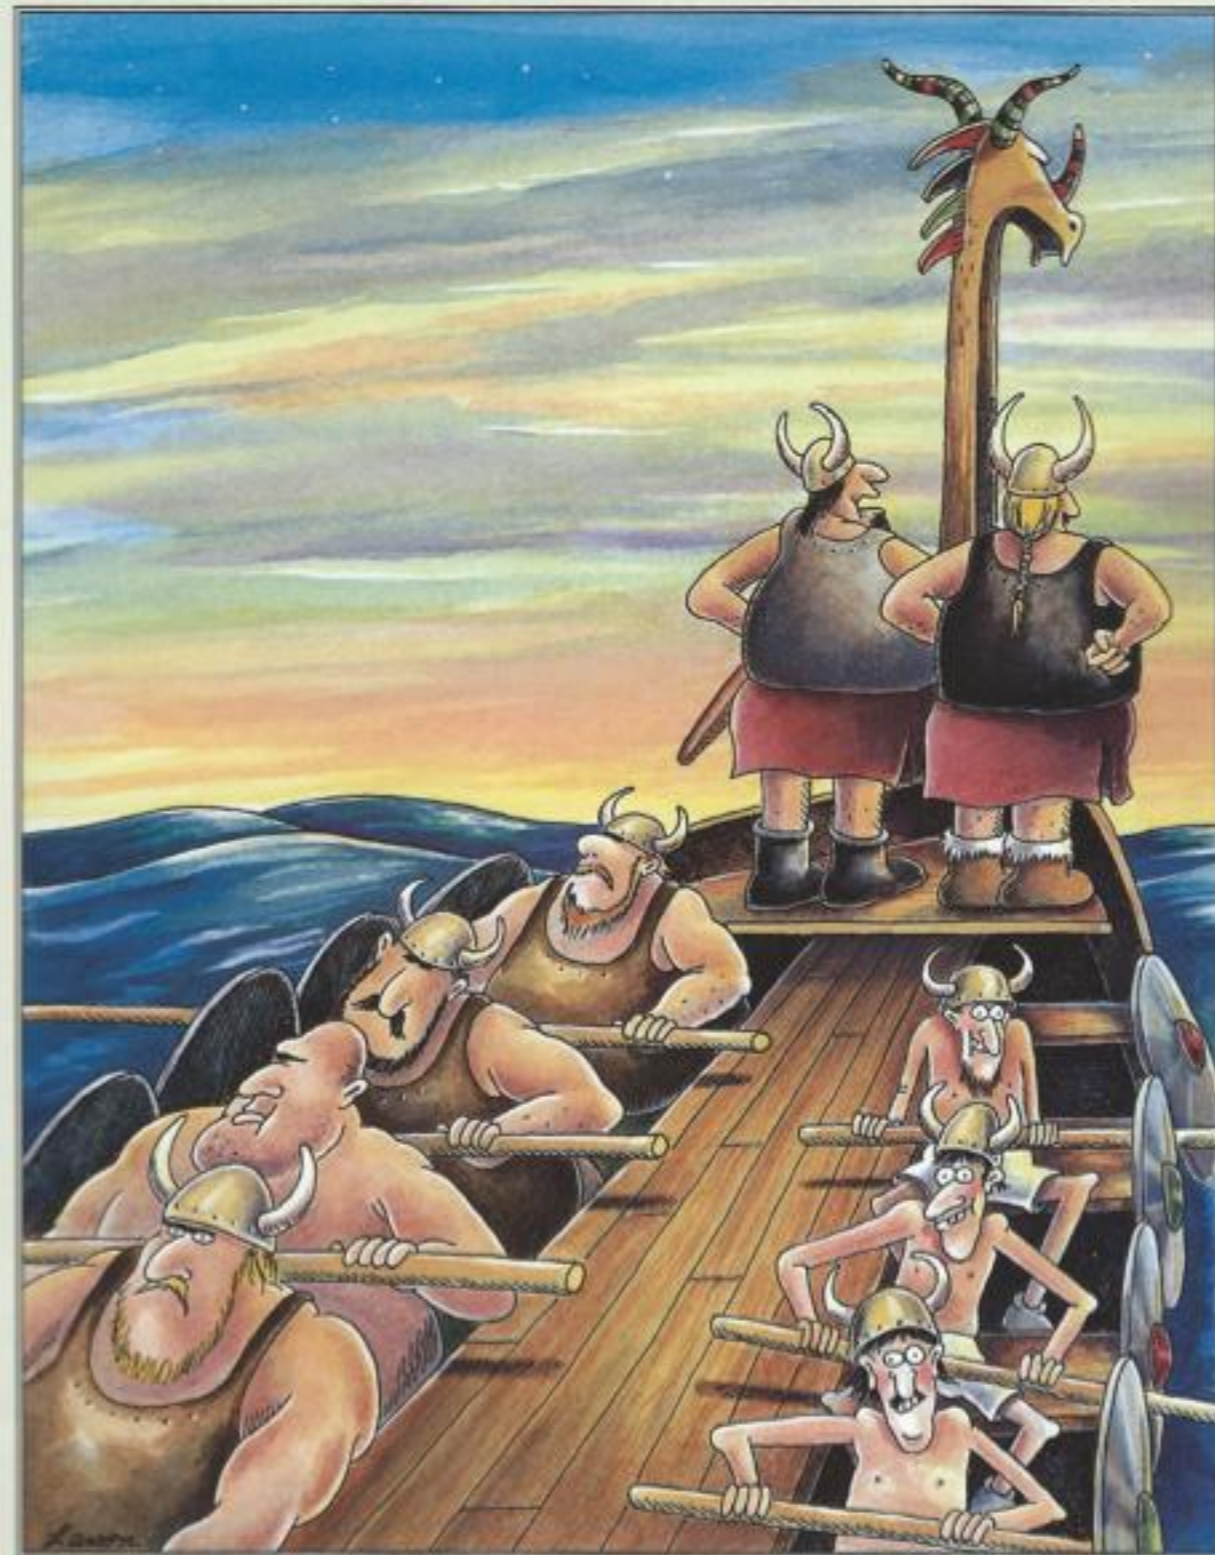

3

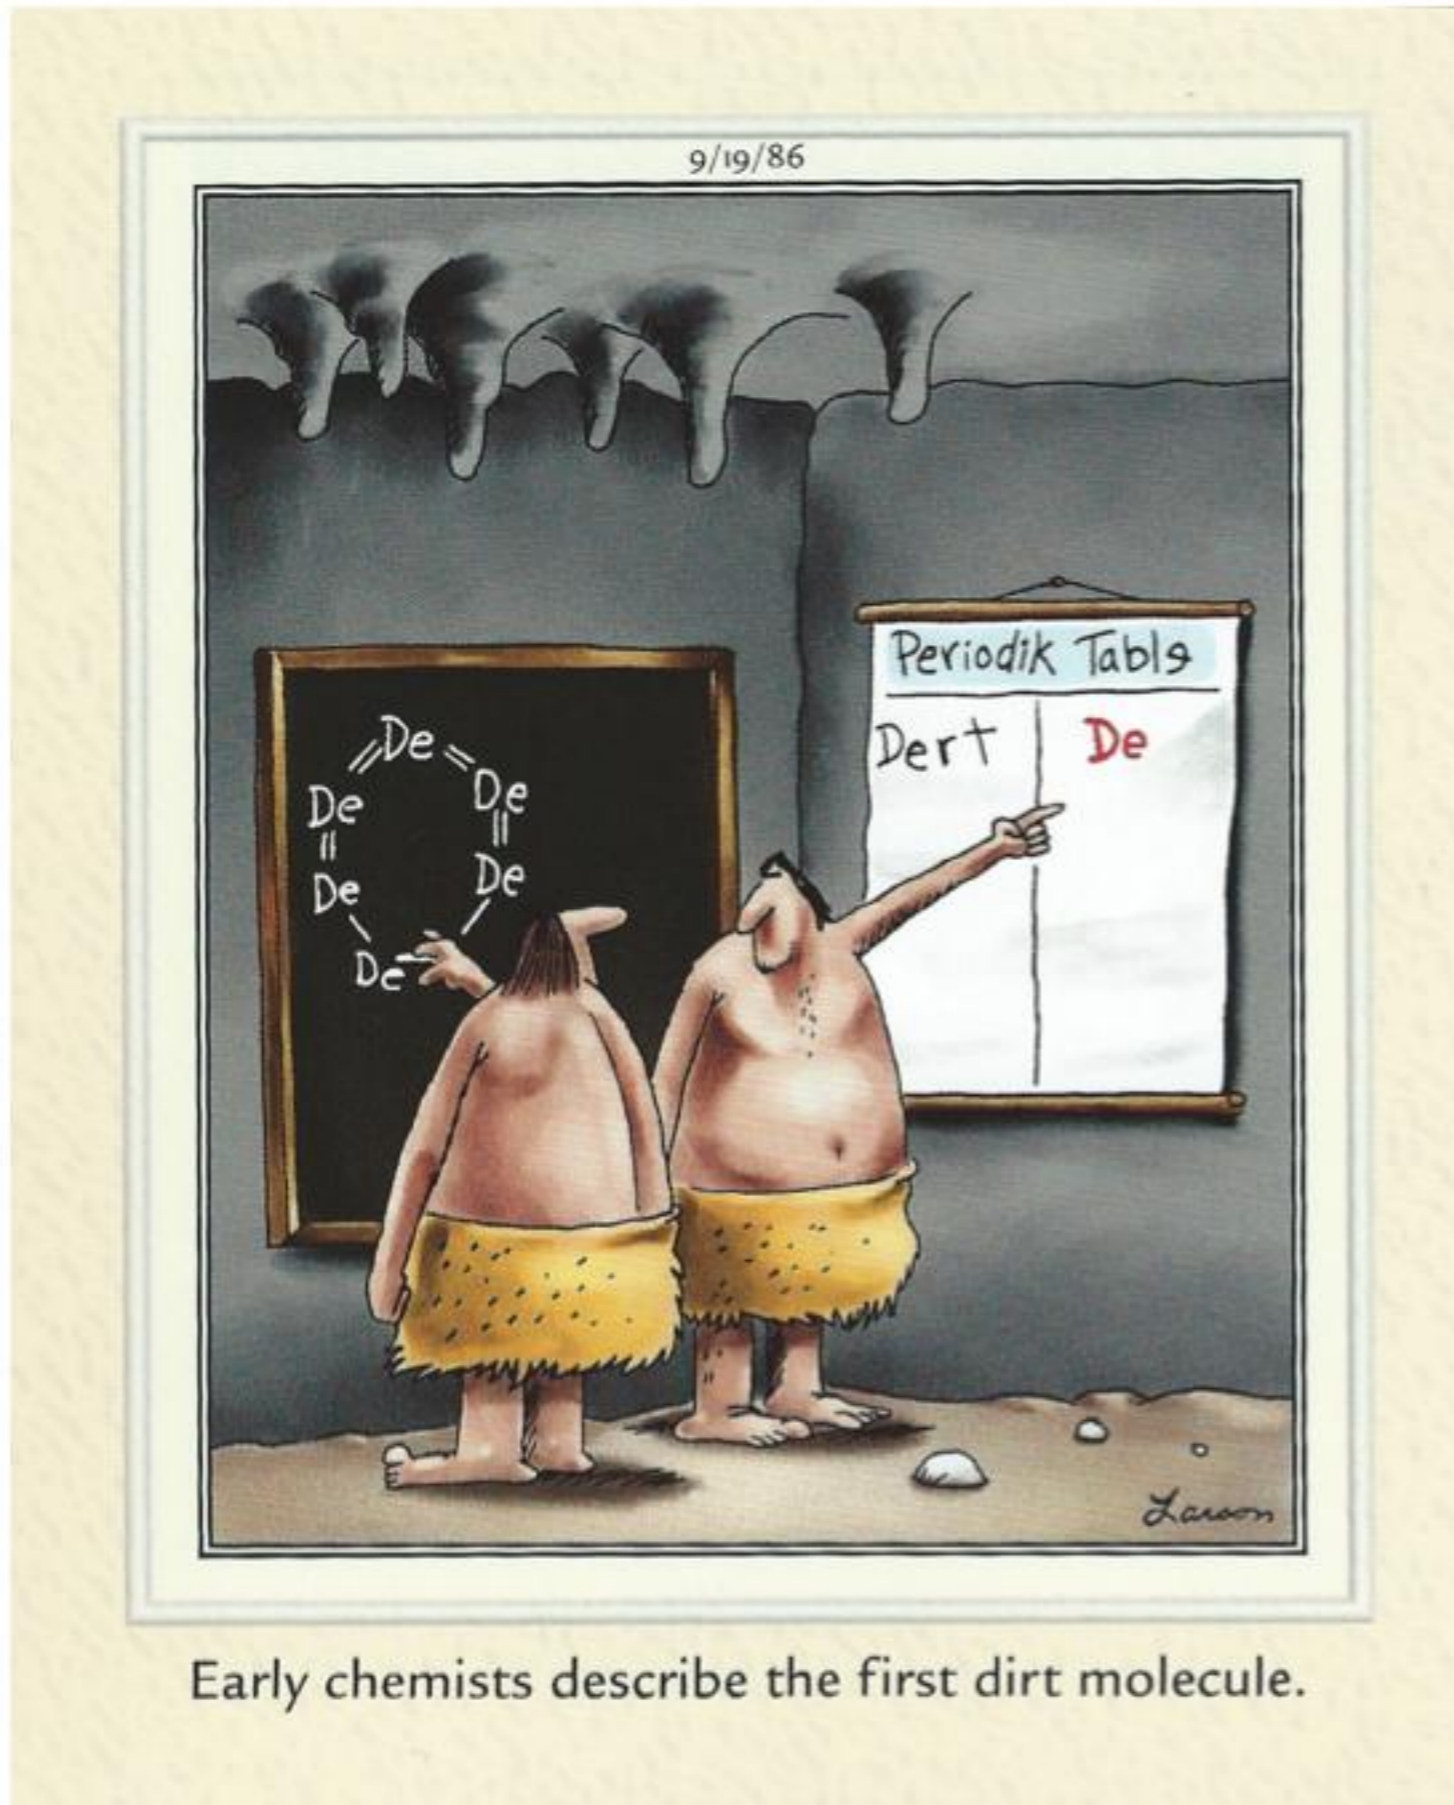

The curse of "artist's block"

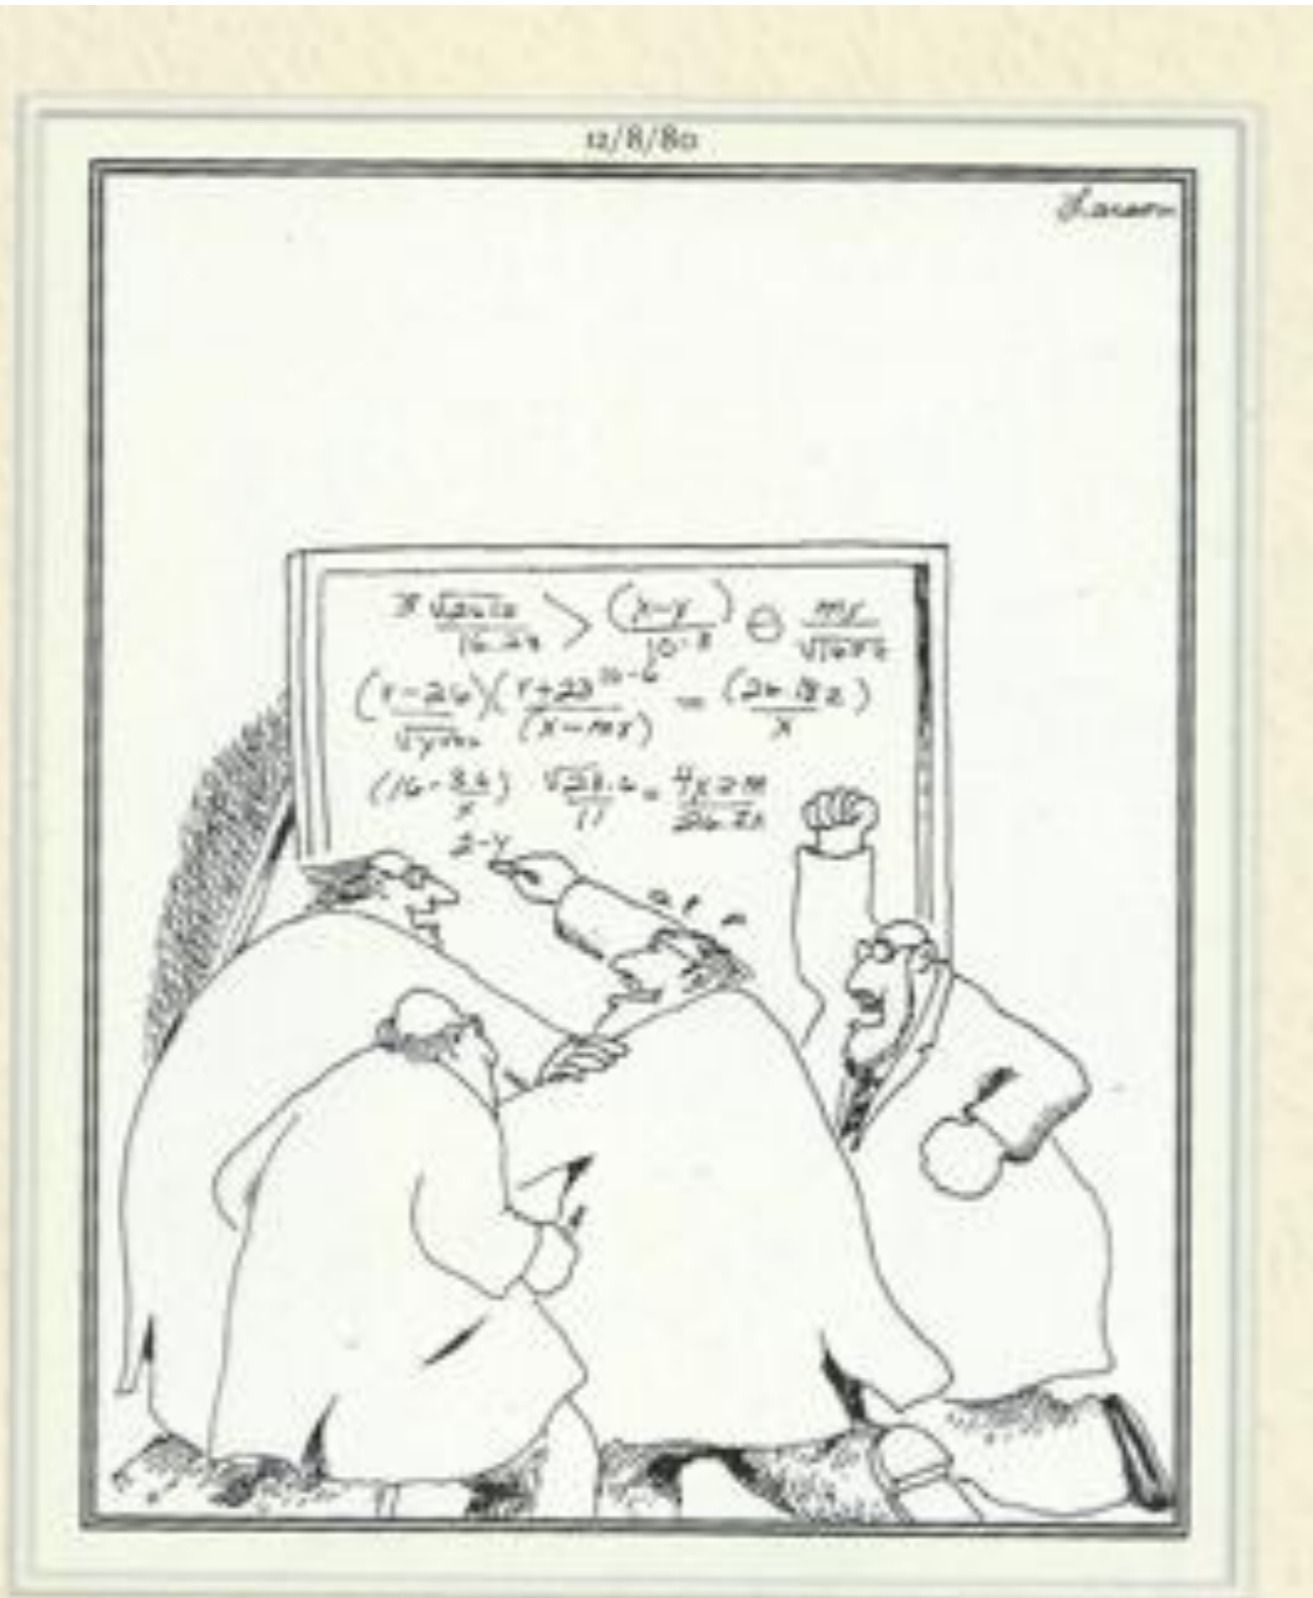

"I've got it, too, Omar ... a strange feeling like we've just been going in circles."

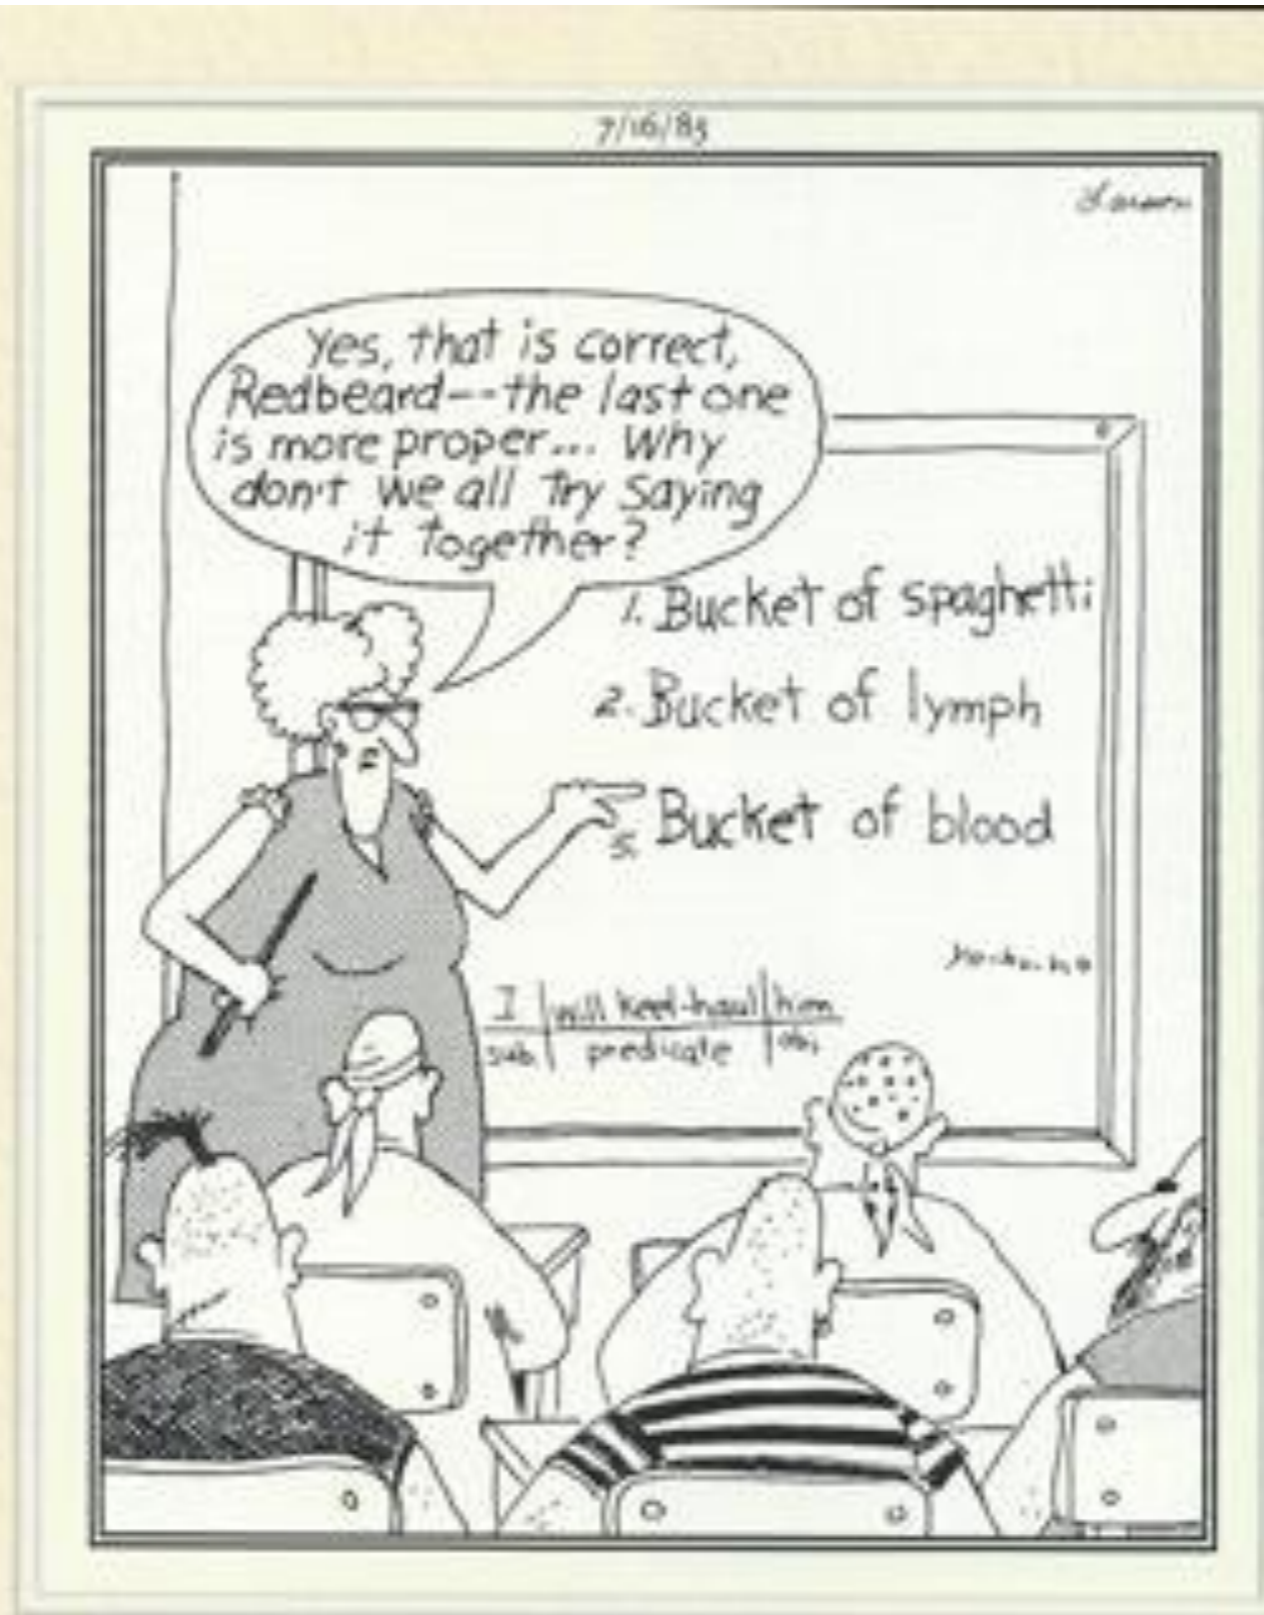

11

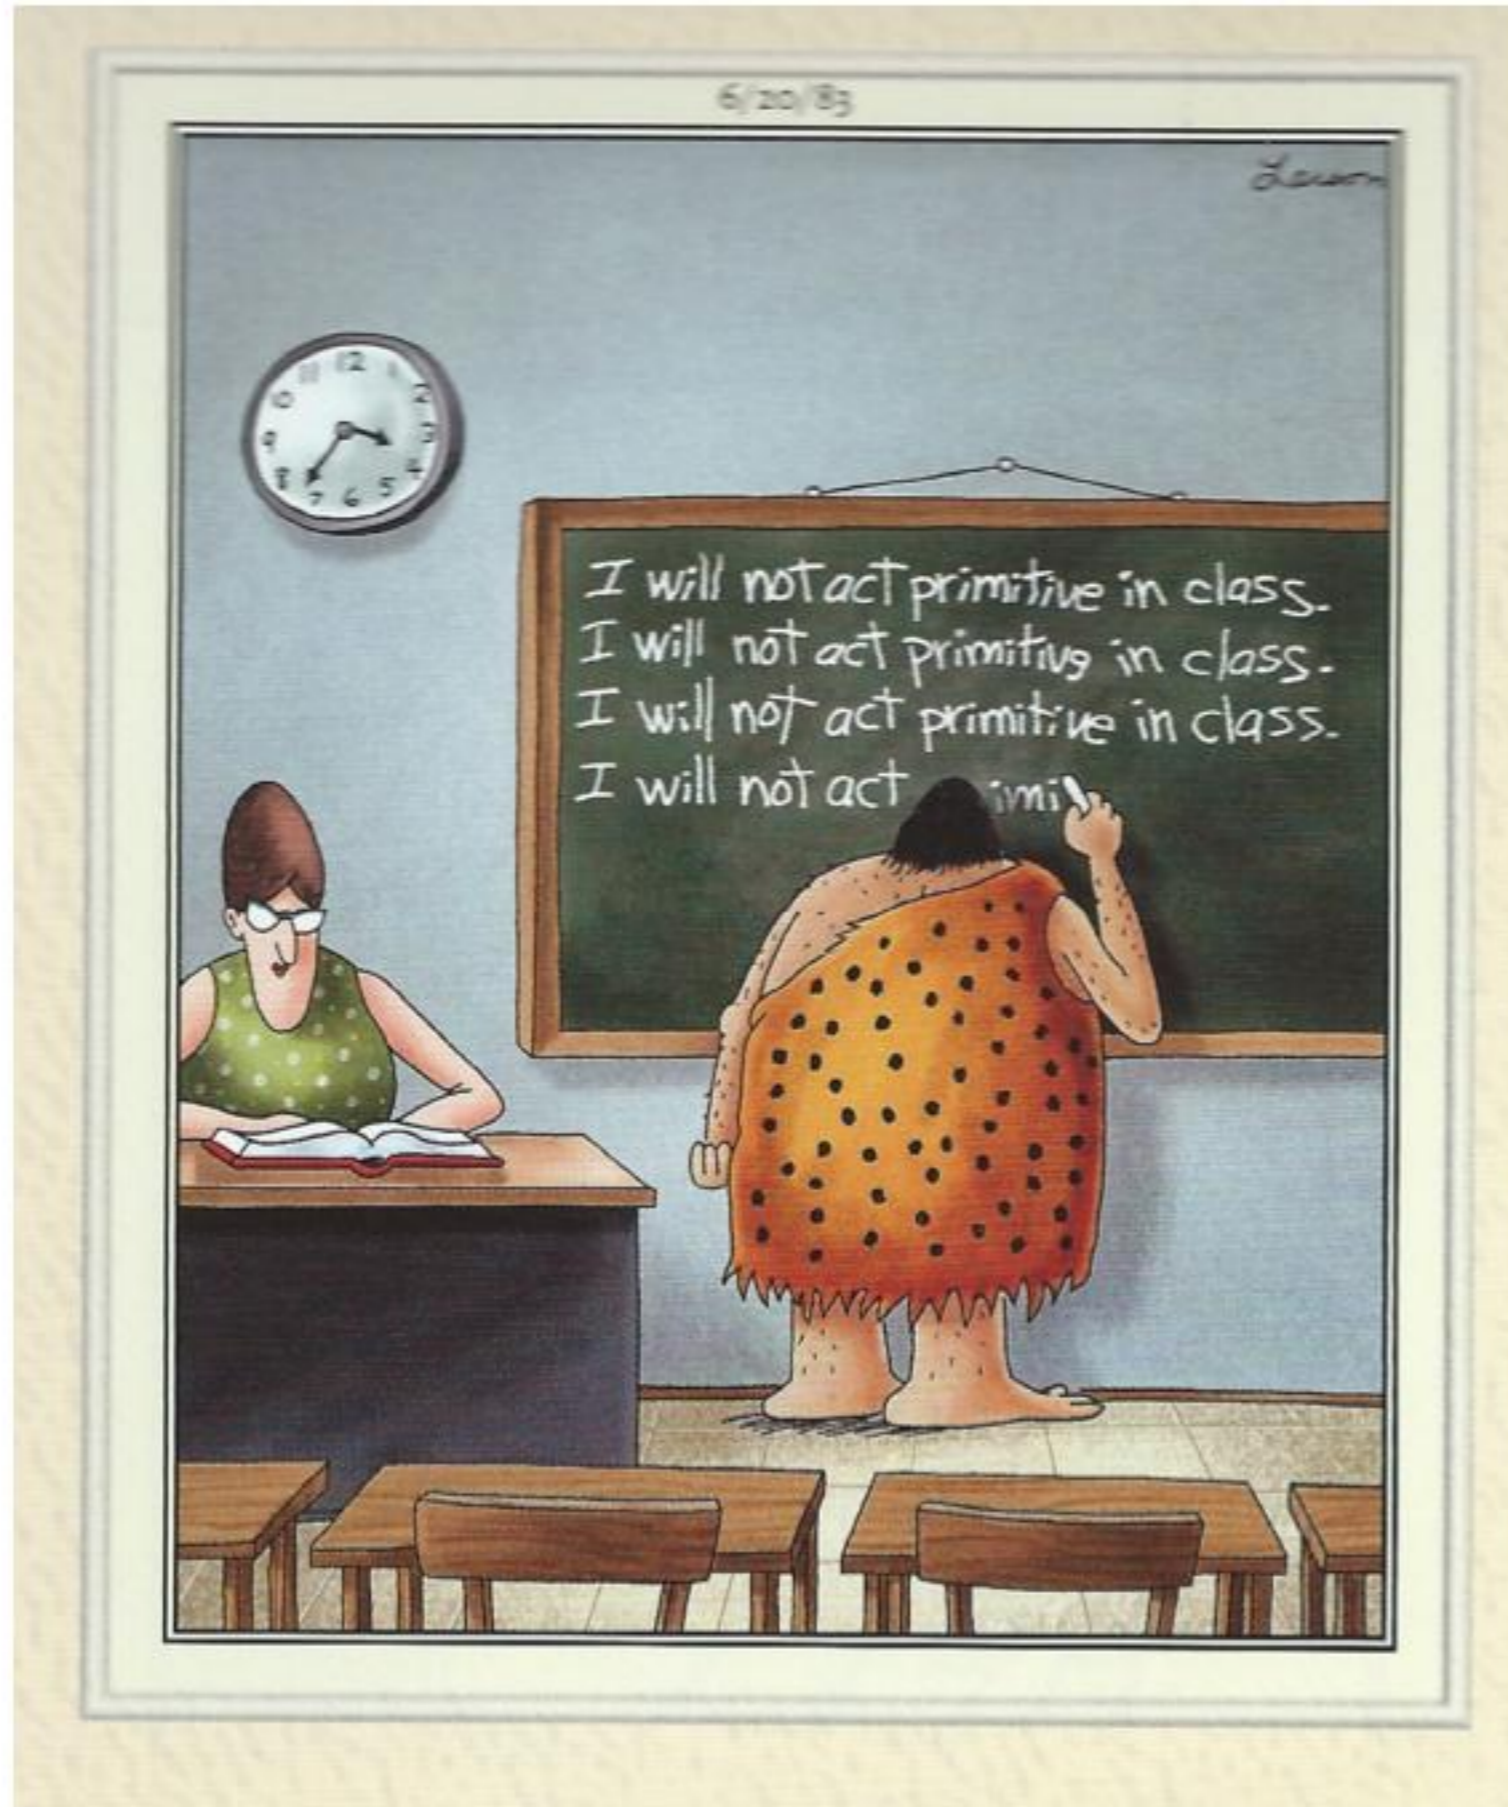

Early chemists describe the first dirt molecule.

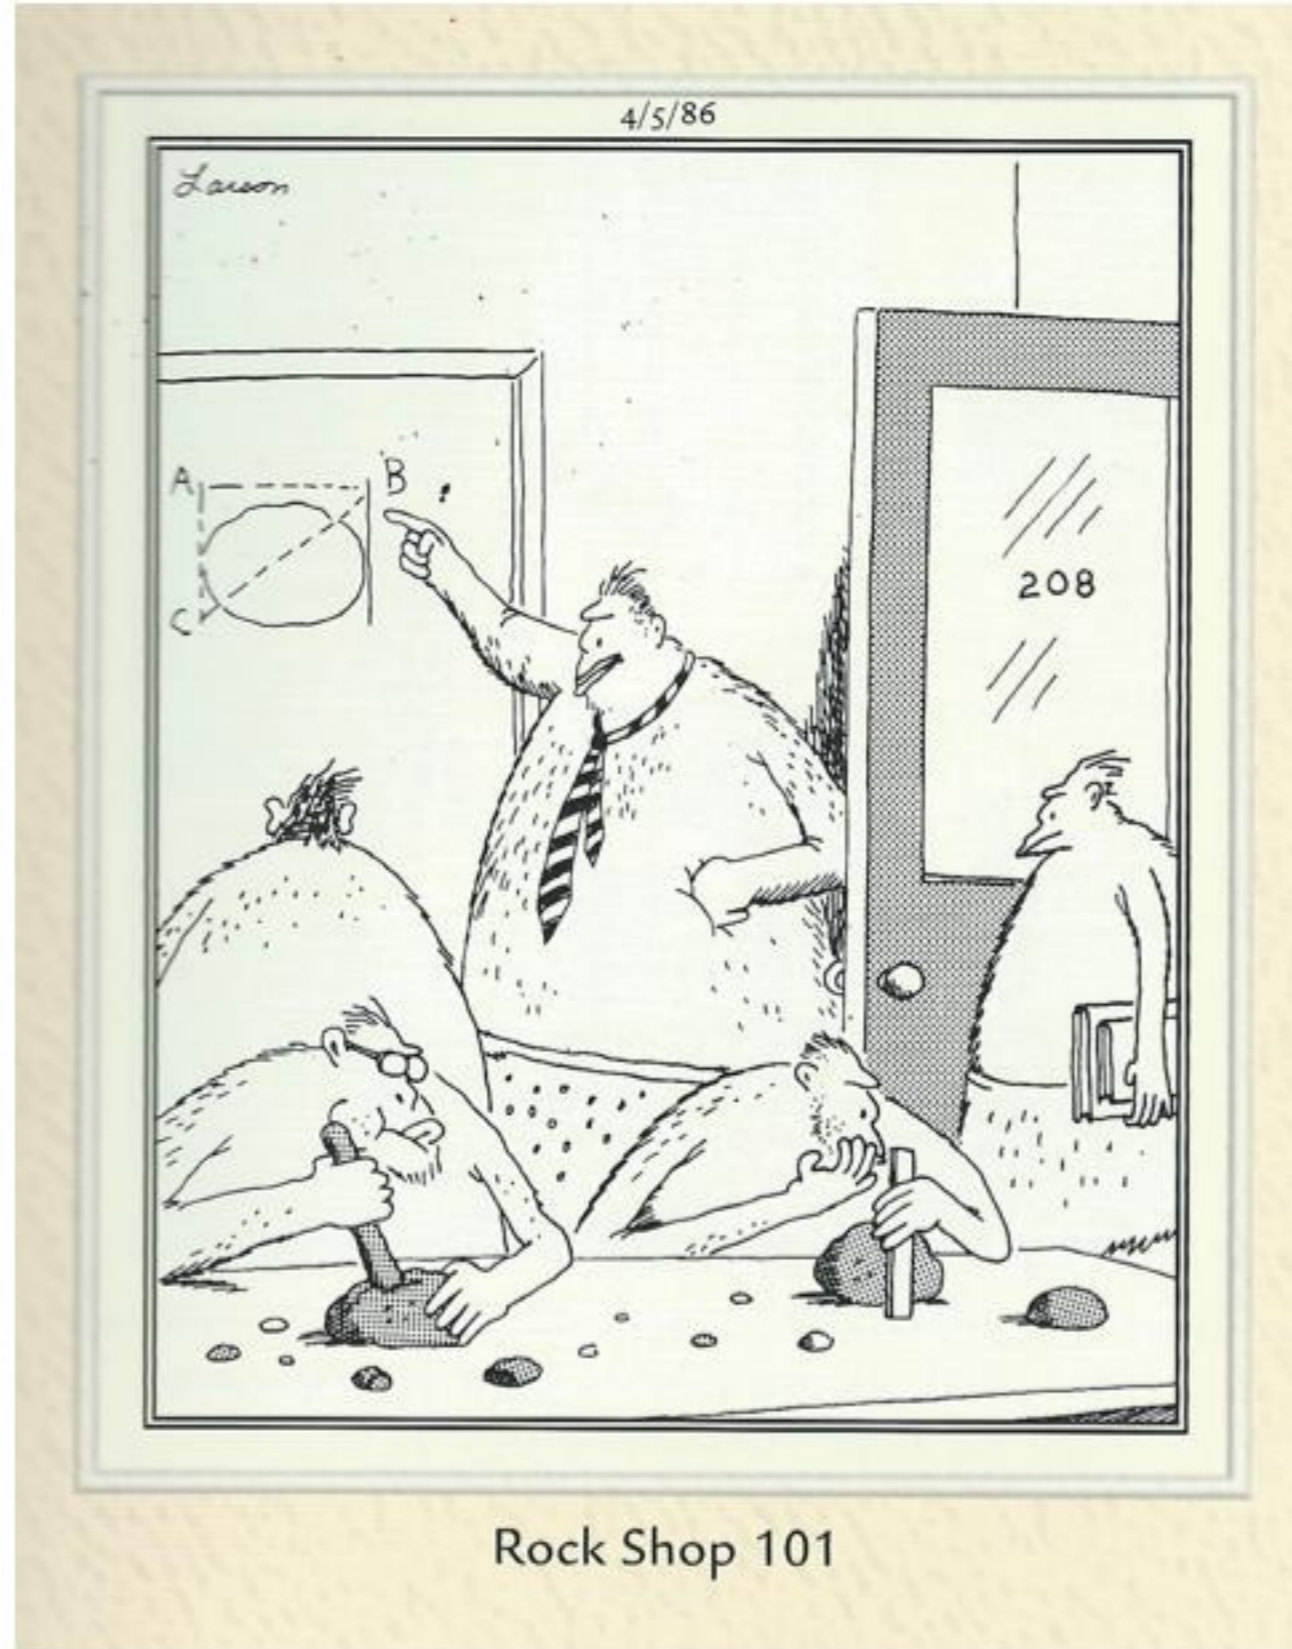

"Go for it, Sidney! You've got it! You've got it!
Good hands! Don't choke!"

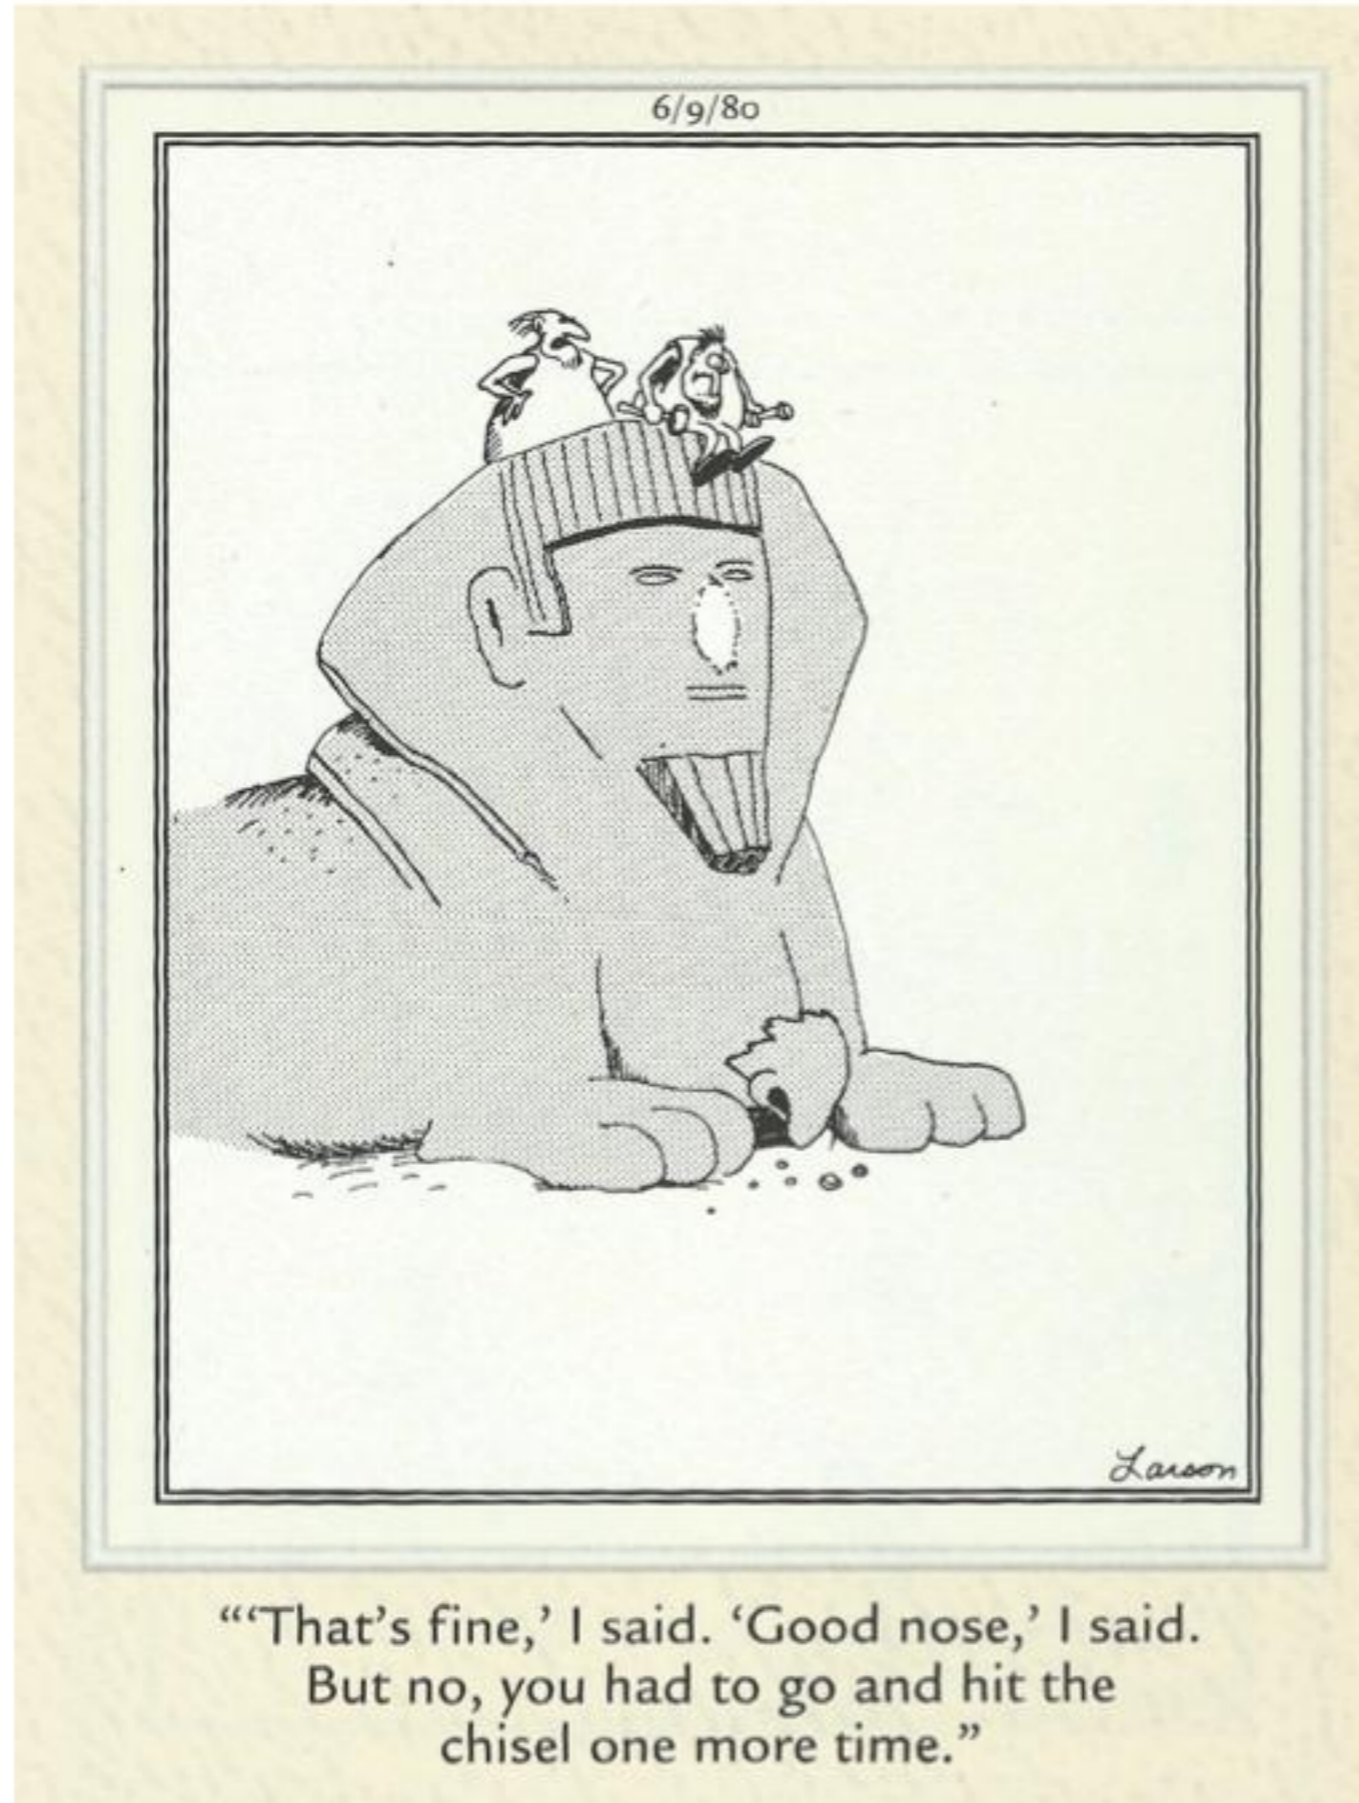

Pirate school

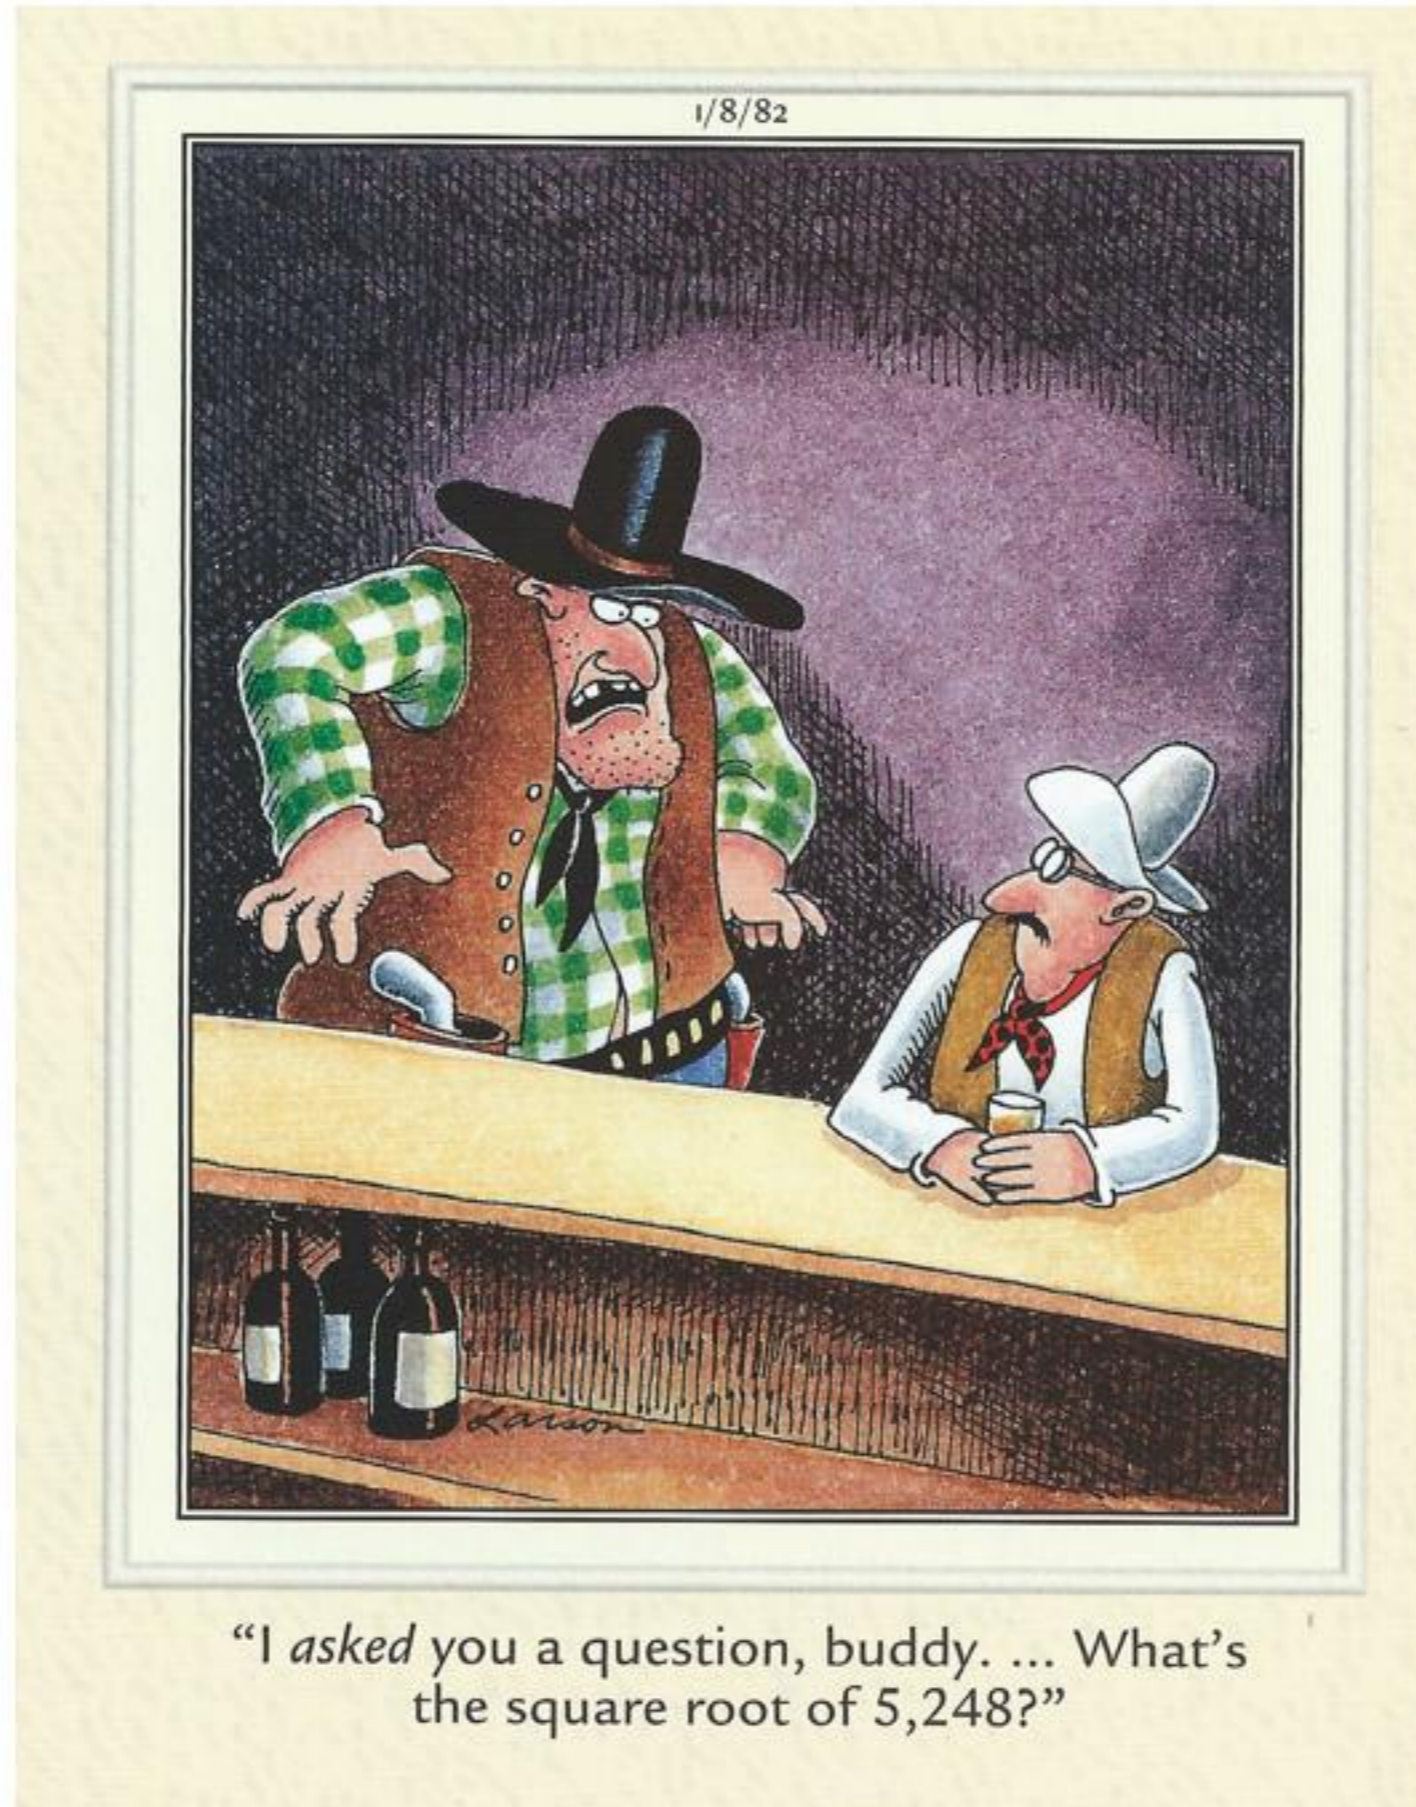

Rock Shop 101

“That’s fine,’ I said. ‘Good nose,’ I said.
But no, you had to go and hit the
chisel one more time.”

31

"I asked you a question, buddy. ... What's the square root of 5,248?"

36

